BOSTON CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885, 1909 and 1924 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority vote of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2, providing for City Council of 9 members, was adopted by a majority of 3,894.

Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirements as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations. (6) Chap. 133, Acts of 1922, changing publication of list of City officials and employees to every second year from 1923. (7) Chap. 479, Acts of 1924, providing for biennial City elections (dating from Nov. 3, 1925); for borough or ward representation in City Council; for a fiscal year dating from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, beginning in 1926, also a municipal year dating from the first Monday in January, to begin in 1926; for election of the five members of School Committee in 1925, the candidates receiving the two largest votes to hold office four years, the other three for two years and at the election in 1927 and thereafter the term for all to be four years.

The only amendment of 1924 subject to a referendum was the alternative of Plan 1 or Plan 2 as to the City Council. At the State election on Nov. 4 Plan 2 was adopted, providing for the election by each ward in 1925 and every second year thereafter of one councillor for 2-year term.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON, 1630.

Effected by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop in the latter part of August, 1630. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

CALLS FOR RENEWAL OF COURAGE ON PART OF CITIZENS IN FACING PROBLEMS.

MAYOR NICHOLS DEVOTES STRENUOUS DAY TO ADDRESSES AND PLAYING HOST TO EVACUATION DAY CELEBRATORS—POINTS TO LESSONS TO BE LEARNED FROM THOSE WHO MADE DAY POSSIBLE.

Boston's memory of the celebration of the sesquicentennial, marking the evacuation of this city by the British on March 17, 1776, will ever cause enthusiasm as long as one of the more than 200,000 citizens who took part either as a spectator or a participant remains alive. The heart of the city will ever thrill as stories of the occasion are related in the future for those who will make coming celebrations of the event historical, and it will be many a year before the brilliance with which the committees in charge did their work has been lost.

Through it all Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, as the chief executive of the city, played the most prominent part. After having given his committee carte blanche in the management of arrangements and the expenditure of the funds appropriated for the occasion, he featured every portion of the program with his presence and addresses in which he congratulated the citizens of Boston for their work in making the occasion a success, congratulated the committees that had the celebration in charge and welcomed the distinguished guests to the city as well as provided for their entertainment. For the city he proved a most gracious host.

For the Mayor, it was a most strenuous day, beginning with the annual breakfast at the Municipal Building, South Boston, then moving to the flag-raising exercises on Dorchester Heights, then to the parade, and the banquet of the Charitable Irish Society where he presented the society with a stand of colors, including the city flag and the United States flag, and concluding with the monster patriotic meeting at Mechanics Building. In between these meetings were other lesser occasions during the day when Mayor Nichols was called upon to be present and to make brief addresses.

At each of the events in which he, as the chief executive of the city, played the important part, the Mayor, after bearing the greetings of the citizens generally to those of South Boston and welcoming the guests, touched upon the events that make the day historic, and drew from them for the citizens of today the lesson of courage and independence of spirit that make for the success of a city like Boston.

At the breakfast, after calling attention to the fact that his ancestors were of Gaelic blood, he concluded with:

"We have a common purpose, whether we be of one race or another, and that is to serve our country well, to right the wrongs that beset us, to banish injustice, destroy prejudice and leave the world a little better when we are gone. Our forefathers gave us the truth of equal opportunity for all. We have cherished and nurtured that truth through all the years to this anniversary; through all the vicissitudes of progress to which we have climbed.

"On this occasion it is well that we rededicate ourselves to the task of making America a greater country; to making our city a nobler haven to all the high ideals of citizenship and to make the world know that Dorchester Heights, Bunker Hill and all the other shrines which make our entire city the most hallowed spot in America call to us to stand together, one for all and all for one, while our hearts ever echo the thought, 'God Bless our Native Land.'"

One of the most graceful of the events of the day in which the Mayor played the leading part was the annual dinner of the Irish Charitable Society, at which his Honor presented two silken flags to the organization, one the emblem of the city and the other the Stars and Stripes. In making the presentation he spoke in brief as follows:

"It is a pleasure to be here tonight upon so graceful an occasion and upon so pleasant a mission as to present the flags of the City of Boston and the United States to this famous, ancient and dignified organization, the Charitable Irish Society.

"Yours is an organization with a history that is well worth emulation by any band of citizens, for you have ever stood for those principles that make men and organizations great, the chief of which has been love for your fellow man and the determination to make life as easy and agreeable as possible for those with whom you come into contact.

"I rejoice with you in the achievement of 189 years of such success and fame as has been yours. From your organization have come men and women who have enriched the life of all Boston, from your inception to now. I trust that as the years unfold your fidelity to duty to your fellow citizens, your loyalty to the principles of equality and justice, and your broad human sympathy will grow to the great betterment of not only Boston, but the state and the Republic.

"Boston is rich in patriotism; rich in those historic shrines about which we like to think and among which we like to move, taking new courage each day from the lessons they teach, from the deeds they

EULOGY OF JAMES J. STORROW.

MAYOR NICHOLS ADDRESSES SPECIAL COMMUNICATION TO THE CITY COUNCIL CALLING FOR RESOLUTIONS ATTESTING THE HIGH CHARACTER OF THIS DISTINGUISHED CITIZEN.

Mayor Nichols addressed a special communication to the members of the City Council, in eulogy of the late James J. Storrow, upon the 15th instant.

The communication of the Mayor was as follows:

"The City of Boston has lost a distinguished citizen in the recent death of James J. Storrow.

"From its early beginnings our city has been rich in the character of those who guided its destiny in business and public affairs. The whole world knows the story. Love of country and of city have always characterized the activities of our distinguished leaders. Whatever the crisis, whatever the opportunity, they have always contributed of their mentality and their material resources for the good of our community, the welfare of our commonwealth and the progress of the nation.

"Certainly no man in recent times has earned a better name for devotion to all that is American and all that is Bostonian, than the late Mr. Storrow. Throughout his whole career there was a constant and marked endeavor to make life sweeter for the public, better for its business men, and best for its governmental guidance. No crisis ever presented itself in war or in peace, when Mr. Storrow was not in the front line directing, guiding, urging, supporting our cause, and placing behind every movement the full strength of his brilliant mentality and his business resources. He was a patriot in the best and fullest sense of the term, a citizen who commanded the respect of our entire citizenship.

"It is fitting, therefore, that the city, through its Council and Mayor, should spread on its records a fitting testimonial to his sterling character and his brilliant civic achievements."

BOSTON NOT FACED WITH "FLU" EPIDEMIC.

HEALTH COMMISSIONER SAYS CASES OF INFLUENZA AND PNEUMONIA ARE FAR LESS THAN LAST MARCH.

Contrary to the general public impression that influenza and pneumonia are more prevalent than usual at this period of the year, Dr. George H. Bigelow, State Commissioner of Public Health, announces that there are fewer cases of these diseases than a year ago.

From March 1 to 17 there have been 162 cases of influenza in Massachusetts, and 390 of lobar pneumonia. The March figures for last year, the entire month, were 374 of influenza and 817 of lobar pneumonia, showing that the record for this year is proportionately lower.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

BUILDING DECLARED UNSAFE.

The Building Department, after careful investigation, have declared the Hyde Park Municipal Building unsafe.

Until further notice the use of the gymnasium has been prohibited. Walls in the basement have cracked and spaces in the floors indicate that the building may have settled.

High school girls who use the gymnasium, as well as men and women's classes, together with all social activities that in any way might have a tendency to cause further trouble, have been forbidden.

The building, erected at a cost of nearly $500,000, is little more than four years old. The building is also used by various military organizations and by city officials.

MAYOR NICHOLS SUBMITS BUDGET ESTIMATE FIGURES FOR 1926 TO CITY COUNCIL FOR ACTION.

DOCUMENT SHOWS 3,300 ITEMS CALLING FOR EXPENDITURE OF $43,858,351—FACED WITH SEVERE FINANCIAL PROBLEM FOR THIS FIRST YEAR OF HIS ADMINISTRATION.

Mayor Nichols presented this administration's budget for the current fiscal year, calling for appropriations amounting to $43,858,351.15, to the City Council, upon the 15th instant.

The City Council referred the budget to its Committee on Finance. The Council as a whole will hold three or four sessions a week upon the budget, until all department allowances have been scrutinized. The Council may reduce or eliminate budget items, but cannot increase any item or introduce new items.

Exclusive of the School Department, which has its own budget, this instrument covers all city departments. Its 3,300 major items call for expenditure of a total of $43,858,351, as against the total of the $36,754,681 spent on these city-county establishments in the fiscal year of eleven months which closed December 31, last.

Of this $43,858,351, $41,471,497 must be raised by taxation. The balance of $2,386,853 will be made up by income from departments which are self-supporting by means of fees and other charges, or partially so.

Mayor Nichols' letter accompanying the budget was as follows:

BOSTON, March 15, 1926.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I submit herewith my budget recommendations for the fiscal year 1926 in full segregated form, in substitution for the lump sum recommendations submitted on January 28, 1926.

This year the statutory tax limit for general municipal purposes has been fixed by the Legislature at $14 per $1,000. The amount that can be raised by taxes within this limit is $24,933,236.52, to which should be added the estimated income of $5,900,000, making a total available for general municipal purposes of $30,833,236.52, and I recommend the appropriation of the total amount.

Appropriation has been made in the budget as here submitted for wage increases affecting approximately 3,600 employees and costing approximately $300,000. Approximately two-thirds of this amount has been used to provide a fifty cents per day increase in the wage of the labor group of the city. This increase will establish a $5 per day wage for city laborers.

Under authority of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889, departments may spend, prior to the passage of the budget, "one-third the entire amount appropriated for the department for the previous year." Due to the fact that "previous year" was one of eleven months and also because of the large expenditures occasioned by the severe storms of February, several departments are close to the time when the expenditures permitted by law prior to the adoption of the budget will be exhausted. It is therefore desirable that the budget receive early consideration by your honorable body, and I respectfully recommend its adoption.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

The budget of the City of Boston for 1926 consists of approximately 3,300 items and provides for a total expenditure of $43,858,351.15. Of this amount $41,471,497.43 must be secured by taxation, and the balance of $2,386,853.72 is to be secured from the income of departments which are self-supporting. BOSTON TO HAVE NEW CENTRAL FIRE STATION AT BROADWAY AND WARRENTON STREET.

MAYOR NICHOLS ABANDONS OLD PROPOSED SITE FOR NEW ONE IN INTEREST OF BETTER SERVICE AND A CONSIDERABLE SAVING IN TROUBLE AND MONEY TO CITIZENS.

Mayor Nichols has abandoned the proposal for the construction of a central fire station upon the triangular plot of land at the junction of Tremont street and Shawmut avenue.

The Mayor has determined to build the new central fire station at Broadway and Warrenton street. He was influenced by recommendations of department heads who reported that the subway site was a comparatively poor location for the purpose and that because of engineering difficulties, it would cost about $167,000 more to build there than upon an ordinary ground-level site.

Plans had been drawn and contracts let for the construction of the building on the subway site. Possibility of damages which the city would have to pay for breach of contract did not prevent the new plan, the Mayor explained, because delay already occasioned in the work had put the city in a predicament to escape from which it must sacrifice something whether it decided to use the same site or choose another.

The new site chosen by Mayor Nichols is the property of the Barnard Memorial. It was recommended to him by Acting Fire Commissioner Sullivan and Chairman Kelly of the assessors, who had Joseph D. Dillworth, a real estate expert, make a search of the district for a suitable location. This property not only seemed most suitable to them, but its assessed value of $69,000 brought its probable purchase price nearest the figure of $75,000 which the city was prepared to expend for the subway incline site.

The Barnard Memorial property comprises 8,231 square feet of land with an 84-foot frontage on Broadway and a 52-foot frontage on Warrenton street, assessed at $57,000, and a building assessed at $12,000. This estate is not offered on the market, but the treasurer informed Mr. Dillworth that he thought the time was approaching when the organization would have to move.

His letter to the Council in submission of his proposal is as follows:

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I submit herewith correspondence and reports received from Mr. Thomas F. Sullivan, chairman of the Transit Department, Mr. Edward T. Kelley, chairman of the Assessing Department and Mr. Joseph Dillworth, real estate expert, relative to the location of the new central fire station. Because of the engineering problems which must be met and the special construction features which must be provided if the building is erected on the proposed site at Shawmut avenue and Tremont street, it is the opinion of these gentlemen that a considerable sum could be saved if a building of the same dimensions were erected on an ordinary lot. I have studied these reports and have made a personal inspection of the immediate vicinity in which the station is to be located. As a result of my study and investigation, I feel that the site previously mentioned should be abandoned and a location selected which will give much better service.

Since the original appropriations for this central fire station were specific in the location of the station, it is necessary before the proposed site can be abandoned that the balances remaining under the original appropriations be transferred to a new item, New Central Fire Station. I accordingly submit the attached transfer order and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

BOSTON, February 24, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In response to your request for a report on the proposed Central Fire Station at the junction of Tremont street and Shawmut avenue, I beg to advise that this matter came to this department officially on July 9, 1924, when I wrote the Public Trustees of the Elevated, at the request of Mayor Curley, asking them to release to the city a portion of these premises to permit the erection of a fire station, it being understood that the net cost of the Tremont Street Subway on which they were to pay rental would be reduced $75,000.

On August 1, 1924, the trustees voted to release, subject to certain conditions. Previous to this the Transit Department held several conferences with Mr. James T. Ball, architect and engineer of the Fire Department, and it was suggested that if a building were to be erected on that location the better method would be to have the Transit Department design and construct the foundation with its own forces, or else prepare the necessary specifications and advertise a contract for the foundation work in view of the peculiar construction work necessary on account of the regular operation of street cars. This suggestion appeared to be acceptable to the Fire Department.

On March 20, 1925, Mr. L. J. St. Amand was appointed architect, and he agreed to consult with our engineers in the preparation of his plans. He not only did not keep this agreement but never conferred with the department at all until August 7, 1925, when he submitted certain incomplete plans, two weeks after bids had been publicly opened for the completion of the station. There was a constant revision of these plans until September 30, when the Building Department granted the necessary permit.

On July 18, in response to public advertisement the following bids were received:

Aleo Contracting Company, $345,000; McDonald & Imhoff, $365,000; Joseph Rugo, $428,000; John Bowen Company, $471,000.

At this time there was only $210,000 appropriated for the building, therefore it was necessary to ask for an additional appropriation, and on September 10 an additional appropriation of $175,000 was voted, making a total of $385,000 for the building, less the site. I understand that there has been expended for this sum approximately $15,000, leaving a balance of $370,000.

This leaves only $26,000 above the contract price and the contractor's bid did not contemplate a very appreciable amount of foundation work, and the erection of a particularly heavy girder which will greatly exceed this amount, therefore a further appropriation will be required of at least $50,000 if the structure is to be erected on this location.

On the question of site it has seemed to me from the first that this was a poor location. Because of the necessity of keeping open the subway portal underneath, the first floor is to be built at a grade which requires a steep ramp into Tremont street. If the apparatus is required to go Tremont street or Shawmut avenue westerly it means an appreciable run before they can make the turn. If the subway is to be extended in the near future by depressing the portal below Broadway, as undoubtedly will be done, this building will present a most unsightly appearance from the rear. Because of the special construction necessary to construct the foundations the entire cost of the structure is much more excessive than a building of the same dimensions constructed on the ordinary site.

I am strongly in favor of abandoning this site and selecting a location in the immediate vicinity of this section which will give much better service.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT, March 3, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with your verbal instructions of last Wednesday, we asked Mr. Joseph D. Dillworth to make a study of the territory bounded by Harrison avenue, Broadway, Stuart and Kneeland streets, with a view to securing a suitable site for a central fire station, and his report is submitted herewith giving the approximate cost of five locations.

With the exception of the one we will specifically mention hereafter, the cost would appreciably exceed the cost of the original site, namely $75,000. We have, however, disregarded the question of site cost if it were possible to secure a location which would meet present and future demands for fire station purposes.

After carefully considering several locations we agree that the best location for this station would be on the lot now owned by the Barnard Memorial, fronting on Broadway, between Shawmut avenue and Washington street and running through to Warrenton street, and containing approximately 8,231 square feet, with a frontage of 85 feet and a depth of 115 feet. This lot is substantially rectangular in shape, consequently will give ample opportunity for four pieces of apparatus to leave the house simultaneously, whereas the subway site provided for only two pieces of apparatus to leave at one time. The entrance is on Broadway, a sixty-foot street, which is ample for any piece of apparatus to turn. Although there is a slight difference in the grade between Warrenton street and Broadway, it is possible to arrange for apparatus to enter from the rear. The shape of the lot and the soil conditions on which the Barnard Memorial Building now rests make it possible to give substantially the same area of a building at a greatly reduced cost over the subway site.

We understand from Mr. Dillworth that we can procure this site for approximately the same price as that appropriated for the original site, namely $75,000.

The original building occupied 6,555 square feet and the building on the site which we now recommend would cover approximately 6,322 square feet, or substantially the same area. The building proposed for the subway site contained approximately 420,000 cubic feet which, at the contract price of $345,000, figures about 81 cents per cubic foot. The building proposed on the Barnard Memorial site would contain approximately 380,000 cubic feet, and our estimate of the cost is about 60 cents, or $228,000. This would mean a saving on the Barnard Memorial property of at least $117,000, but it must be remembered that the contract price on the subway property of $345,000 does not include certain foundations and changes which would be absolutely necessary if this building were constructed, and at the lowest figure this should be not less than $50,000 more, or a saving of $167,000.

We feel that this is a conservative estimate of the difference in cost between the two sites, and recommend that the old site be abandoned and the necessary arrangements made at once to procure the Barnard Memorial site.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Acting Fire Commissioner.

EDWARD T. KELLEY,
Chairman, Board of Assessors.

COL. THOMAS F. SULLIVAN, Fire Commissioner.

DEAR SIR,—At the request of Mayor Nichols, I have made a study of the territory bounded by Harrison avenue, Broadway, Stuart and Kneeland streets for the purpose of selecting a suitable site for an Engine House, containing about eight thousand (8,000 sq. ft.) square feet of land, and I submit the following areas for your consideration.

No. 1.—The estate known as the Barnard Memorial on Broadway and Warrenton street, containing eight thousand, two hundred and thirty-one (8,231 sq. ft.) square feet of land with a frontage of eighty-four and sixty-six one hundredths (84.66 ft.) feet on Broadway and fifty-two and twelve one hundredths (52.12 ft.) feet on Warrenton street.

This estate is not offered on the market but the treasurer said he thought the time was approaching when they would have to move and he would submit an offer to the trustees.

Assessed.—Total, $69,000. 8,231 square feet of land, $57,000. Building, $12,000.

No. 2.—105-115 Broadway, 3 and 5 Fayette street, 1 Melrose street, 7 Fayette street, 9 Fayette street, containing eight thousand three hundred and ninety-seven (8,397 sq. ft.) square feet of land with a frontage of about ninety (90 ft.) feet on each street.

This site is owned by four separate owners and would probably cost about one hundred and twenty-five thousand (125,000) dollars. It is well located on Broadway near Tremont street.

Assessed.—Total, $75,000. 8,397 square feet of land, $53,200. Building, $22,700.

No. 3.—68-76 Warrenton street and 92 Carver street, containing nine thousand, two hundred and seventy-nine (9,279 sq. ft.) square feet of land, the present Y. W. C. A. This property is for sale and can be bought, I believe, for somewhere between one hundred and twenty-five thousand (125,000) dollars and one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) dollars.

Assessed.—Total, $99,300. 9,279 square feet of land, $46,400. Building, $43,900.

No. 4.—159-161 Arlington street and Cortes street, containing eight thousand, one hundred and thirty-three (8,133 sq. ft.) square feet of land. This site could probably be purchased for about eighty thousand (80,000) dollars.

Assessed.—Total, $51,400. 8,135 square feet of land, $28,900. Building, $22,500.

No. 5.—78-82 Harrison avenue, 17-23 Tyler street, containing nine thousand four hundred and eighty-three (9,483 sq. ft.) square feet of land. This property would probably cost one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) dollars.

Assessed.—Total, $96,700. 9,483 square feet of land, $73,900. Building, $21,000.

SOME RECENT SALES IN THE VICINITY.

	Square Feet.	Assessed.	Sold For.	Per Foot.
130-132 Arlington street.....	10,375	$97,000	$130,000	$13 00
27-33 Common street.....	5,691	40,400	61,000	11 00
58-60 Warrenton street, corner Warrenton place.....	2,115	33,500	50,400	27 00
105-115 Broadway, 3-5 Fayette street.....	5,157	52,900	75,000	15 00
124-132 Broadway.....	2,550	50,000	73,000	28 00
Greek Church, Winchester street.....	3,604	32,000	38,000	11 00

Taking into consideration the location and the costs of these different sites, I am of the opinion that the best site for the purpose is the Barnard Memorial as it is on Broadway, a thoroughfare sixty-five (65 ft.) feet wide and lies between the main arteries, Tremont and Washington streets. I think it will cost less per square foot.

Yours very truly,

JOSEPH D. DILLWORTH.

POINTS OUT HIGH QUALITIES OF AMERICANISM THAT MOTIVATE COUNTRY TODAY.

DEAN ROSCOE POUND, OF HARVARD LAW SCHOOL, DELIVERS NOTABLE ADDRESS AT MECHANICS BUILDING CELEBRATION OF EVACUATION DAY—COLONEL ROOSEVELT ALSO DELIVERS ADDRESS.

Dean Roscoe Pound, of the Harvard Law School and Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., were the principal speakers at the monster celebration of Evacuation Day held by the city in Mechanics Building in commemoration of the 150th Anniversary of the quitting of Boston by the British. The high average intelligence of American citizenship as the need of the hour was stressed by both speakers.

Dean Pound began by analyzing the traits of character which have come to be considered essentially American. "The common elements," he said "are independence—perhaps over-independence—versatility and inventive resource, restlessness and proneness to be on the move, carelessness of the natural resources that lie about him in profusion, impatience of forms and ceremonies, inclination to short cuts and restiveness under rules, disregard of the amenities, with a free and easy attitude in social relations, and above all, love of politics and a genius for political organizations."

After giving explicit examples and instances of all these characteristics, he continued:

"After 150 years we may see the characteristic qualities of the American still in full vigor. But just as, after a century and a half of colonial existence, the events of a political revolution required application of American inventiveness and versatility and organizing genius to the problems of setting up a new nation, so, after another century and a half, a mechanical and economic change—no less far reaching than a political revolution—are calling on us to apply those qualities to the problems of a new society.

"Just as the colonist of 1776 had to adjust himself to the politically independent America, with new responsibilities and new opportunities, so the American of today must adjust himself to the urban, industrial, mechanically served society which, as shown by the last census, has replaced the pioneer, rural, agricultural America of the past. He must adjust his independence to the interdependence through division of labor which is the condition of our economic structure today. He must adapt his versatility to the exigencies of specialization, mass production, and organized distribution. He must curb his inventive powers until a more scientific basis has been acquired for employing them upon the complex political questions of a less simple era.

"He must put a check upon restlessness now that there are no more great areas to settle, appropriate to agriculture, and lay out into new commonwealths. He must learn to eliminate waste where for generations he has been careless of the bounty of nature. He must learn to appreciate the place and the advantage of a certain amount of form and ceremony and of the amenities in the crowded world of the modern city. He must turn his genius for organization and his bent for politics to new uses in a society in which participation in politics has ceased to be a recreation and has become a duty.

"Above all, however, the American genius for politics is ill adapted to the industrial and mechanical society of the large city. It is merely that pioneer political institutions work badly in large municipalities. The American seems a very different citizen in the metropolis from what he was in the wilderness and in the farming community which he reared in the wilderness. American institutions presuppose a body of citizens full of zeal for public affairs. They presuppose a body of citizens well acquainted with public men and able to choose among them with discrimination. Thus they presuppose a definite and active public opinion as the chief guarantee of their proper operation. But they presuppose also a leisure for the consideration of public affairs and a motive for taking part in them which existed only in the agricultural society, where the farmer or planter found his recreation in politics and his theater in the courthouse.

"The growth of cities and the division of labor, whereby one can no longer get his political ideas by discussion with his neighbors at the country store or country postoffice, and the modern inventions that put a motor car in every barn and a garage appurtenant to every apartment and a movie theater around the corner from each door—such things have affected the whole foundation of the characteristic American interest in politics. As things are today, the city dweller who devotes himself to politics in the thoroughgoing fashion of the old-time American is apt to be a caterpillar rather than a pillar of the Commonwealth."

Colonel Roosevelt said:

"An observance like this is worth nothing if it is not properly observed in the proper frame of mind. At this time, there is a general tendency to sap the importance of our citizens. It is brought about in such a fashion that it is difficult to make the people see what is going on. One of the ways it is being done is by undue centralization of the powers of government.

"There is a tendency for the powers to be taken from the town, city, village or county, and vested in the state. This is bad. But what is worse is the tendency to take powers away from the states and vest them in the federal government. That is worse because it takes the power further away from the individual.

"Much of this is done in the name of efficiency and economy. I greatly doubt whether these ends are really served thereby, but even granting that to a certain extent, the loss to the nation through the improper centralization is very great. By such improper centralization you take from the shoulders of the man in the community the responsibility for governing himself.

"It is axiomatic that men and women are mainly developed through having responsibility put on them, not by having it taken away.

"The theory of our government, the theory of the New England town meeting, was to make all the people responsible elements in the government. If we believe in the ideals represented by the men who fought for Evacuation Day, we must fight to retain the importance of the individual American.

"At this time not only is the governmental importance of the citizenry threatened, but in addition, certain of what I consider to be personal duties are being improperly taken from them, and assigned to the state. There is a great trend in modern time to legislate on matters that I do not believe are properly the subject of legislation. There are many evils and abuses in America.

"Many good people, seeing improper conduct of various kinds and desiring to change them, rush to the Legislature and get a law passed thereon. Nine times out of ten this is the wrong procedure. You are putting the ankle supports on for good. You cannot secure morality by legislation—you must do so by education. Education is an infinitely slower process, but an infinitely sounder and more lasting one.

"Undue paternalism is bad. If the mania for legislation on all subjects continues unchecked, we will make of ourselves mere automatons who depend on the state for everything, and on whom we cannot depend. We will destroy the individualism which brought about the Revolution, and which brought it to a successful conclusion.

"Our aim in legislation should be to foster and protect the individual American so that he has every opportunity to develop himself to the highest point consistent with justice to his fellow-citizens. If we believe in the ideals of the Revolution, we must fight to maintain the social duties and privileges of the individual American."

Next, deprecating distinctions which have grown up between American and American, Colonel Roosevelt said no Protestant should vote for a Protestant for that reason, and that no Catholic nor Jew should do so. The whole test should be, he said, fitness for office.

He denounced organizations which tend to build up such distinctions between classes and creeds. He then said he would "bell the cat." "The Ku Klux Klan," he said, "is one such organization. People who will foster such ends are unworthy to join in a celebration such as we have today."

Going back to his former subject the colonel said: "When a legislator votes for constitutional or conscientious reasons against a measure such as—well, let us call it a social welfare measure—he is in a pretty rough position with the folks back home. People will get up and say he doesn't believe in virtue. That attitude is all wrong. His attitude is praiseworthy, if he voted honestly and with intent to develop the citizen by putting responsibility on his own shoulders, not on the State."

Other speakers were Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols of Boston, Lieut. Gov. Frank G. Allen, Pres. Wellington Wells of the State Senate and Henry J. Ryan, better known as "Sailor Ryan."

NOTABLE EXHIBIT OF EVACUATION DAY SOUVENIRS ON DISPLAY AT PUBLIC LIBRARY.

WASHINGTON GOLD MEDAL AND OTHER HISTORIC TRINKETS AND MEMENTOS PLACED ON VIEW FOR BENEFIT OF CITIZENS OF BOSTON DURING CELEBRATION.

A most notable exhibition of historic souvenirs in commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the Evacuation of Boston by the British forces was held in the exhibition room of the Boston Public Library during the week.

The George Washington medal, struck in honor of the military achievement of the Commander-in-Chief, was the most valuable item in the cases. The medal was designed in Paris by Pierre Duvivier. On its obverse appears the bust of Washington in profile, while the reverse shows the general with four aids, all mounted and viewing from Dorchester Heights the town of Boston and the retreating British vessels. In the foreground are two cannons, and between the figures and the harbor is a fortified part of the Heights with troops deploying on the level below.

This medal was the only gold medal given by Congress to General Washington. It came into the possession of the Boston Public Library in 1876 (the year of the one hundredth anniversary celebration), having been purchased of the Washington family by the subscription of fifty Boston citizens.

The library also possesses the die-proofs of the medal, purchased from the Dupre estate in 1888. It is slightly different from the gold medal.

Most of the relics displayed bear directly on the Evacuation itself or describe the conditions in the town and the preparations of the British and Continental armies.

Earl Percy's letter, written on January 7, predicts "a very active and decisive campaign" for next spring. He hopes that "the Rebels will be glad to sue for Mercy." In singular contrast to these high expectations stands his characterization of the situation at the British headquarters. "Brig-Gen. Grant directs our Commander in Chief & all his operations." He writes, "Mr. Howe is I believe the only Man in his Army who does not perceive it. I know the Brig. well, & am certain that his abilities are not equal to what he has undertaken. I wish from my Soul that we may not feel the Consequences."

The Percy letters, relating to America at the outbreak of the Revolution, and especially to affairs in and about Boston at that time, are among the most valuable manuscripts of the library.

The Orderly Book of Capt. Stephen Badlam contains entries of every day preceding and following the evacuation, excepting March 17 itself. They were busy on that day. Was it that, because of the marching, the captain did not have time for writing? He notes on March 13: "As the Ministerial Troops in Boston both from Information and Appearance are preparing to Evacuate that town the General expressly Orders that neither Officer or Soldier presume to Go in Boston without Leave from the General in Chief at Cambridge or the Commanding General at Roxbury as the Enemy with a Malicious Assiduity have spread their Infection of the Smallpox through all parts of the town. Nothing but the utmost Caution on our part can prevent that fatal Disease from spreading through the army and Country to the Infinite Detriment of both."

For March 16 is the following entry: "As the Weather is so bad and the Road so Mirey the Regiments and Companies of Artillery order'd to march this morning are to halt till tomorrow morning."

John Lowell's letter to John Hancock was written on the day of the Evacuation. It is dated from Watertown. "I have the pleasure to inform you," Mr. Lowell begins, "that this day the Troops left Boston—we had the News here just as we rose from Dinner. I immediately set off with Mr. Gill & Mr. Freeman to go into Boston if we could obtain a pass. Mr. Gill obtained a pass from the General & we went in. I found the Town in a much better situation than I expected tho I had not time to go over the Town being obliged to come out with ye same pass before dark. Am informed they carried of almost all the English Goods that was in Town and a great deal of ye best Furniture. I Congratulate you on your Mansion House & all that I left in it remains safe which I believe is what you did not Expect to hear."

A letter of Edmund Quincy (father-in-law of John Hancock) to his daughter Dorothy, written on March 26, consists of nearly two thousand words. It touches on a number of subjects, and tells among others of the looting of the houses not only by the military, but by the Tories.

"The preservation of Boston so far as it is preserved," Mr. Quincy writes, "is a Signal favor of Heaven, tho, many are egregious Sufferers, your Bro. H. & his son Stedman in particular—in whose Dwellings were left Officers, men of Singular honor! By the same Rank of Miscreants, have many had their houses ransacked. The Tories they say, have been equally plunderers with ye Military. Many of them had lived so long in the Fortress upon ye Kings bounty & otherwise, that they grew much in want of Supplies for their Exiled State, that 'twas no Great wonder that men of their wild principles should embrace the most dirty method, of Filling their pockets: Poor deluded Creatures was a Term you heard often from ye mouth of some of ye First Rate; It is very possible that when they were precipitately flying from ye besieged Town, they had not relinquished the Term but were obliged to apply it to different Subjects—and indeed it might be very justly so applied."

At another passage Mr. Quincy expresses his hope that "the Evacuation of Boston will be a prelude to ye Expected Frustration of the whole British System of Subjugation."

There are other letters in the case, by Isaac Cazneau, a business agent of Hancock, by Rev. Andrew Eliot to Daniel Parker, etc.

The original accounts of the losses and damages in Boston and Roxbury are historical documents of high value. The damages amounted in Boston to 17,619 pounds and in Roxbury (which was under fire) to 24,412 pounds. The account enumerates the names of the sufferers, and of the public buildings destroyed or otherwise damaged; the expense of repairing dwelling houses; value of household furniture destroyed, damaged or carried away by the officers or others; value of the merchandise and other effects taken from the inhabitants, and so forth, all items accurately attested. It seems that Mr. Lowell was hasty in his assuring Hancock that his mansion was left and remained safe. For, dated February 26, 1877, we find an estimate of the damage done to Hancock's property during 1775-76, running to 4737 pounds.

The Boston Gazette was not slow in reporting the event, though the display of the news cannot be called by any means sensational. Headlines, running across the page were unknown in those days; the news of the evacuation is pressed in between two local items.

"The common topic of conversation since last Friady night," the paper writes, "has been the evacuation of Boston by King George's plundering, murdering army, under General Howe." After describing the happenings of the preceding days the paper continues: "On Friday it was reported they were plundering the town, ransacking and destroying everything they could not carry away. And yesterday morning this last account was verified by the speedy and precipitate retreat of the whole of the ministerial butchering, murdering and plundering Banditti of Lord North's mercenaries—When the Town of Boston was enter'd by the victorious Troops of the Thirteen United Colonies of North America commanded by that truly magnanimous General Washington, without any accident happening."

The Pennsylvania Gazette published in its issue for March among its news from New England a letter of Washington addressed to General Sterling, and written on March 19 at Cambridge.

"I have the pleasure to inform you," the Commander-in-Chief wrote, "that in the morning of the 17th inst. General Howe, with his army, abandoned the town of Boston without destroying it, an event of much importance, which must be heard with great satisfaction; and that we are now in full possession. Their embarkation and retreat were hurried and precipitate, and they have left behind them stores, of one thing and another, to a considerable amount; among which are several pieces of heavy cannon, and one of two mortars which are spiked. The town is in a much better situation, and less injured than I expected from the reports I have received; though to be sure, it is much damaged, and many houses despoiled of their valuable furniture."

There is a large map on exhibition, made by the Chevalier de Beaurain, "geographe de sa Majeste," in 1776, in Paris. "Carte du Port et Havre de Boston" is its title, and shows the whole environment of the town with excellent precision.

Several other manuscripts—letters, bills, orderly books—were shown.

mark, and from the meaning they bring to us out of the past. Boston will always be great as long as her citizens cherish the ideals upon which the country was founded and for which our ancestors fought and died; Boston will always be great as long as organizations such as yours remain to carry forward the work the founders of this Republic originated; Boston will always remain great as long as you and I can feel the thrill of pride and patriotism over the achievements of our common country and as long as we live under that great common flag, 'Old Glory.'

"It is with pleasure that I come to you tonight to present these banners, emblematic of what our city and our nation stand for—love of humanity, justice, truth and right. May they be preserved ever and treasured as long as patriotism has a charm and humanity has a dream."

At Mechanics Building he spoke briefly of the demands of the day upon his vitality, the honor he took from the occasion and the good fortune that was his to be Mayor of Boston upon such an occasion. He concluded by pointing to the lesson to be learned from those who made the day possible, the lesson of courage and co-operation on the part of the citizens to meet the problems that confront them and for their solution. In concluding he said in substance:

"Those men who stood behind the redoubts on Dorchester Heights, after having built them, have given us an heritage, the luster of which will never be dimmed. They have handed down to each succeeding generation of Americans the courage to undertake and the will to put through any work of righteousness conscience and God may order.

"They have handed down to us traditions of patriotism; traditions of loyalty, and traditions of devotion that burn in the heart like a divine flame. They have bequeathed to us the duty of seeing that America never lags when the call of duty comes."

At the Hotel Lenox, where the banquet of the committee was held, he again spoke briefly, saying:

"Those sturdy pioneers and pilgrims of Colonial times left us two most precious heritages—the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of these United States. The first is the star set in the firmament of existence which will ever lead us on to greater progress and achievement. The second is that bulwark of liberty that entitles us to immortality among nations.

"Tonight we need to rededicate ourselves to the duty of carrying on where those who have passed on left off. We need to take courage for the solution of our problems from the examples of courage left us by those who solved the problems that confronted the citizens of Boston in the days of 1776.

"We have need to gird ourselves about with courage to fight successfully against invasions that threaten on every hand the safety of our institutions. We have need to revivify that public spirit and that deep love for Boston that will enable us to see clearly what is best and to dare to do that best, not only for present good but for the future and for those who shall come after us."

NEW CONTRACT SIGNED.

A new contract has been signed by the George R. White Fund trustees and George E. Phelan, manager of the properties.

The contract embodies the time element of the original contract and the salary element of the second contract—that is to say, Mr. Phelan will continue under this contract until September, 1927, at a salary of $20,000 a year.

The White will makes no provision for appointment of a manager of the properties, but the trustees believe the provisions of the bequest are drawn in a way that empowers them to employ such an agent for themselves as the manager.

In connection with the foregoing, Mr. Sullivan made the following statement:

What we need today is a patriotic renaissance, particularly in view of the treasonous triumvirate—the position taken by hireling historians, pacifists and internationalists. There can be no more fitting place in which to start this renaissance than the public schools. In reviewing the history of the Evacuation of Boston by the British which was prophetic of ultimate Colonial success, the school children will receive an invaluable inspiration in patriotism. Therefore, I heartily second the motion of Mr. O'Hare that the day be fittingly observed in the schools in order to impress upon the school children its historical significance.

The Board adjourned.

NEW CENTRAL FIRE STATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 15, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith correspondence and reports received from Mr. Thomas F. Sullivan, chairman of the Transit Department, Mr. Edward T. Kelley, chairman of the Assessing Department and Mr. Joseph Dillworth, real estate expert, relative to the location of the new Central Fire Station. Because of the engineering problems which must be met and the special construction features which must be provided if the building is erected on the proposed site at Shawmut avenue and Tremont street, it is the opinion of these gentlemen that a considerable sum could be saved if a building of the same dimensions were erected on an ordinary lot. I have studied these reports and have made a personal inspection of the immediate vicinity in which the station is to be located. As a result of my study and investigation, I feel that the site previously mentioned should be abandoned and a location selected which will give much better service.

Since the original appropriations for this central fire station were specific in the location of the station, it is necessary before the proposed site can be abandoned that the balances remaining under the original appropriations be transferred to a new item,—New Central Fire Station. I accordingly submit the attached transfer order and respectfully recommend its adoption by your honorable body.

Respectfully yours,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Transit Department, February 24, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In response to your request for a report on the proposed Central Fire Station at the junction of Tremont street and Shawmut avenue, I beg to advise that this matter came to this department officially on July 9, 1924, when I wrote the Public Trustees of the Elevated, at the request of Mayor Curley, asking them to release to the city a portion of these premises to permit the erection of a fire station, it being understood that the net cost of the Tremont Street Subway on which they were to pay rental would be reduced $75,000.

On August 1, 1924, the trustees voted to release, subject to certain conditions. Previous to this the Transit Department held several conferences with Mr. James T. Ball, architect and engineer of the Fire Department, and it was suggested that if a building were to be erected on that location the better method would be to have the Transit Department design and construct the foundation with its own forces, or else prepare the necessary specifications and advertise a contract for the foundation work in view of the peculiar construction work necessary on account of the regular operation of street cars. This suggestion appeared to be acceptable to the Fire Department.

On March 20, 1925, Mr. L. J. St. Amand was appointed architect, and he agreed to consult with our engineers in the preparation of his plans. He not only did not keep this agreement, but never conferred with the department at all until August 7, 1925, when he submitted certain incomplete plans, two weeks after bids had been publicly opened for the completion of the station. There was a constant revision of these plans until September 30, when the Building Department granted the necessary permit.

On July 18, in response to public advertisement the following bids were received:

Alco Contracting Company, $345,000; McDonald & Imhoff, $365,000; Joseph Rugo, $428,000; John Bowen Company, $471,000.

At this time there was only $210,000 appropriated for the building, therefore it was necessary to ask for an additional appropriation, and on September 10 an additional appropriation of $175,000 was voted, making a total of $385,000 for the building, less the site. I understand that there has been expended from this sum approximately $15,000, leaving a balance of $370,000.

This leaves only $26,000 above the contract price and the contractor's bid did not contemplate a very appreciable amount of foundation work, and the erection of a particularly heavy girder which will greatly exceed this amount, therefore a further appropriation will be required of at least $50,000 if the structure is to be erected on this location.

On the question of site it has seemed to me from the first that this was a poor location. Because of the necessity of keeping open the subway portal underneath, the first floor is to be built at a grade which requires a steep ramp into Tremont street. If the apparatus is required to go Tremont street or Shawmut avenue westerly it means an appreciable run before they can make the turn. If the subway is to be extended in the near future by depressing the portal below Broadway, as undoubtedly will be done, this building will present a most unsightly appearance from the rear. Because of the special construction necessary to construct the foundations the entire cost of the structure is much more excessive than a building of the same dimensions constructed on the ordinary site.

I am strongly in favor of abandoning this site and selecting a location in the immediate vicinity of this section which will give much better service.

Yours respectfully,
T. F. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

City of Boston,
Transit Department, March 3, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In accordance with your verbal instructions of last Wednesday we asked Mr.

Joseph D. Dillworth to make a study of the territory bounded by Harrison avenue, Broadway, Stuart and Kneeland streets, with a view to securing a suitable site for a central fire station, and his report is submitted herewith giving the approximate cost of five locations.

With the exception of the one we will specifically mention hereafter, the cost would appreciably exceed the cost of the original site, namely $75,000. We have, however, disregarded the question of site cost if it were possible to secure a location which would meet present and future demands for fire station purposes.

After carefully considering several locations we agree that the best location for this station would be on the lot now owned by the Barnard Memorial, fronting on Broadway, between Shawmut avenue and Washington street and running through to Warrenton street, and containing approximately 8,231 square feet, with a frontage of 85 feet and a depth of 115 feet. This lot is substantially rectangular in shape, consequently will give ample opportunity for four pieces of apparatus to leave the house simultaneously, whereas the subway site provided for only two pieces of apparatus to leave at one time. The entrance is on Broadway, a sixty-foot street, which is ample for any piece of apparatus to turn. Although there is a slight difference in the grade between Warrenton street and Broadway it is possible to arrange for apparatus to enter from the rear. The shape of the lot and the soil conditions on which the Barnard Memorial building now rests make it possible to give substantially the same area of a building at a greatly reduced cost over the subway site.

We understand from Mr. Dillworth that we can procure this site for approximately the same price as that appropriated for the original site, namely $75,000.

The original building occupied 6,555 square feet and the building on the site which we now recommend would cover approximately 6,322 square feet, or substantially the same area. The building proposed for the subway site contained approximately 420,000 cubic feet which at the contract price of $345,000, figures about 81 cents per cubic foot. The building proposed on the Barnard Memorial site would contain approximately 380,000 cubic feet, and our estimate of the cost is about 60 cents, or $228,000. This would mean a saving on the Barnard Memorial property of a least $117,000, but it must be remembered that the contract price on the subway property of $345,000 does not include certain foundations and changes which would be absolutely necessary if this building were constructed, and at the lowest figure this should be not less than $50,000 more, or a saving of $167,000.

We feel that this is a conservative estimate of the difference in cost between the two sites, and recommend that the old site be abandoned and the necessary arrangements made at once to procure the Barnard Memorial site.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Acting Fire Commissioner.

EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman, Board of Assessors.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Fire Station, Shawmut Avenue and Tremont Street, Site, $75,000; Fire Station, Shawmut Avenue and Tremont Street, $196,615.64, to the appropriation for New Central Fire Station, $271,615.64. Referred to the Executive Committee.

DEATH OF JAMES J. STORROW.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 15, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The City of Boston has lost a distinguished citizen in the recent death of James J. Storrow.

From its early beginnings our city has been rich in the character of those who guided its destiny in business and public affairs. The whole world knows the story. Love of country and of city have always characterized the activities of our distinguished leaders. Whatever the crisis, whatever the opportunity, they have always contributed of their mentality and their material resources for the good of our community, the welfare of our commonwealth and the progress of the nation.

Certainly no man in recent times has earned a better name for devotion to all that is American and all that is Bostonian than the late Mr. Storrow. Throughout his whole career there was a constant and marked endeavor to make life sweeter for the public, better for its business men, and best for its governmental guidance. No crisis ever presented itself in war or in peace, when Mr. Storrow was not in the front line directing, guiding, urging, supporting our cause, and placing behind every movement the full strength of his brilliant mentality and his business resources. He was patriotic in the best and fullest sense of the term, a citizen who commanded the respect of our entire citizenship.

It is fitting therefore that the city, through its Council and Mayor, should spread on its records a fitting testimonial to his sterling character and his brilliant civic achievements.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Coun. PARKMAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston has learned with deep sorrow of the death of James Jackson Storrow. He gave unstintingly and without thought of reward of his time, energies, and fortune to the best interests of the city, state and nation, both in public and private capacities. The fruits of his labors on behalf of this city and the results of his benefactions will long remain as a monument to his career and as an example and inspiration to future generations of the citizens of Boston.

The City Council extends to the family of the late James Jackson Storrow the sincere sympathy of the City of Boston.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, recommending that leave be granted, viz.:

St. Alphonsus Association, St. Alphonsus Hall, on March 16 and 19.

Edith M. Conant, Music Box, March 19.

Vivian Woodlock, Strand Ballroom, March 19.

Mabel Lyman, Repertory Hall, March 25.

Reports accepted; licenses granted on usual conditions.

2. Report on message of the Mayor transmitting order for transfer of $271,615.64 from Fire Station, Shawmut avenue and Tremont street site, and from fire station, Shawmut avenue and Tremont street (referred today)—recommending reference to the Committee on Finance.

Report accepted; said order referred to the Committee on Finance.

3. Report on order (referred March 1) that an annuity of $600 be allowed and paid to the widow of Francis H. Campbell, late member of the Fire Department, who died from injuries received in the performance of his duty, said annuity to be continued so long as said widow remains unmarried and be charged to appropriation for Fire Department, pensions and annuities, that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

LOAN FOR POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

Coun. GREEN, for the Committee on Finance, submitted a report on order (referred February 8) for a loan of $80,000 to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings for Police Headquarters, that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; and the question came on giving the order a second reading.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, before that order is put on its final passage I would like to ask one or two questions in regard to it, as it is an important matter. I would like to find out from the committee if they were really satisfied with the neglect to finish the floor in that building, and would also like to ask if the matter of the electrical fixtures was thoroughly gone into, and if they are satisfied with the explanation given?

President KEENE—Will Coun. Green answer Coun. Fitzgerald's question?

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I might say for the committee that we were satisfied and that that is the reason why we reported the order.

The order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 20; nays 0.

FRANKLIN L. HART JITNEY LICENSE.

Coun. WRAGG, for the Special Committee on Jitney Licenses, reported on the petition of Franklin L. Hart (referred March 8) for a license to operate on a Keene, New Hampshire route from Park square, Boston, through Charles street to Cambridge bridge, that the license be granted.

The report was accepted, and the question came on granting the license.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. Chairman, may I ask the chairman of the Jitney License Committee whether the Boston & Maine has had an opportunity to appear before the Jitney License Committee in relation to that matter?

Coun. WRAGG—Mr. President, the Boston & Maine Railroad was heard at a hearing in the committee hearing room three, four or five weeks ago.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I am rather surprised that the Committee on Jitney Licenses should report back here today that this ought to pass in view of the fact that that same petition was here just a short month ago and the Council rejected it. If that is to be the procedure of the Council for the next two years, if they are going to take one position one month and then take the opposite position the other month, on a matter of this kind, we will not know where we are at. I don't know why any councilors who voted against this petition before should change their views in such a short space of time.

Coun. FREELEY—Mr. President, being a member of the Jitney License Committee, I will say that the vote of the committee was not unanimous. I wish to say as a member of the committee that I still feel as I did before, that I am taking the same position as I did when the last vote was had upon Mr. Hart's petition. I am opposed to it, as I was before.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, when this matter came before the City Council the last time I voted in opposition to granting the petition. I propose at this time to change my vote. Before the last roll call on the previous petition, I stated it as my opinion that these jitney licenses should be more under the control of the Public Utilities Commission. I do feel that it is a fact, however, that certain applications for jitney licenses will result in feeding transportation into a part of the City of Boston that needs it, that is not supplied by railroad or street car lines. I think, therefore, that that is a sufficient reason for my changing my vote, on the ground that the jitneys operating from Park square are not in real competition with either the street railways or the steam railroads.

President KEENE—Those in favor of accepting the report of the committee and granting the license will say "aye."

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, before the vote is announced, let me say that personally I would like to have a roll call.

President KEENE—The Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, just a word. I voted in opposition at an earlier meeting, and at that time I asked that the matter be postponed. I wanted to investigate certain statements made by Mr. Hart. I was satisfied at the time that he had made certain statements in the newspapers which I thought reflected upon the Council and upon members of the Jitney Committee. There was a good deal of newspaper criticism, not only about members here but about members of the Legislature. Quite a lot of undue publicity was given, and I asked that action be postponed. The Council at that time did not see fit to postpone action, and therefore I voted against the petition. At this time I will vote in favor of it. I simply make this explanation.

The Council voted to accept the report and grant leave to the petitioner, yeas 15, nays 5.

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Donovan, Englert, Fitzgerald, Gilbody, Green, Guild, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—15.

Nays—Coun. Dowd, Dowling, Freeley, Hefernan, Ward—5.

FOWLS KILLED BY DOGS.

Coun. PARKMAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted a report on the petition of Robert J. Flewelling (referred March 8) for compensation for loss of fowls killed by dogs, recommending the passage of the accompanying order:

Ordered, That the sum of $4.50 be allowed and paid to Robert J. Flewelling in compensation for the loss of fowls killed by dogs, said sum to be paid from the income from dog licenses.

Report accepted; order passed.

FIRE STATION AT ORIENT HEIGHTS.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of $125,000 be and the same hereby is appropriated for fire station at Orient Heights, East Boston, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bond and certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

GLADSTONE STREET LAYING OUT.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Gladstone street, East Boston, from Breed street to Boardman street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW QUARTERS FOR ENGINE 32.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of abandoning the premises now occupied by Engine No. 32 on Bunker Hill street and of providing for the erection of new quarters on Medford street, in the Charlestown district.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. GILBODY, for the Committee on Soldiers Relief, submitted a report recommending the passage of an order for the payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of March, 1926.

Report accepted; order passed.

ROXBURY COURT, PROBATION INVESTIGATION.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. I would like to ask the Committee on County Accounts, through its chairman, what action has been taken on my order relative to investigation of the probation system of the Roxbury Court?

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would state that no action has been taken, but the committee has decided to call the councilor before them and find out if he has substantial reasons for this investigation before we proceed, and that will be done during the coming week. He will have an opportunity to present his facts, and if the facts so warrant we will proceed.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I would like to know if the chairman of the Committee on County Accounts would like to have me call other witnesses who will volunteer to present themselves before that committee, and who will probably have more serious charges. My charges come from the outraged citizenry out there, who seek some redress from this tyrant.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I will state that that will be up to the committee to decide what action they will take in reference to witnesses after they hear from Coun. Ward. There appears to be a movement on foot looking to a general investigation of this entire probation system in Suffolk County, and that matter will probably be taken up at the same time. There are other districts that they say are just as bad. Of course, we have to proceed very slowly and cautiously. I think the councilor had better not bring in witnesses until the committee decide what action they ought to adopt.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I might add that I think the Charlestown Court may need a little investigation. I am in favor of anything that Mr. Ward may wish to do along this line, but I will simply say that there are other districts which may wish to do something of the same sort. I cannot speak for districts outside of Charlestown—such as South Boston, for instance,—but I do think that we need to have the searchlight turned on Charlestown. I will willingly appear before that committee and present my case and charges, if it is an open hearing and all the courts are to be included. I think Coun. Ward might get somewhere if he made this general, not confining it to the Roxbury Court, because I think other sections of Boston need the searchlight turned on, also. I am speaking for Charlestown. I know what is going on over there, and I think I can enlighten the committee.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I don't think I could very well delve into another court, because I would not know the conditions. I do know that there has been wrong committed in the Roxbury Court. I do not like to criticize the court, but am simply referring to the probation system in Roxbury. If our investigation of the probation system, however, leads to an investigation of the courts, then I am in favor of an investigation of the courts.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. RUBY, the Council voted at 4.17 p. m. to take a recess for ten minutes. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber at 4.27 p. m., and were called to order by President KEENE.

ANNUAL BUDGET.

The following was received:

MESSAGE OF THE MAYOR RECOMMENDING APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR, 1926.

Office of the Mayor, March 15, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith my budget recommendations for the fiscal year 1926 in full segregated form, in substitution for the lump sum recommendations submitted on January 28, 1926.

This year the statutory limit for general municipal purposes has been fixed by the Legislature at $14 per $1,000. The amount that can be raised by taxes within this limit is $24,933,236.52, to which should be added the estimated income of $5,900,000, making a total available for general municipal purposes of $30,833,236.52, and I recommend appropriation of the total amount.

Provision has been made in the budget as here submitted for wage increases affecting approximately 3,600 employees and costing approximately $300,000. Approximately two thirds of this amount has been used to provide a fifty cents per day increase in the wage of the labor group of the city. This increase will establish a $5 per day wage for city laborers.

Under authority of chapter 320 of the Acts of 1889, departments may spend, prior to the passage of the budget, "one-third the entire amount appropriated for the department for the previous year." Due to the fact that "The previous year" was one of eleven months, and also because of the large expenditures occasioned by the severe storms of February, several departments are close to the time when the expenditures permitted by law prior to the adoption of the budget will be exhausted. It is therefore desirable that the budget receive early consideration by your honorable body, and I respectfully recommend its adoption.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I move a reconsideration of the action taken on all matters voted on at this meeting, hoping that the same will not prevail.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, in reference to this particular motion, which is made at each meeting, even though from time immemorial it has been the custom to take this action, I personally feel, inasmuch as the rules of the body give to the members a chance to file a motion for reconsideration within twenty-four hours, that this motion should not be put at each meeting. I therefore ask for a roll call on it merely to impress on the minds of the members, including myself, what we are doing. I think every time that we vote to refuse general reconsideration on a motion of this kind we are changing the rules of this body, and if there is to be this continual action I think we should amend the rules.

President KEENE—The question is on the motion to reconsider all action taken at this session of the Council. Those in favor of reconsideration will vote "Yes" and those opposed "No."

The motion to reconsider was refused, yeas 4, nays 14.

Yeas—Coun. Dowd, Englert, Guild, Wilson—4.

Nays—Coun. Bush, Dowling, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Wragg—14.

Adjourned at 4.31 p. m., on motion of Coun. ENGLERT, to meet on Monday, March 22, at 2 p. m.

The order laid over at the meeting of Mar. 1, 1926, amending sections 199, 241 and 246 of the regulations, relative to the seating of pupils, was taken up and passed.

The three orders laid over at the meeting of Mar. 1, 1926, relative to Evacuation Day celebration, were taken up.

On motion of the Superintendent, the following orders were substituted for the first and second orders presented by Mr. O'Hare:

ORDERED, That the sessions of the day schools in South Boston be suspended on Evacuation Day, Wednesday, Mar. 17, 1926, and the Superintendent is hereby requested to instruct principals of schools and districts in South Boston to hold appropriate patriotic exercises during the afternoon of Tuesday, Mar. 16, 1926, in commemoration of Evacuation Day.

ORDERED, That the sessions of day schools other than those in South Boston be suspended on Wednesday, Mar. 17, 1926, at 12 o'clock noon, and that the Superintendent is hereby requested to instruct the principals of these schools and districts to hold appropriate patriotic exercises during the morning session of Wednesday, Mar. 17, 1926, in commemoration of Evacuation Day.

The first and second orders as substituted, and the third order of Mr. O'Hare as originally presented, were taken up and passed.

In this connection, Mr. Sullivan made the following statement:

The public school authorities should be congratulated upon their attitude in providing for the proper observance in the schools of this truly inspiring event. It comes to my attention more and more that there are forces at work in America whose sole purpose is to undermine our very ground and they have found that the most fruitful source of attack is through the public schools. And then we find historians—hiring historians is the proper term—attempting to rewrite our American histories to suit their own purposes. This School Committee has recently authorized and encouraged the participation of schools in the drive to rehabilitate "Old Ironsides," and tell its glorious story to America. I think that this action was particularly fortunate because only recently I find that the public school authorities in the big metropolis of Chicago placed a ban upon the display of the picture "The Spirit of '76," and other historical features in its public schools.

Then the situation in Cleveland where, by a vote of the Committee, military drill is to be banned from the public schools on the ground that military drill tends to instill into the minds of the pupils jingoistic ideas. Nothing further from the truth. In Boston, for a century have had military drill, and the results have been creditable in every way. Mr. Sullivan then called upon the Superintendent to make public statement of the methods of safeguarding our children against the misstatements of historical facts contained in some histories.

Superintendent: In the selection of text books and supplementary material for school use, great care is exercised. The selection of texts in history has been safeguarded. This was shown recently when it became known that several histories denounced as unpatriotic were not in use in the public schools of this city, in consequence of the vigilance of our teachers, who are primarily responsible for the selection of texts.

We are very fortunate in Boston schools in having well trained and competent teachers. Many of them are graduates of our best universities and colleges or of approved normal schools.

These teachers are organized into councils interested in the various subjects taught in the schools.

For the examination of the history texts there are in the high schools councils made up of the various heads of history departments, and similar councils or committees exist in the intermediate and elementary schools.

In all cases, history texts are carefully reviewed to determine their suitability for use in the classroom and also to make sure that the facts related are historically correct. Any book that seems to be in any way unpatriotic is rejected. When the councils complete their review, they make their reports, in the high schools, to the Head Masters Association, and in the intermediate schools to the Intermediate Principals Association. These various associations then review the books submitted to become satisfied as to their suitability. Then the recommendations go to the Board of Superintendents and this Board, in the midst of its multifarious duties, reviews the books recommended for the purpose of approving, rejecting or substituting. When the Board of Superintendents completes its labors, its recommendations go to the Superintendent. The Superintendent is responsible under the law for the recommendation of text books to the School Committee, and he, in making his recommendations, submits in reality the combined judgment of the entire teaching force, the principals of schools, and the Board of Superintendents. This is one of the finest evidences of teacher-participation that I know of.

Finally, the School Committee acts upon the recommendations submitted by the Superintendent. Naturally, the members of the School Committee do not have time or opportunity to examine all of the books submitted for adoption, but they are convinced that the books submitted are suitable, desirable and historically accurate.

Mrs. Barron: I wish to say that I very heartily endorse the action of this Board, which was unanimous, in providing for the proper observance of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Evacuation Day, because the day is dear to the heart of every citizen. Also, because our greatest generals boast of victories which have been won without the sacrifice of life. The significance of the fact that this great military victory was achieved without bloodshed should be emphasized. We do well to see to it that the day is properly observed because of its double significance.

The Board adjourned.
Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than has ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

MAYOR NICHOLS STIRS ENTHUSIASM OF YOUTH OF CITY BY PRIZES AWARDED BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS.

SEASON CONDUCTED ON CITY GYMNASIUM FLOORS UNDER SUPERVISION OF PARK DEPARTMENT PROVE HUGE SUCCESS.

ONE OF CHAMPIONSHIP COMPETING TEAMS PLAYING BASKETBALL IN SEASON SPONSORED BY MAYOR NICHOLS.

Mayor Nichols, who has always been interested in the development of the health and manhood of the youth of the city, has taken a deep interest in the progress of the basketball contests conducted on the gymnasium floors of the city during the past eight weeks under the auspices of the Park Department and the Community Service of Boston, Inc. He, through the Park Department, offered prizes to winners and awarded cups and banners at the end of the season. The games created widespread interest. Thirty-six teams were entered in the contest.

Over a hundred games played on neutral floors under the best possible supervision and control has greatly increased the interest of Boston boys in clean basketball; it has also made them ambitious for more supervision and proper organization of their play.

The burden of accommodating these teams with their 2,500 or more spectators who were present over the seven weeks of play to support their teams was undertaken by the gymnasium attendants who merit great praise for their faithfulness.

The league has been supported by the Rotary Club of Boston which has contributed one half the expense and Community Service of Boston, Inc., which contributed the other half of the expense and undertook the organization of the league, the registration of the players and the details necessary to carry it on. The teams for the most part represented social houses in the city.

The Class A senior division was won by the Polish Y. M. C. of the North End. Class B division championship was won by the Emmanuel Five of Roxbury, Intermediate A by the North End Union Intermediates, Intermediate B by the South End Celtics, Junior A by the Pilgrim Juniors, Junior B by the Norfolk Cubs. The junior class championship was won by the Pilgrim Juniors from the West End.

Community Service, Rotary Club and the Park Commission were represented when the cups and banners were awarded by Deputy Park Commissioner Long, representing Mayor Nichols, at the conclusion of the final games on Saturday, March 20.

MAYOR GUEST OF HOSPITAL SPONSORS.

EXPRESSES DEEP SYMPATHY WITH CIVIC SPIRIT PROMPTING DRIVE AND PREDICTS GREAT GOOD TO COME.

Mayor Nichols was the guest of honor at the dinner of the sponsors of the $1,000,000 campaign fund in behalf of the Beth Israel Hospital at the Elysium Clubhouse, 218 Huntington avenue, upon the evening of the 23d instant. The Mayor was accompanied by Corporation Counsel Deland.

Mayor Nichols congratulated those present on their public spirit and the energy being expended to add to the public welfare the good that will come from the completed hospital. The object of the drive has created a great public interest in the city, he said, and the project will go over the top without a doubt. He said the workers deserve the earnest support of the people and he extended the good will and best wishes of the Boston public.

NEAR EAST RELIEF PROCLAMATION.

MAYOR NICHOLS MAKES APPEAL TO BOSTON CITIZENS IN BEHALF OF SUFFERERS.

Mayor Nichols has issued the following proclamation relative to Near East Relief Day, April 26:

"The President of the United States in a proclamation asking assistance for the people of the Near East, points out the calamitous conditions of the deported population, largely women and children, and calls to the charity of America to give relief.

"An appeal is made to our citizens to select such clothing as they can spare and send it to the nearest police or fire station, which will be used as a depot for the collection and reception of bundles to help this worthy cause."

MAYOR NICHOLS SENDS MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCE TO PRESIDENT COOLIDGE.

Mayor Nichols has sent to President Coolidge the following telegram:

The Mayor and people of the City of Boston extend deep sympathy in your great loss.

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR NICHOLS STARTS MACHINERY FOR CARRYING ON SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM.

AFTER NAMING THIRD COMMISSIONER HE CALLS CONFERENCE AND OUTLINES PLANS FOR SPEEDILY MEETING PROBLEM ADMINISTRATION FACES. WILL SPEND $13,000,000 IN NEXT THREE YEARS.

Mayor Nichols has now completed his plans for undertaking the school program he has outlined for the City of Boston by which, when completed, this city will have the most up-to-date and complete system for housing the school population of any city in the country. It is one of the prides of the Mayor that this shall be accomplished during his administration and with the appointment of Luther C. Greenleaf, architect and president of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, a member of the Schoolhouse Commission he feels that he is now ready for undertaking the work.

Mayor Nichols, upon announcement of the appointment, made public his deep interest in the earliest possible reorganization of the department for the handling of the program of construction now prepared for the year, totaling at least $5,000,000.

Two members of the new Schoolhouse Commission, Francis E. Slattery and Charles P. Norton, who have qualified, were called into conference by the Mayor and plainly told what was expected of them.

Mr. Slattery is a lawyer and Mr. Norton, an architect. There was no real need of adding another architect to the Board, but Mr. Nichols considered Mr. Greenleaf's general qualifications as so superior that he was happy to have his consent to the appointment.

Mr. Greenleaf, who resides at 6 Upland avenue, Dorchester, was in the Legislature in 1909. He was a member of the Zoning Board which helped frame the present law and is now a member of Zoning Adjustment Board. He has built such municipal buildings as City Hall, Revere; Chapman School, East Boston; Fisher Ames School, Quincy, and the Avery Schools, Dedham. He also built the Masonic Temple, Dorchester, and the First National Bank Building, Brighton.

The School Committee's bill giving the city the power to appropriate $13,000,000 for school construction in the next five years, and which authorizes the raising of 50 per cent of the money by loans, is still in the Committee on Municipal Finance. Recent hints have fairly well determined the disinclination of the committee to report the loan feature, which would be a departure from established custom. But the committee may compromise by recommending a loan of at least $1,000,000 for this year, to meet the financial emergency which confronts the city.

The Mayor indicated that there was no time for delay, that the housing situation for pupils in the public schools is pressing and that completion of the eight buildings now in course of construction and early commencement on a new contract signed today is essential.

"I told the commissioners," said the Mayor, "that this administration expected promptness and efficiency. With the appointment of Mr. Greenleaf, if the Civil Service Commission confirms him, there will be two able architects on the Board—Mr. Greenleaf and Mr. Norton—and an experienced attorney, Mr. Slattery."

With money provided in the budget and a fund resulting from last August's agreement, the Mayor indicated that the Schoolhouse Commission would have available for expenditure on new schoolhouse work this year from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000. "That's the largest school building program Boston ever had," he added.

The Mayor said he had hoped to be allowed to issue bonds for a considerable portion of the work to be done as he had outlined in his inaugural. But, he added, the legislative committee on municipal affairs seemed to be averse to such an extended borrowing proposition and he did not think that he could expect to borrow this year, at least unless the situation became unexpectedly urgent. "Even then, I'll have to go very slowly and make any loans as small as possible," he said.

He also, in his conference with the Board of Street Commissioners, told them that he expected early action on the $1,000,000 program for laying out new streets and accepting and improving others long in use in the city, but not formally taken over.

"I did not indicate any particular streets," he said, "but I told them that action is necessary and that there must be the least delay."

MAJOR NICHOLS SENDS REPRESENTATIVE OF CITY TO NATIONAL CITY PLANNING CONFERENCE.

ALL PHASES OF TRAFFIC PROBLEM DISCUSSED—WILL BE REPORTED UPON SO HIS HONOR MAY MAKE SOME SOLUTION FOR BOSTON.

His Honor Mayor Nichols has approved the action of the City Planning Board in designating its secretary, Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy, as its representative at the Eighteenth National Conference on City Planning in Florida.

The eighteenth annual session of the National Conference on City Planning will open next Monday, March 29, at St. Petersburg, Fla. Official representatives from cities in thirty states will discuss problems of vital interest to every American city. John Nolen, the city planner of Cambridge, Mass., president of the conference, will present a paper on "New Communities Planned to Meet New Conditions,"—a subject of interest not only to Florida but to the smaller and newer cities all over the country. Edward M. Bassett, the nationally known authority on zoning, will tell of the laws that are necessary to protect homes, to prevent displaced streets, and to acquire permanent parks and playgrounds. Prof. Ernst Freund, of the University of Chicago, will lead the discussion of this subject.

Harland Bartholomew, city planning engineer of St. Louis, Mo., whose work is known in many cities all over the country, and C. F. Loweth, chief engineer of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, will consider the place of the railroad in the city plan. Col. A. B. Barber, who is the director of Secretary Hoover's Conference on Street and Highway Safety, will tell what city and regional planning can contribute to the solution of the traffic problem. How new subdivisions should be made to fit into the city and regional plan will be presented in a report of the Joint Committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the National Conference on City Planning. "Planning Opportunities and Problems in Periods of Rapid Development" is the subject of Carl C. McClure, president of the Florida State Association of Real Estate Boards, and this will be discussed by G. Gordon Whitnall, the director of the Los Angeles Planning Commission.

Allan D. Albert, nationally known rotarian, and chairman of the Jacksonville, Florida, Plan Commission, will be the speaker at a civic luncheon. He will explain what city planning means to the community. How to put on city planning campaigns will be handled by Carl Hunt, formerly general manager of the Advertising Clubs of America.

A most important feature of the conference will be the round tables on zoning ordinances and their administration, and on the functions of the City Planning Commission.

Speaking of the conference, the President, John Nolen, says: "Florida is the last frontier of the United States, and naturally its development has been accompanied by unusual interest. Settlement of other sections was brought about by great personal sacrifices and often danger, but Florida is being settled under modern methods with almost unlimited resources of capital, experience and business enterprise. In a most striking way, Florida is making cities and the Planning Conference will bring to it the experience of the last ten years in city building."

Thirty states will be represented. Mayors, city engineers, city planners, and members of city planning boards, will discuss questions of vital interest to every city. Although city planning is not new in the United States, official city planning commissions date only from 1909. Then there was one in the whole country; now there are 300.

Zoning, a very essential part of any city plan, was almost unknown until 1916. Now 450 cities are administering zoning ordinances. It is noteworthy that this same period has seen the acuteness of the traffic problem because of the remarkable increase in the volume of automobile traffic. In 1915 there were in the whole country 2,500,000 cars. In 1925 there were 15,500,000 and the annual rate of increase was still growing.

With the growth of cities and the increase in automobile use, the cost of running the city has mounted out of all proportion to population growth. This is particularly true in the larger cities. New York City, for instance, had between 1915 and 1916 a 50 per cent increase in its population but the yearly cost of running the city increased from 99 million to 351 million dollars. A considerable part of this cost has been due to remedying errors which a well ordered program of growth could have avoided. This will be one of the feature discussions of the conference.

O. Wood, Albert Soosman, Charles A. Stevens, Albert J. A. Gleason, at $4 a day each.

MAYOR NICHOLS WINNING MILK FREIGHT RATE FIGHT.

ASKS FOR SUSPENSION OF INCREASE AND SECURES ACTION LOOKING TO SURVEY OF BOSTON MARKET.

Mayor Nichols has made telegraphic application to the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington for suspension of the increase in freight rates on milk and cream contemplated by the Boston & Maine Railroad. Written application will be made as soon as the municipal Law Department prepares the document.

If not suspended, the increases become effective on April 1. Assistant Corporation Counsel Silverman was designated by Corporation Counsel Deland to take charge of the city's fight against the increases.

It was also announced from Washington that a survey of the milk supply of the Boston market will be made by the Tariff Commission in its investigation of the need of higher tariff protection for New England and other northeastern milk producers to enable them to meet Canadian competition.

More than 99 per cent of the imports of cream, sweet and sour milk and butter-milk in 1925 came from Canada. Boston obtains the bulk of its domestic supply from southern Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts. Receipts of Canadian cream in Boston during 1925 were 631,000 gallons, or 14 per cent of the total, and those of Canadian milk were 70,000, or less than 1 per cent of the total.

NO FEAR OF INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC; MAYOR NICHOLS' EMERGENCY COMMITTEE PREPARED TO ACT.

DR. FRANCIS X. MAHONEY, HEALTH COMMISSIONER, SAYS CONDITIONS ARE BUT SLIGHTLY WORSE THAN NORMAL FOR SEASON.

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Commissioner of the Health Department, states that cases of influenza and pneumonia in Boston are slightly more numerous than at this time last year, but the number by no means approaches what might be called an epidemic. "The situation indicates," he said "that we are not so unfortunate as many other cities."

Mayor Nichols' Emergency Committee is preparing to act, however, if conditions approach epidemic stage.

"Surveys and records of large mercantile, industrial and manufacturing establishments show that their sickness rate of employees is always highest at this season, and it appears to be so this year, also, but the type of sickness is not a severe one such as we have experienced in outbreaks, and is commonly referred to as a three days' illness that does not run into the severe type that characterized former outbreaks. No one can foretell whether the present situation will become serious, but if one will observe proper precautions and follow common sense rules of personal hygiene, the chances of becoming ill will be minimized."

Cases of influenza were reported to the Health Department during the recent week as follows: March 17, eight; 18, sixteen; 19, four; 20, fourteen; 21, six; 22, twenty-one. Cases of pneumonia on the corresponding days were: March 14, eleven; 13, 15 and 10, none.

Doctor Mahoney issued a bulletin of advice as follows:

"Infections of the respiratory tract are spread in a similar manner to most other communicable diseases. The infective agent is contained in the secretions of the nose and throat, and may be spread through the air by coughing, sneezing, spitting, or through the medium of eating and drinking utensils, by hands, handkerchiefs, or other soiled or contaminated articles that have come into contact with such secretions. The crowding of people in poorly ventilated areas serves to spread the infection."

"To avoid contagion keep away from crowded places, avoid getting tired, refrain from visiting a person ill with any respiratory disease unless actually caring for a person and then one should use great caution. Carefully wash the hands after attending anyone sick; eat regularly and slowly, and thoroughly cleanse and scald all eating and drinking utensils. Linen towels and handkerchiefs should be boiled. Get as much fresh air, exercise and sunshine as is possible."

"If you should feel ill the safest procedure is to go to bed and immediately send for a physician."

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has granted the request of the Public Works Department to rebuild sidewalk on draw span of Chelsea Bridge North, by department force, without advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $1,400.

MAYOR NICHOLS DELIGHTED THAT ARNOLD ARBORETUM IS CHOSEN AS MODEL FOR NATIONAL BOTANICAL GARDENS.

WORD TO THAT EFFECT FROM WASHINGTON SHOWS IN HOW HIGH ESTEEM FAMOUS HERBARIUM IS HELD—LEADS THE WORLD.

Mayor Nichols is delighted with the information of the honor conferred upon Boston with the announcement from Washington that Arnold Arboretum will serve as a model and prompter for a national arboretum in or near the District of Columbia. Congress has been asked to give its approval to a bill whose passage the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry has recommended.

The proposal has the indorsement of many groups of nature lovers and of the Department of Agriculture through Secretary Jardine.

In outline, the bill calls for the establishment by the Secretary of Agriculture of a national arboretum "for purposes of research and education concerning tree and plant life." The Senate Committee has increased the appropriation from $300,000, to $500,000. The bill provides for the setting up of an advisory council, to be made up of representatives from each of the following organizations:

National Academy of Sciences, National Research Council, Smithsonian Institution, Carnegie Institution of Washington, Garden Club of America, Wild Flower Preservation Society, Botanical Society of America, American Society of Landscape Architects, American Association of Nurserymen, National Association of Audubon Societies, American Forestry Association, Society of American Foresters, American Pharmaceutical Association and American Association for the Advancement of Science.

In the course of the hearings Mrs. Harold I. Pratt, secretary of the Garden Club of America, cited the successful work of the Arnold Arboretum, near Boston, as an argument in favor of the pending proposal.

"The Arnold Arboretum," she said, "is doing splendid service for New England and in fact is doing splendid service to the whole world. I think it ranks with the Kew Gardens in England. A national arboretum would be of much greater significance in the scientific study of plants which are suited to our climate, but of course the arboretum at Boston can only represent what can be grown in New England."

"Washington is very happily situated because it contains the overlap of the Northern and the Southern climates. I suppose there is no other place in the country where there is a greater variety of trees and shrubs than can be grown in Washington."

The tentative site selected is on Mount Hamilton and Hickey Hill. An examination of this tract made in 1917 showed that the soils are very diverse, over thirty different types being represented.

MAYOR NICHOLS GETS SENTIMENT OF REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE ON NEW HIGHWAY.

ORGANIZATION APPROVES OF GENERAL PLAN FOR THOROUGHFARE IF REAL PROPERTY IS NOT BURDENED.

Mayor Nichols on March 24 was apprised of the following action taken by the Boston Real Estate Exchange:

"Voted, That the directors of the Boston Real Estate Exchange are opposed to the building of that section of the so-called intermediate thoroughfare extending from Fort Hill square to Kneeland street but they are in favor of the general plan of the rest of the thoroughfare provided that the cost is met in some other manner than by assessments on Boston real estate. That the directors approve the link from Fort Hill square to Atlantic avenue as shown on the so-called Brinckerhoff plan and suggest further study of the various routes proposed for the section from Hanover street to the Charles river.

"That the directors are influenced in their judgment by the fact that the present tax burden on Boston real estate amounts to over twenty per cent of its gross income and they believe that some plan should be made now that will provide for financing this thoroughfare and other needed improvements otherwise than by increasing the burden on real estate and they recommend a sales tax."

NEW EAST BOSTON BRIDGE BILL.

REDRAFT OF MEASURE AIMS TO RELIEVE BOSTON OF BURDEN OF CONSTRUCTION.

Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Division has presented to the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the Massachusetts Legislature a redrafted bill for the construction of a toll bridge or toll tunnel between Boston and East Boston.

The new measure, it is understood, is acceptable to all parties in interest.

The amended measure provides for construction by a private corporation, at a cost of approximately $15,000,000 and would become the property of the City of Boston, automatically, in about fifty years.

Under the new bill the following provisions are made:

No financial burden will be placed upon the City of Boston.

The bridge or tunnel would be constructed by a private corporation, especially chartered for the purpose under the business corporation law, and would cost $15,000,000.

The structure would be 40 feet wide, and the banking interests behind the project would agree to pay the cost of surveys and other preliminary work.

Either a toll bridge or toll tunnel would be allowed, upon agreement between the public authorities and the projectors.

The location would be subject to approval by the Mayor of Boston, and the plans by the State Department of Public Utilities.

For the first ten years toll rates would be unregulated, after which they would be fixed by the Department of Public Utilities.

At the expiration of ten years from the date of construction the city would have the right to buy the structure from its private owners. At the expiration of fifty years the private owners would be required to give the structure to the city without cost. In order to provide financially for the gift the corporation would establish an amortization fund.

The structure would be completed within a period of three years.

Mr. Harriman states that the toll charges would probably be twenty or twenty-five cents for the ordinary motor vehicle, and while no provision for free tolls for pedestrians is included in the bill, it is understood that no charge would be made.

PETITIONS ALLOWED.

The Mayor has approved the following petitions received from the Board of Street Commissioners for licenses for gasoline, etc.:

Abraham Kepnes, 508 Southampton street, Ward 7, 1,000 gallons of gasoline.

MAYOR NICHOLS WELCOMES PRESIDENT STATLER, NOTED HOTEL BUILDER, TO BOSTON.

PRaises SAGACITY OF EMINENT BUSINESSMAN AND ASSURES HIM OF SUPPORT IN ESTABLISHMENT OF HOTELRY NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION—PREDICTS IT WILL FILL GREAT NEED.

Mayor Nichols was a guest of honor at a luncheon tendered by the Brokers Board and the Building Owners and Managers Association of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, to greet Ellsworth M. Statler, President of Hotels Statler, Inc., national famed hotel man and who operates Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City.

Mr. Statler was welcomed by Mayor Nichols, on behalf of the city, and was given a most cordial greeting by several hundred members of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, every member having been invited.

James M. Rothwell, chairman of the Building Owners and Managers Association, presided and introduced Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols and Mr. Statler. The Mayor extended the city's greetings. He said that while the tax rate is high "it never will be as high again if human ingenuity and ability can prevent it."

Mayor Nichols praised Mr. Statler as one of the most progressive and far-sighted men in this country. He comes at an advantageous time, he declared, when the commercial element in this city is reawakening. The Mayor stated he expects to see Boston the great metropolitan city when the forty-five cities and towns comprising Greater Boston are annexed.

As had been hoped by many of those present, Mr. Statler outlined something of his plans for the construction and operation of the new hotel, and he pointed out that while the management and fitting up of the hotel will follow the successfully established policies of his company, a departure has been made in the building of a large office building adjoining the hotel and connected with it. He said it seemed to him this combination merely was an indication of the tendency to concentrate living quarters, offices, theaters, and even churches under one roof. He said that the office building came about primarily from a desire to see the entire area he now controls built up properly and immediately.

He explained why the Hotel Statler office building addition came to be built. He stated that the hotel was planned before the office building idea occurred. On studying the plans, however, it was apparent that the Selwyn Theater and the small vacant apex lot next to it would remain unoccupied for many years retarding the development of the part of the block not occupied by the hotel.

"The growing importance of this up-town section," he said, "forced the conviction on us that the rest of the block ought to be improved. The size of the hotel already planned made it inadvisable to increase the number of rooms, so we hit on the plan of building an office structure of 200,000 square feet."

Although the length of time between the acquiring of the Park square land and the actual start of operations may have been long and aroused suspicion among many Bostonians, Mr. Statler asserted that the real reason for the delay was that his company was waiting for improved building conditions in Boston and assurance that Boston people were ready to receive the hotel.

"The starting of a new hotel in a city is quite different than beginning a commercial business or manufacturing plant, where the only consideration is four walls to work in without hindrance," he said. "The difference may be ascribed to the public's realization that a hotel is a public institution and must submit itself to more critical judgment than a commercial establishment."

"Our organization has developed methods peculiar to itself, and we believe in them strongly enough to apply them whenever we open a new house in a new city. In the first place, the building itself is going to embody all the features which we have learned by experience are likely to contribute to comfort and convenience."

"There will, for instance, be a bath in every one of the 1,300 rooms, running ice water in every room, the distribution free of charge of morning newspapers under every door, and that door itself will have the self-service feature whereby necessities thought of while the guest is in his room may be obtained by telephone without the need of interviewing the boy who brings the articles."

"In planning the building we have placed special emphasis on providing ample banqueting space, large ballrooms for public functions and many meeting rooms for the convenience of Boston business men, and for conventions, large and small."

"There is another side which cannot be measured in brick and steel. This really greater factor concerns the relationship of those employed in the hotel to its guests."

"There is a catch word for it—service—a word that has come to mean many things. Our interpretation of it is the possession by all the hotel's employees of the desire—going deeper than lip service—to treat you as they should like to be treated were they the guests."

Mr. Statler, in the question period following his talk, declared that his hotel will be in operation around the latter part of this year. In answer to a question as to whether there will be underground subway connection, he answered that such an idea was thought of by the architects, but it was abandoned because of the prohibitive cost and upkeep.

"People would not use the subway in the summer time," he said, "but if the City of Boston wants to make underground subway connections to the hotel we will be more than glad to accept them. We did not consider such a subway worth while, however."

Those at the head table, besides the speakers, were: Charles E. Howe, Chairman of the Brokers Board; Fred Holdsworth, Vice President of the Board; Francis R. Bangs, director of the Building Owners Association; Theodore L. Storer, secretary of the organization, and F. C. McKowne, Mr. Statler's secretary.

There is no intention, whatever, of discontinuing its activities. It is our purpose to have it placed in its usual position and resume duty as a life-saving station on May 1, and I hope that during this season it will render useful service and protection to yachts and small boats as it has every season for many years past."

BOSTON PROTECTIVE AND FIRE DEPARTMENT ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS EXCELLENT WORK DONE IN YEAR.

RESPONDED TO LESS ALARMS THAN IN 1924, BUT LOSSES TO PROPERTY WERE GREATER.

Superintendent Henry E. Thompson of the Boston Protective and Fire Department, has filed a most excellent annual report stating the organization, for the year ending December 31, 1925, responded to 7,678 alarms of fire, 439 less than sounded in 1924, but the loss in 1925 totaled $5,474,749.06, against a loss in 1924 of $4,835,216.13.

The report shows that the mileage made by the three companies making up this department, if the total mileage of the apparatus in responding to alarms and returning to quarters was strung out, would encircle the globe about one and one third times.

The alarms for the Protective Department were received from a number of different sources, city fire alarm boxes sounding 3,730; verbal alarms, 2,340; Boston automatic alarms, 184; American District Telegraph, 127; with seventy-two sprinkler breaks and 198 sprinkler trouble reports.

As a result of these alarms the members of the department used 69 fire extinguishers, spread 11,587 rubber covers on merchandise, 525 covers on open roofs and 77 covers for protecting merchandise from storms. As these covers measure about 12 by 18 feet, it does not require great work to figure how much of Boston would be covered by these 12,189 covers if they were laid side by side. The hours of duty required during the year totaled 9,598.14 for company duty and special details.

Besides the above work on regular fire duty, the companies of the department responded to thirty-eight calls for assistance where water was flowing from broken pipes or other causes. On these calls the men spread 185 covers and required thirty-seven hours and forty-nine minutes in which to do their work.

Of the 7,678 alarms the department responded to 4,998, or 65.10 per cent, were for fires where no loss resulted.

When the work of the various companies is figured out, with the number of "runs" each company had during the year tabulated, then "real fire duty" is thought of by members of the fire-fighting forces of not only the small cities and towns in New England, but of all companies in the Boston Fire Department.

Capt. Arthur F. Swift and Lieuts. M. J. Gleason and B. J. McTernan, with the twenty privates who make up Company No. 3, located on Roxbury street, did duty as a result of the receipt of 3,327 alarms; with Capt. Edward Abbott and Lieuts. J. J. Carty and J. F. Sullivan and the twenty-six privates making up Company No. 1, on Purchase street, in the downtown section, having 2,251, and Company 2, Capt. S. A. McDonnell and Lieuts. G. E. Blakeley and J. S. Weir, having 2,123 fire reports to make out and forward to headquarters.

The alarms sounded during the year were from all sections of the city, the city proper leading with 2,456; Roxbury, 1,229; Dorchester, 1,101, as the leading sections. Hyde Park was the lowest, having but 249, with Brookline and Milton leading the out-of-town divisions, each with seven alarms sounded in Boston; Dedham, third, with six; Somerville, three, while Cambridge, Newton, Winthrop and Quincy had one alarm each to their credit.

The month in which the greatest number of alarms was sounded was April when 836 were struck on the department tappers, and February the least, with but 528. Saturday was the heaviest running day, with a total of 1,190 alarms, and Monday the lightest, with 1,005.

The hour between 5 and 6 in the evening seemed to be the worst hour for fires during last year, as this hour brought a total of 603 alarms, while between 4 and 5 in the morning only 77 fires were discovered and alarms sounded.

For fires which resulted in no loss being recorded, 4,998 alarms were sounded; for losses under $100, the alarms numbered 975, and between $100 and $15,000 losses the fires numbered 2,549; with 66 fires having losses over $15,000. The greatest loss was credited to the Kennedy Company on Summer street, where at a fire on January 13, a loss of $227,091.91 was sustained. The losses at three fires reached more than $200,000 each, while three others had losses reaching over $100,000.

Rubbish was responsible for 1,682 fires, and matches have 880 charged against them; stoves, furnaces and boilers, 785, and other causes ranging down to eleven known cases of incendiarism, while sixteen buildings struck by lightning were not protected by rods.

The fact that the work done by the officers and men of this department is appreciated by the business interests and residents of the city is proven by the number of letters published in the report of Superintendent Thompson, in which the gratitude and appreciation of the people protected against loss is expressed.

For years the red-helmeted men of this department have been seen passing through the streets on their big red trucks responding to alarms of fire, and within a short time after the receipt of an alarm were to be seen running into a building heavily charged with smoke and gas with big rubber covers on their shoulders to protect valuable property against the water the fire-fighters would throw on the flames, but they were quickly forgotten by those who stood on the street and with halted breath watched a fireman go over a ladder to ventilate.

To the onlookers no knowledge ever came of the heat, smoke and boiling-hot water that the Protective man inside was forced to fight, but it seems that this work is now beginning to be appreciated. Among the letters are some from grateful people who had the roof burned off their homes, but through the good work of the Protective men the roof was covered, the house cleaned and made habitable.

Business men who have been able to continue their business, even though half of the building was destroyed by fire, are also contributors to the praises for these workers.

The work of the Boston Protective Department is used as the base for the opposition of the fire chiefs of New England against the plans of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for making salvage work part of the regular fire duty of all fire departments.

The chiefs of other cities and towns where protective or salvage departments are not maintained by the insurance interests point to Boston and ask for help in trying to solve the problem of how any fire-fighting department could hope to do the work of the Boston Protective Department, or anywhere near the remarkable work, which is held up as the best in the country.

BOSTON GAINS AS IMPORT CENTER.

Hon. Wilfred W. Lufkin, Collector of the Port, announced the Massachusetts customs district has advanced from third to second place in the standing of import centers of the country in consequence of foreign merchandise valued at $321,566,828 received here in 1925.

In the matter of imports Boston is second only to New York, which in 1925 had imports valued at $2,074,864,810.

At the end of 1924 the Massachusetts customs district, for which the Port of Boston is the principal import gateway, was in third position with imports valued at $253,851,533. At that time Seattle, Wash., occupied second position, with imports of $270,285,569, and New Orleans Philadelphia and San Francisco were fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively. With the exception of Washington, which has changed places with Boston in the standing at the end of 1925, these customs districts remain in the same relative positions. Philadelphia's imports in 1925 amounted to $215,343,403 and Washington's aggregated $261,873,884.

What the Massachusetts district gained in the way of imports was offset, however, by a decline of approximately $10,000,000 in exports, compared with 1924. In the matter of exports alone, valued at $47,493,886 as against $57,355,646 in 1924, Massachusetts occupies eighteenth place, the same as in 1924. It remains in sixth place for combined import and export trade, which for 1925 aggregated $369,060,714 compared with $311,207,179 in 1924. The five districts leading Massachusetts are: New York, $3,849,934,923; New Orleans, $688,298,393; Galveston, $675,280,058; Washington, $382,431,504; San Francisco, $380,236,304. Michigan occupies seventh place with combined imports and exports of $336,521,137, and Philadelphia is eighth with $334,406,948.

Vessels arriving in the Massachusetts customs district from foreign ports in 1925 numbered 1,540, with tonnage of 3,896,383 as against 1,553 with total tonnage of 3,927,482 in 1924. The arrivals included 474 American flag vessels, aggregating 1,105,544 tons, against 531 American vessels of 1,418,026 tons in 1924. The arrival of British vessels in 1925 totaled 811, against 801 in the preceding year.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence, July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

Total gross debt on Feb. 1, 1925 for all subways and tunnels, $42,096,700; against which a sinking fund of $7,825,262 has been accumulated from the revenue, making the net debt $34,271,438. The loans are payable mostly in 40 years from date of each (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{1}{2}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet southward was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

Loans issued in 1924-25 for Dorchester Tunnel extension, $300,000 and for Dorchester Rapid Transit, $150,000.

Annexed were the specific items of appropriations in the several departments.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the orders.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I have recorded my dissent to the report as submitted by the Committee on Appropriations, and perhaps it is fitting that I should give my reasons for so doing.

I have dissented from the report of the Committee on Appropriations, not so much because I have any very definite ideas or criticisms as to any particular items but rather because the work of the committee has been done in such a way as to make it impossible for any man in the time that has been available to arrive at a sound and well grounded opinion. The budget sheets were available for the first time to me on Thursday morning. Four of the committee met that morning for one hour and a half. The committee met again on Friday morning for two hours and a half, and in the afternoon heard a few department heads at ten or fifteen minute intervals. One more session might be made much more attractive if there were not involved such a great waste of time on the part of the members of the Council. We think well of the suggestion that was made to the commission that after the budget had been cared for there was no need for regular meetings of the Council but the Council might be called together either by its presiding officer, by a certain number of the Council or by the Mayor, when the question of loans or other matters must come up."

And briefly from ex-Mayor Matthews on Municipal Charters:

"The criticism sometimes heard that the responsible executive type of charter (like Boston's) leaves too little for the City Council to do is in my opinion entirely unfounded. The matters on which the City Council has jurisdiction are the most important of all, and are sufficient in number and difficult to occupy all the time and attention which its members can be expected to devote to municipal affairs."

And then he refers by footnote to the section of the charter dealing with appropriations. I cannot be persuaded or convinced that this body has done its full duty for the year in a few hours or that we have played fair with the people who sent us here to look after their interests. I am told, Mr. President, that it would take a month or more to go into this budget the way it should be gone into. What of it? That is what we are here for. I became interested to see if the position I was taking was unreasonable and I looked back a few years to see what other councils had done. I happened to look at the years 1915 and 1916, and I found that in 1915 the budget was referred to the Council on March 1. The Committee on Appropriations sat continuously from that time until April 20, a period of nine weeks, gentlemen, in afternoon and evening sessions and then submitted an amended budget showing a reduction of over a quarter of a million dollars on a total of about $21,000,000—equivalent to one half a million on the present budget. In 1916 the Mayor's budget was submitted on February 28, 1916. Again the Committee on Appropriations met continuously from March 7 until May 17, a period of ten weeks and then passed an amended appropriation bill showing a saving of about $500,000 on a total of $22,368,000, or almost a million dollars on the present budget. That, gentlemen, was work worth while. During those sessions they went through the budget item by item, having each department head before them, a day or more at a time and assembling their data and information from every possible source. I find it hard to believe that this present Council is so superior in intelligence and ability as to be able to found a real judgment on the work of as many hours as that committee spent weeks. Now, Mr. President, we are told that there is great urgency, that owing to the fact that in any year a department cannot spend without appropriation more than one third its expenditures of the previous year, and owing further to the fact that last year was an eleven-months' year and that due to a change in the fiscal year we are one month behind, therefore, we should pass this budget without further investigation. I appreciate the urgency of the situation and the weight of this argument but I do not think it sufficient to outweigh the duty incumbent upon us under the charter. This situation has arisen before. In both 1915 and 1916 I find that certain departments actually expended up to their limit before action was taken and then the Council passed appropriations for those particular departments several weeks before they acted upon the completed budget. I see no reason why the same thing cannot be done this year. If we are told what departments are running short, why we can act on those departments first. One third of eleven months is 3 2/3 months. That would give us until the 15th or 20th of April in which to complete our work. Again, Mr. President, I am told that because there is a Budget Commissioner, and because he has been in conference with department heads for several months on their estimates of expenditures, therefore there is no use in our deliberating any further and we should accept the budget as submitted. I do not understand that in establishing the Budget Department by ordinance, the City Council intended to transfer all its powers and duties to the Budget Commissioner. Nor could it do so if it wanted to, for the charter is supreme and the charter places upon the City Council the duty of considering the appropriation and of reducing or rejecting any item. That is a duty that cannot be delegated. I will say once more that I have no doubt that the Budget Commissioner has done his work conscientiously and thoroughly; but I do not think that is reason enough for surrendering our independent judgment. I repeat that I am not pre-this morning completed the work of this committee in considering a budget of $44,000,000 which will involve an increase in the tax rate of between $4 and $5. And I am told that that is consideration enough,—that the duty of the City Council has been satisfied. Let me read you from the City Charter. Section 3 reads:

"All appropriations . . . shall originate with the Mayor who within thirty days after the beginning of the fiscal year shall submit to the City Council the annual budget . . . and may submit thereafter supplementary budgets until such time as the tax rate for the year shall have been fixed. The City Council may reduce or reject any item, but without the approval of the Mayor shall not increase any item in, nor the total of a budget, nor add any item thereto, nor shall it originate a budget."

In these words, Mr. President, are found the principal power and the most important duty of the Council. If these words are disregarded and the Council does not fulfill its duty, its usefulness is gone,—it has no other real excuse for existence. I quote from a report of the Boston Charter Revision Commission of 1924 as to the functions of the Council, House Document No. 1220 of 1924:

"It is necessary at the outset to have a clear conception of what are the functions of the Council under the present charter. The chief functions appear to be the approval of the budget at the beginning of the year and the consideration of loans. The Council likewise has the power to pass ordinances but there have been comparatively few ordinances passed in any one year. There are also minor matters with which the Council deals. It is clear therefore that the important function of the Council is to deal with the people's money, both in the present, so far as the budget is concerned, and for the future, so far as loans are concerned. This is a very important function and it is surprising that the importance of the position of councilman is not more widely recognized. There is nothing more important in governmental matters than the control of the purse strings. This is particularly true at the present time when the burden of government taxation is very heavy, particularly upon the poorer classes in the community upon whom eventually the burden chiefly falls. As the capital city of New England, at a time when New England must fight economically to the utmost, Boston ought to have the best managed finances possible and the best qualified citizens ought to be called upon to serve in the control of them. We may remark parenthetically that the position pared nor am I ashamed to admit that I do not feel competent with my limited knowledge and slight opportunity for study of this budget to give an intelligent vote today. It may well be, and I hope it may be so, that no amount of study can lop any substantial sum from this budget; but I am from Missouri; I want to be shown; and I feel that this new Council now on trial will make a great mistake if it sets a precedent of passing this budget after two or three days' hasty consideration. I therefore move that the budget be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for further and adequate study.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the annual budget was submitted to the Council by his Honor the Mayor on Monday last and on that day referred to the Committee on Appropriations with an earnest request for early consideration in view of the financial situation in various of the city departments. Your committee considered the budget, in detail, by departments, a good part of Thursday, all of Friday, and all this morning. Specific and individual notices of our meetings, and invitations to attend were sent out, not only to the seven members of the Committee on Appropriations but also to each one of the twenty-two members of the City Council. Besides the committee membership, a great majority of the City Council membership has been in constant attendance. For the benefit of the few members of the Council who have been unable to attend our meetings let me say that the Budget Commissioner, Mr. Fox, sat with your committee during the whole of every session, having available for purposes of accurate comparison the detailed expenditures of each and every city department for 1923, for 1924 and for 1925, also the detailed amounts this year requested by each department, and, finally, the amount in each case submitted by the Mayor to this Council in his budget. I sat with the gentleman who has just spoken but confess I am unable to agree with him that the amount of this year's budget was reached by adding one eleventh to each department. The following twenty-two heads of city departments, or representatives of departments, appeared in person before your committee: Mr. Kelley of the Assessing Department; Mr. Casey of the City Documents; Miss Herlihy of the City Planning Board; Mr. McMorrow, Collecting Department; Mr. Burlen, Election Department; Messrs. Sullivan, Murphy and Burke, Fire and Wire Departments; Commissioner Wilson of the Police Department; Messrs. Daly and McCarthy, Public Welfare Department; Messrs. Sullivan, Atwood and Kelly, Public Works Department; General Dunn, Soldiers' Relief Department; Mr. Hurley, Street Laying-Out Department, and Mr. Sweeney, Weights and Measures Department, and also Mr. Lyons, representing the City Law Department. The chief difficulty experienced was with the expenditures necessitated by the proposed addition of 300 men to the police force. Police Commissioner Wilson appeared in person before the Committee on Appropriations. He reported that urgent requests from the captains of the various stations showed a real need for 528 additional officers. His Honor the Mayor, on request of the Police Commissioner, assented to an increase of 300 men during 1926, the first fifty men April 30, and batches of fifty men, each forty-five days thereafter. The full increase will not be effective therefore until the 26th of next November. While it is all well and good to insist on economy in the administration of our city finances, the majority of your committee feels that a refusal to increase our police force at this time would be like a bank initiating a campaign of economy by discharging the night watchmen. There is such a thing as economy, and such a thing as efficiency, and the protection of our persons and property. We talk of a crime wave. It isn't a wave. The tide has come in, whether an aftermath of the war, or as a result of prohibition, or because of the facilities offered criminals by use of the automobile, or it may be due to a variety of causes. The outlying districts of this city are not adequately protected. It was a pledge of the present Mayor that he would favor a substantial increase in the number of men on the police force. I personally made the same pledge in Dorchester. Unless I am mistaken, nine tenths of the councilors from the outlying wards made the same pledge. A majority of your committee believes that our present Police Department is a credit to the City of Boston and when the duly constituted head of the Police Department tells us he needs over five hundred new men and must have 300, a majority of our committee concurs in the wisdom of his Honor the Mayor assenting to that number. To be sure a substantial number of officers will be used in traffic work but statistics show that the number of registered motor vehicles in the Commonwealth had increased from 247,143 in 1919 to 764,338 in 1925,—an increase of 517,000 cars, and a great percentage of them in metropolitan Boston. In the same period of time our police force in the seven years since the strike shows an increase of only 150 men. Your committee almost unanimously feels that the entire budget, particularly in comparison with the action of some city councils in recent years, has received earnest, full and fair consideration. I believe every member of the committee had hoped we might succeed in paring down estimates, thereby reducing the proposed necessary increase in taxes this year, but the great majority of the committee is constrained to agree with his Honor the Mayor that the efficient and businesslike management of the affairs of our city requires a budget of substantially this size,—at least for 1926. We have made only three reductions totalling $11,000. So far as the proposed increase in the Police Department is concerned, a majority of the committee reports favorably. In addition we are advised by the Corporation Counsel that under Acts of 1906, chapter 291, sections 8 and 11, the real authority for any increase is in concurrent action by the Police Commissioner and the Mayor only. Your committee therefore reports on the budget, "Ought to Pass," with the three amendments made.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I wish to go on record as heartily in accord with what Coun. Parkman has said in justice to the public. Mr. Parkman is a lawyer by profession, and the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations is also a lawyer by profession, and I believe neither of them in a case involving $43,000,000 would be prepared to act definitely in a matter in which they were brought professionally on such short notice as has been given in the case of this $43,000,000 budget of the City of Boston. The Legislature of Massachusetts has outlined the powers and duties of the Boston City Council. They are simple enough, as has been pointed out by my colleague, Mr. Parkman, and in some instances they amount only to saying in a loud voice, "I do not agree!" I refer specifically to the budget of the County of Suffolk as such, and of the Police Department. In those instances we are informed that the County of Suffolk and the Police Department will get the money as set forth on their budgets by passing in warrants to the County Treasurer's office, whether we approve the budget or not. That means just one thing, that the only function the Boston City Council has in regard to the County of Suffolk is to say, "I approve," or "I don't approve." But simply because they are going to get the money they ask for does not mean that either the Committee on Appropriations or the Boston City Council as such should sign on the dotted line with a rubber stamp and say, "I approve." The Committee on Appropriations should not say that they approve of the budget of the County of Suffolk even though they know that the withholding of their approval will not prevent the money being spent. They should examine the budget of the County of Suffolk with as much sincerity as the budget of any other department in which they can cut down in the amount of money to be spent. I know from my attendance at the meetings of the Committee on Appropriations the attitude that was taken in respect to the estimates on departments, that "If they are going to get the money, any way, we might as well approve it." The only function of the Boston City Council with reference to the department is to say whether they approve or disapprove, and if they do disapprove they should do so with some basis of sincerity, after having gone through the budget intelligently. It may be entirely true that the withholding of their approval amounts to nothing in the long run but it does indicate that the committee is doing its duty, is examining into the matter, and is saying to the people who put them in office, with reference to certain departments, "We don't approve, regardless of whether they are going to get the money out of the treasury or not." That should be the attitude of the City Council if approval is withheld. I think Mr. Parkman is right in saying that no body of men can be expected to spend intelligently $43,000,000 of the people's money after considering the various items going into that $43,000,000 with merely the few hours of deliberation that have been given to this budget. Of course, if it may be said with fairness that every opportunity was given to examine the heads of departments, I grant that; but I say that nobody can be prepared to cross-examine an adverse witness on a matter involving $43,000,000 and accomplish anything on such short notice as that. At the meeting this morning I questioned two department heads somewhat along this line. I said to them "Let us assume for a moment that your department is to be reduced 10 per cent, where would you suggest that that 10 per cent be taken off? Where, if taken off, would it do your department the least damage? Neither of those department heads was willing to answer the question. They both ducked it, and every department head that appeared before that committee was in the same frame of mind. They were there to defend their estimate and to get that money. Now, in order to hope to make any cut in that budget you have to go at the department heads as though they were adverse witnesses and give them a grilling cross examination on the items in their estimate, and it cannot be done on $43,000,000 in two and one-half days, a day and a half of which is given to preparation for the cross examination. I am heartily in accord with Mr. Parkman in his attitude.

The question came on Coun. Parkman's motion to recommit to the Committee on Appropriations.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I have listened with considerable interest to the discussion that has gone on upon this question, and I believe that the sound sense expounded by Coun. Parkman and Coun. Guild is certainly something to be seriously weighed in this body. I am surprised today that there has been a violation of trust with this Council because it is my impression, and I think most of the members had the same impression, that this Committee on Appropriations would submit the budget today to the Executive Committee, before it came to this body, and certain agreements were made in this Council to that effect, among gentlemen. What do we find as practically the first thing on our program of business this afternoon? A budget of $43,000,000 thrown into the body for immediate passage. I have listened, of course, to the various departments. The member on my right (Coun. Wilson) has referred to pledges in his district as to taking action seeing to increase of the police force, but before he presses that argument I would ask him if he made any pledge to his constituency that he would raise the taxes $5 per thousand in the next year? I think if he did a different story would have been told before this body today. I don't think the people of Boston appreciate yet the fact that we are going to have a $5 increase on their bills next September. I don't believe they will appreciate that, something that hits their pocketbook in any such way, but that we will find them hollering "murder" in every section of Boston. Rents are as high today as the working people and the average citizens can stand, and yet we find such a thing as this proposed increase in the tax rate being used as an excuse by landlords to foist further increases of rents upon their tenants. An instance occurred in my section on the day when the Mayor's inaugural address was delivered, declaring that there would probably be a $5 increase in the tax rate. A landlord met one of his tenants in the cellar, and he said, "We are going to have a $5 increase in taxes, and consequently that will mean that I will have to raise your rent to make up the difference in my tax bill." The tenant said, "You will never raise my rent any more. I am paying you all I can possibly stand now." There was then in that cellar a riot of considerable proportions so that they had to call on the police to restore order between the tenant and the landlord. Are we representing in this body the working people, the rent payers, as well as the landlord, or are we going to have the same situation existing here that exists in the nation and state, where one party represents the wealth of the country, those possessed of the world's goods, and the other party represents the poor working people, the class not so well to do? I protest against this increase, and I say here and now that it is unwarranted. A comparison of this year's budget with that of last year, of course, would not be fair. Last year was an eleven month's year. We must go back to 1924. Under a gang administration, under a gang Council, so-called, and a gang Mayor—not a highbrow Mayor or a so-called highbrow Council as we have now (laughter)—in 1924, Mr. President, the gang outfit raised 9,200 employees, under a tax rate of $26.70, bringing the budget up to $26,000,000. Three thousand laborers, janitors and teamsters got half a dollar apiece; 1,000 mechanics got a half dollar raise; 1,729 patrolmen got a $200 raise; 1,103 firemen got a $100 raise that year and $100 the next year. There were slight raises for hospital employees, nurses, clerks, library employees, but all of this was done under a tax rate of $26.70. Let us make a comparison, briefly. I thought this matter was to come before the Executive Committee today, and that we could have a chance to thresh it out, all of us, instead of its being railroaded through, as is being done now. Taking the basis of 1924, the Assessing Department has been increased $20,000; the Auditing Department, $2,000; the Boston Sanatorium, $70,000; the Budget Department, $3,000; the Appeal Board, $5,000; the City Clerk's office, $5,000; City Documents, $2,000; the Fire Department, $500,000; the Wire Division, $12,000; the Health Department, $300,000; the Hospital Department, $300,000; the Institutions, Almshouse, $91,000; the "Hibbard," $4,000; the Law Department, $9,000; the Library Department, $200,000; the Park Department, $70,000. Those are the big jumps, and that is as far as I have gone in my brief synopsis of the situation. That alone represents increases of about $1,700,000. I would like to know what the increases are for, where they are going, why they are needed? I appreciate the fact that the situation is unusual, that in these different departments new men have gone in, men who have just been confirmed by the Civil Service, and possibly they are not conversant with every nook and corner of the business. So it will be hard to find out from them what happened. That will have left for the city outside of the debt-incurring power, $5,000,000; $1,000,000 of that has gone for streets, $1,000,000 for sewers, $80,000 for the police headquarters that somebody left undone, not knowing enough to finish the floor, and so on. There is about $3,000,000 left in the debt-incurring power for this body to consider. I can show right now over $1,700,000 increase in the budget. If we slash that down, safeguarding the interests of the people who pay the bills and whom we represent here, safeguarding the interest of the taxpayers in our local wards, I think we can get along with a tax rate that will certainly not run up to $32. A $32 tax rate is going to mean that they are going to shout "murder" in every section of Boston. I certainly favor and will second or third the motion of Coun. Parkman to recommit this budget. I am going to make an amendment, that it be referred to the Executive Committee, with all due respect to the Committee on Appropriations, Mr. President.

The question came on Coun. Gilbody's amendment to refer to the Executive Committee.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, if I were going to make any extended remarks I would simply cover what Coun. Wilson has stated here this afternoon. As far as the highbrow element of the Council is concerned, when Coun. Guild states that he thinks the money can be cut down and a large amount can be saved, I believe the only people who would be injured by that sort of thing would be the city employees who are in for a 50-cent increase. In regard to holding up the budget, it appears to me that the only object of some of the members of the Council who wish that action taken is to cut out that 50-cent increase. I believe the budget should pass.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I think the speaker who just took his seat handled the situation a lot more cleverly than any other speaker who has addressed the body this afternoon. I say this to you, Mr. President, and I say it to all of the talkers in this body against the budget, that if we were to go downstairs to the Mayor's office and make the suggestion that there be a substantial cut in the budget, and ask him where that cut would be felt, we would be told that it would mean a wholesale discharge of city employees, and that when the matter then came back on this floor not more than two members of the body would be opposed to the budget. This is serious business. We have a Budget Commissioner and if he is an honest employee of the City of Boston, he is expected to render, as I believe he has rendered, proper and valuable service. If he is not honest, not competent, he should be discharged. I believe every member without exception has absolute confidence in our Budget Commissioner. For three long months he has spent his days and nights on the budget, in the protection of the city's interest. The gentleman who sits in the corner, as Mayor of our city, is the only person in Boston who is directly responsible for the tax rate, and he knows better than anybody else what that responsibility amounts to. We know that for two months the Finance Commission have had most of these reports that have been denied to the Council, and with one exception have not submitted a report of theirs to a single member of the body. They must have an excuse, of course, for collecting $50,000 a year from the City of Boston, and so, after two months of the most minute study they come down here as an apology for their existence and give their report to one member of our body. I say this to you, that there is no suggestion that can be made in the line of a cut in this budget unless they bring forward the places where the cuts can be made. It is an easy matter, sir, to stand on the floor of this body and say, "Cut down the budget," because we want to keep down the tax rate. But after four days of study on a $43,000,000 budget your committee, of which the gentleman on the left is a member, cut that $43,000,000 $11,000. So I say to you, sir, if there is something wrong with the size of this budget, show specifically where it is. It is an easy thing to complain, it is an easy thing to criticize, but where can you make a cut beyond that $11,000 in a $43,000,000 budget that will substantially reduce your tax rate. It is all poppycock for men to take up the time of the city standing here and telling us what should be done, without pointing out how it can be done. Everyone of the twenty-two men is honest and desires to do what is for the interest of our city and if there is a way to cut the budget without serious injury, I, for one, would certainly like to know it, because the tax rate affects my district and my ward the same as it does the ward and district of any member of the Council. So far as the 300 extra policemen are concerned, you were in the committee, sir, this morning, when I sat there, only one man, but anxious to determine what our rights were, and moved that we send for the Corporation Counsel to get his opinion with regard to our rights in the matter. The Law Department sent down Mr. Lyons who is as well qualified to tell us what our rights are as any man in Boston, and he said, "Gentlemen of the committee, if the Police Commissioner, with the approval of the Mayor, asked for a thousand men, you have not one single thing to say about it. You will grant what he asks, and you haven't one word to say about it." Every man who sat there heard Mr. Lyons say that. So why try to take here an absolutely impossible attitude? Some time ago the Supreme Court, when the Station 2 site was before the Council, ruled that the Council must vote for what the commissioner proposed to do at that time or stand in contempt. The men in that body were as courageous as the men in this body, but not one of that body went against the ruling of the Supreme Court. We have absolutely nothing to say in the matter. If Commissioner Wilson wants 500 men, he will get them, and we will pay the bill. If that situation is wrong, the fault lies with the Legislature. But I believe no member of this Council is willing to assume the responsibility in a matter over which he has no control. I say, if you want to cut more from this budget you can only do so by discharging by wholesale employees of this city. The corridors and lobbies here are filled with men who want an honest opportunity to work, and we as councilors will deny it to them if we stand in the way of the Mayor's desire, interpose ourselves as obstacles in the way of carrying out the wishes of the Mayor in administering the affairs of the city, something for which he is responsible. I say to you, sir, that unless the budget passes this week, there is going to be trouble among the men working for the city. We may be able to get along for awhile, stalling, but we will be getting into difficulties of our own creation. I trust that we will not do anything that will go far to destroy the usefulness of the Council when we are starting in as a new body. I feel that we will make a very serious mistake if we do not treat this matter seriously, placing the responsibility where it belongs, with the man who is willing to assume it, the Mayor of the city.

Coun. KEENE—Mr. Chairman, in connection with the preparation of this budget, which began the first of November last year, the various heads of departments, after making a study of their requirements, submitted to the Budget Commissioner their requisition for funds for the ensuing year. The Budget Commissioner, in conjunction with his Honor the Mayor, cut off from those requisitions one and one-half millions of dollars. It is fair to assume that the department heads had the need of their various departments in mind at the time when the requests were made, and it is reasonable to believe that the Budget Commissioner and the Mayor, with the interest of the city at heart, had their duty plainly before their eyes when they made the reductions which they did make. In addition to that, the Finance Commission made a survey and a report to the Legislative Committee, in which they stated that the Finance Commission believes that the budget of the city can be reduced by $750,000. The Finance Commission also made a report to the Budget Commissioner on each department. That information has been available to every man in this body since approximately the first day of January last, and I say that no councilor should come into this body and say now that this budget should be held up, because he has not made a sufficient study of it, when he has had an opportunity to do so, if he so desired for a period of approximately ninety days, in addition to which we have had the heads of twenty-two departments before the committee, where nobody was denied the right to ask a question as to any part of the business of any department. Now, what have we got? We have a new Mayor a new administration. We have an administration differing from the one of last year and the year before. We have an administration, just coming into office and taking up its burdens, figuring out the needs of the city, planning out the work, trying to take care of the demands of the public. On a day like this, with spring here, we find members of this Council and also citizens of the city wondering how long before our parks are going to be put in shape, wondering when the requirements of our school children are going to be met, and we have, as has been stated here, men in the corridors, unemployed, wanting an opportunity to work. We find that the Public Works Department and other city departments cannot spend any additional money until such time as they know the amount they are to be allowed. Taking the Hospital Department, for instance, the head of that department told us this morning that it was overcrowded. Patients are around in the corridors on cots, and they continually have to plan throughout the day on the number who are going out, so that they can provide for those coming in, whom it is absolutely necessary to take care of. Yet we find indecision and a disposition on the part of some to delay and put off action upon this matter. We had a motion introduced in committee to that effect, asking each department to furnish information as to the number of city employees it had this year, the number before, the number the year before that, and so on, the amount of increase and for what purpose,—the object being to see whether it would not be possible to cut down the amount allowed different departments. When I say to you that I have spent approximately two months on this matter and have interviewed a great majority of the heads of departments, you will realize that I know something about the necessities of the case. I will say this to you, gentlemen, that 85 per cent of the employees of this city today do not get enough money to meet the American standards of living. There are undoubtedly some whose services could be dispensed with in the various departments. I think the Mayor is in accord with that, and I think the Finance Commission and you gentlemen. But the question is, where are they? What are their names and what are they earning? In order to ascertain that it would be necessary for us to have a long series of meetings, with the lapse of some length of time, to get the various heads of departments and chief clerks in here, and find out what particular amount of work each employee does, and whether or not, by simplifying and weeding out, if the departments cannot get along with a lesser number. There has been no disposition, I feel quite sure, to deny to any man the opportunity to have the head of any department furnish any reasonable information. But I want to say to you again that we are confronted with a peculiar situation. We have a new Mayor, a new administration, and it will be necessary to work out plans for certain kinds of work in the various departments, for which funds must be appropriated. I say to you, Mr. Chairman, that I think it would be folly for us to waste any further time upon any line of inquiry which is in the nature of an investigation or in the nature of ascertaining certain facts to govern us in the future readjustment of any department at this time. I want to say, Mr. President, that I am in favor of the adoption of the budget as reported by the committee.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I have listened with interest, especially to the remarks of the last speaker, with regard to the opportunities that the members of this body had to examine this budget. He tells us that if there is any man who, during the last ninety days has not availed himself of the opportunity, it was his own neglect. The first I saw of the budget was a week ago, and I think that is true of every man in this body. It is interesting to notice the way that we as city councilors talk in this body about the passing of the budget in a hurry at this time, when the self-same men who today want to railroad this thing through when they were candidates for public office talked about home rule for Boston and retaining their rights under home rule. Are they now going to turn over the entire functions of this body to one department? Are they going to allow the Budget Commissioner to act for them?

That seems to be the entire question here today. I don't think any man in this body can intelligently discuss this budget, and I notice that in the discussion nobody has gone into the details in connection with any of the departments. They say that the Mayor is responsible for the tax rate. Yes, and I will say that the Council is responsible for the tax rate. Then they talk about the question of cutting employees. I think the people will wake up soon, when the first envelope comes around after the budget gets through, and consider whether they are as well off as they expected to be a few months ago. I notice that it is proposed to give the laborers a 50-cent raise, but there is nothing additional for the $5 a day men. There is no raise for employees between $1,500 and $2,100 a year, not one cent. I say that there are two things which this body owes to the city, in so far as it can carry them out,—first, that city employees shall be properly hired. I say that if a man is not worth his hire he should not be retained. But if he is retained, he should be given a living wage. I think the members of the Council, if they will properly analyze this budget, can both make a cut in the budget and at the same time provide for a class of men who have been absolutely neglected, the way the budget stands at the present time. They talk about overcrowded conditions at the City Hospital. This budget has nothing to do with overcrowded conditions at the City Hospital. If I remember correctly, the Legislature authorized the expenditure of $3,000,000 some two years ago, outside the debt limit, for new buildings for the City Hospital. If we should hold the budget up a month or more it does not affect those buildings. They are taken care of elsewhere. They talk about men in the corridors, without employment. If my guess is right, they will be there a month after this budget is passed. I hope that no man here is voting for the budget on the prospect that these men are going on the pay roll. They are not going on the pay roll. I think we owe it to our districts and to the city to analyze this budget properly. Talk about parks. Look at the budget and see what the parks in your district are getting. If you can find some appropriation for your parks, you are doing well. I know that we have several parks in my district, and we can't even get a granolithic walk in one of them. But those are the items that we are told we have to hurry through. I think this body should consider the budget until they properly understand it, and you cannot take twenty-two department heads as they came before the committee for a few moments and get any information from them. The Mayor gives more time to a casual visitor than we gave to the twenty-two heads of departments who came before the committee. If you were spending your own money, would you do it with just a casual glance, looking carelessly at this budget in the way we have done? No man in this body spending his own money or any one's else money, acting in a trust capacity, would do that. You would give the matter very, very much more consideration than you have given it here—and you are acting in a trust capacity. If you pass this in any such manner you are simply establishing a precedent so that some one may go to the Legislature next year and take from the now limited powers of this body the powers we have, in connection with the budget, putting those powers entirely in the hands of the Budget Commissioner. If you merely want to read this budget rapidly and then come in and vote for it, go ahead. Only remember that you are establishing a wonderful precedent! They can well go to the Legislature and say, "Why should the Council have to approve the budget? See what little time or consideration they give to it." It has been said that last year's budget was passed in forty-nine seconds. We will not be taking much more time if we take it here today. I certainly hope that this body today is not going to be stampeded into passing this budget today, as it comes before us, without any further consideration. I have seen political machines function on Beacon Hill. I have seen them work wonderfully when it is desired that certain legislation shall move along. But I never saw legislation on Beacon Hill hurried more than it is proposed to hurry this legislative action today. I hope the members of this body will show their independence and protect not only their own districts but the entire city by holding this budget up until it may be properly analyzed, discussed and voted on in an intelligent manner, and I hope Coun. Parkman's motion to recommit will prevail.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I have listened with considerable interest to the suggestions that have been made in the body this afternoon and also perhaps with greater interest to the orators here, as well as with some interest to the conscientious objectors. I do not belong to any of those groups. I believe all the opposition to this procedure at the present time has been unfounded. If some member of the body, Mr. President, had moved that the subject be divided and that we take the budget up, item by item, we would then have something to argue about, in my opinion. No one has spoken of any one specific thing in this budget program to which he as a representative of the City of Boston in this body has objected. Therefore, Mr. Chairman, I hope that we will get down to the business for which we are here, that we will refuse to recommit to the Committee on Appropriations, and that we will pass the bill to its first reading this afternoon.

Chairman DOWLING—The question comes on Coun. Gilbody's amendment to Coun. Parkman's motion—that we refer the matter to the Executive Committee.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, if there is no objection I would like at this time to ask the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations one question. In the examination or cross examination of the department heads, was it definitely brought out that city employees getting between $1,500 and $2,100 a year were to receive a raise?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I shall be glad to answer that question in this way. The twenty-two heads of departments or their assistants, such heads of departments as were requested by any member of the Appropriations Committee or member of the Council to come, came before us and were asked such questions as members desired to ask. That specific question was asked of some of the heads of the departments, but I could not flatly say at this time whether, in the matter of raises in the city generally, it is a fact that there are no raises of men receiving those amounts.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, may I refer that to the Budget Commissioner, if he cares to answer the question?

Chairman DOWLING—The Budget Commissioner advises the Chair that that applied to 300 or 400 clerks.

Coun. DOWD—As I understand it, a ruling has been made that no city employee getting between $1,500 and $2,100 shall get an increase? Am I right?

Chairman DOWLING—I assume that they will not.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I suppose if there is going to be a policy in connection with the carrying out of the budget, so far as employees are concerned, it should be carried out. I am perfectly agreeable if the Mayor says that no man getting between $1,500 and $2,100 shall receive a wage increase this year. If the Mayor desires to take the responsibility for that, that is agreeable to me. But if the Mayor then picks out 100 or 150 favorites and gives them increases, within that class, I am absolutely against the budget; I ask the Budget Commissioner if any definite promise was made as to the women employees in the public buildings, that they should receive a 33½ per cent increase in their wages, or anything like that?

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair suggests that this is opening another controversy, practically reopening the hearing. He feels that such questions ought to be answered in committee, if at all.

Coun. DOWD—I am talking on the budget.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair does not understand that the Budget Commissioner can answer except through the Chair or some other member of the City Council.

Coun. DOWD—Then, I understand that the Budget Commissioner refuses to answer a member of the City Council on a question referring to the budget?

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair understands that the Budget Commissioner is perfectly willing and ready to answer all questions at all proper times.

Coun. DOWD—Well, I know of no better method than to have it right out in the Council Chamber, right out in the open. However, we will discuss the matter later. If, however, the tax rate this year is going to be $32 and some odd cents, I will merely remark that the extra expenditure is not going to be in the so-called gang district. You will see it spent this year in some of the other districts. For instance, West Roxbury is well taken care of in the budget. There are over a million dollars for new streets and sewer system. Now, my only point is simply this. I agree with Mr. Heffernan when he says the skilled mechanics of the City of Boston—men receiving $5, $5.25 and $5.50 a day—should be taken care of. I believe that the women who scrub on their knees in the Park Department and the Public Buildings Department should have an increase in their pay. They suffer from increases in rent, and they deserve to be well treated, and I believe if the Mayor is sincere he will see that those women are taken care of also. But when you talk about the men who are lining the corridors, men looking for work, it will be the same four years from now. I will say that I never knew a time when municipal affairs were so low or when a mayor of Boston would stoop so low as to discharge a solitary girl, as Mayor Nichols did last week. I don't know whether he did it because her name was Foley or not, but I know he did it, and I am against the budget in its present form.

Coun. DOWD said later:

Mr. President, I rise to retract the statement which was made earlier in the afternoon by myself with reference to a certain young lady discharged by the Mayor. She was afterwards reinstated, and I desire to offer my apology for the statement that she was discharged.

Coun. Gilbody's motion to amend Coun. Parkman's motion to recommit, by referring the matter to the Executive Committee, was declared lost. Coun. Guild doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

Coun. Gilbody's amendment to refer to the Executive Committee was rejected, yeas 8, nays 13:

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Dowd, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, Parkman—8.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Donovan, Dowling, Englert, Green, Guild, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—13.

Coun. Parkman's motion to recommit to the Committee on Appropriations was declared lost. Coun. Heffernan, doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion to recommit was lost, yeas 8, nays 13:

Yeas—Coun. Dowd, Freeley, Gilbody, Guild, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, Parkman—8.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowling, Englert, Green, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—13.

On motion of Coun. DOWD, a recess was taken at 3.31 p. m. subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber at 4 p. m. and were called to order by Chairman Dowling.

Chairman DOWLING—The question before the Council at the present time is the passage of the appropriation bill. The Clerk will call the roll, and the members will answer as their names are called.

The budget orders were passed, yeas 13, nays 8:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowling, Englert, Green, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—13.

Nays—Coun. Dowd, Freeley, Gilbody, Guild, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, Parkman—8.

Chairman DOWLING—The orders are passed, except the items for armories, public celebrations, incidental expenses and Park Department, which require a two-thirds vote.

Coun. DONOVAN moved a reconsideration of the action on the items for armories, public celebrations, incidental expenses and Park Department, trusting that the same would prevail; declared carried.

Coun. DOWD—Do I understand that these items require a two-thirds vote for passage?

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair so understands.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. Chairman, I move that we take up the items one by one.

Chairman DOWLING—The gentleman having asked for a division, the question first comes on passage of the item for armories.

Coun. PARKMAN—On what page of the budget is that item?

Chairman DOWLING—Under public buildings, under military, Coun. Parkman. If the Council is ready for the question, the Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I would like to ask, through the Chair, if the chairman of the committee will explain what the item is and what amount was appropriated last year, as long as he is familiar with the budget?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that is somewhat embarrassing to the Chairman, because I am still trying to find out what item in public buildings we are voting upon. Prompted by the Budget Commissioner, I will state that that item, which is F-6, if I am correctly informed, covers rental of armories and rifle ranges, a matter that is covered by the statute. We vote under a statute when we vote on that appropriation. It is on page 10, F-6.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I would like further information. I would like to know what statute is referred to and what the provision is in the statute as to the amount to be appropriated by that item; I would also like to have the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations answer the other question of the councilor from Brighton, as to the amount appropriated for that item last year.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I am informed that the statute provides that cities and towns shall make provision for armories and rifle ranges, and that the amount spent last year, an eleven months year, was $17,000.

Chairman DOWLING—If that answers the question, the Clerk will call the roll.

The item for armories was passed, yeas 20, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Guild, Heffernan, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—20.

Nay—Coun. Parkman—1.

Chairman DOWLING—The question comes now on the item for Public Celebrations. The Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, this year, I understand, the amount is $60,000, and last year it was $95,000.

Coun. PARKMAN—How much the year before?

Coun. GILBODY—I would suggest that the City Messenger get the record for the year before, so that we can have the amount.

Coun. WILSON—I am informed that it was $95,000 last year and about $85,000 the previous year. This year it is $60,000.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations what it was the last year of Mayor Peters' administration?

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the gentleman flatters me, but I will get the information presently.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I would like to inquire, with your permission, of the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, what public celebrations the committee proposes to have the $60,000 spent on?

Chairman DOWLING—The customary items, covering all the usual celebrations.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. Chairman, in response to Coun. Guild's inquiry, the money, if there is enough will be spent for March 17, June 17, Dorchester Day, which I believe is July 9, July 4, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Christmas and New Year's, and May 30.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, may I ask who is the Director of Public Celebrations?

Chairman DOWLING—The question comes on the passage of the item for Public Celebrations.

The item for Public Celebrations was passed, yeas 18, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowling, Englert, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—18.

Nays—Coun. Dowd, Guild, Parkman—3.

Chairman DOWLING—The question now comes on the passage of the item for Incidental Expenses.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I don't find the item that we are now proposing to vote upon.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, the present item, I believe, is incidental expenses. It appears on page 8, under Mayor's Office Expenses, G-3, $20,000, and I am informed that that includes the entertainment of guests, all incidental expenses in the Mayor's office, including inauguration ceremonies, and that last year it was in excess of $22,000.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair will also state that that amount includes incidental expenses of the City Council.

The item for Incidental Expenses was passed, yeas 20, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—20.

Nay—Coun. Guild—1.

The question came on the passage of the item for Park Department.

Coun. KEENE—Mr. President, I would suggest that the chairman of the committee name the amount.

Coun. WILSON—Park Department starts at the bottom of page 8 and carries over to page 9, and the amount is $1,589,999.53 whereas last year it was $1,388,000.

The item for Park Department was passed, yeas 18, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—18.

Nays—Coun. Guild, Heffernan, Parkman—3.

Coun. WILSON moved reconsideration of the action taken on the budget, hoping the same would not prevail. Lost.

Coun. Heffernan doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion to reconsider was lost, yeas 8, nays 12:

Yeas—Coun. Dowd, Freeley, Gilbody, Guild, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, Parkman—8.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowling, Englert, Green, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—12.

CONSTABLE'S BOND.

The constable's bond of Mark S. Kelliher, was received and approved.

EXECUTIVE REPORTS.

Coun. DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Reports on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement,—that leave be granted as follows, viz:

Ruth I. Byrne, Hotel Somerset, May 1.

Lulu C. Philbrook, Jordan Hall, May 4.

Maria Paparello, Jordan Hall, April 28.

Report accepted; permits granted on usual conditions.

OLD SOUTH ASSOCIATION MANAGERS.

Coun. KEENE offered the following:

That the Council proceed to the election of two managers of the Old South Association.

The order was passed, and the Clerk called the roll with the following result:

For Councilors Henry Parkman, Jr., and Michael J. Mahoney—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Guild, Heffernan, Keene, Lynch, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wragg—18.

Councilors Parkman and Mahoney were declared elected to the Board of Managers of the Old South Association.

SYMPATHY FOR PRESIDENT COOLIDGE.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Whereas, God, in his infinite mercy has seen fit to take unto Himself the venerable and beloved father of the President of the United States, whose lovable character endeared him to the citizens of our country, and whose declining years were a striking example of the beautiful old age of a life well lived.

Resolved, That the Boston City Council extends to the President of the United States its heartfelt sympathy and condolence in his hour of bereavement.

Passed by a unanimous rising vote.

PARKING SPACE NEAR COMMONWEALTH PIER.

Coun. ARNOLD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested through his Honor the Mayor to investigate and report upon the advisability of acquiring from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts certain land belonging to said Commonwealth of Massachusetts on Summer street, extension near the Commonwealth Pier viaduct to be made available and to be used for the purpose of passing automobiles.

The question came on suspending the rule and passing the order.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, much has been said by many people throughout the city in regard to the parking of automobiles in the city. We have on the calendar, and it has been there since almost the beginning of the year, a resolution that has been tabled, and I hope the Council will take it up and pass it. But I want to have the Council take more than a passing interest in it. As long ago as the time when John Cole was Commissioner of Public Works, he had in his mind a proposition to make this property available to the city for the parking of automobiles. The project died with him. I propose, Mr. President, to revive this proposition this afternoon, and through our organized department of streets, the Street Commissioners, I hope to get some information which will be favorable to the project. If this place, sir, should be available, I will vote for the first bus line I have voted for during my membership in this body, that will carry for five cents automobilists from that parking space to the center of our city. If this order prevails, Mr. President, I shall then move to take from the table No. 8 on the calendar, so that we may dispose of it in proper manner.

On motion of Coun. GUILD, Coun. Arnold's order was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

BRANCH PUBLIC LIBRARY, WARD 18.

Coun. WRAGG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested through his Honor the Mayor to erect and maintain a branch public library and reading room in the vicinity of the present inadequate reading room on Blue Hill avenue, near Walk Hill street, Mattapan, Ward 18.

The question came on the suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ROPING OFF STREETS FOR ROAD RACE.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be and hereby is authorized to rope off the streets in the vicinity of Union Park street and Harrison avenue on April 10 for the road race held by the Cathedral Young Men's Catholic Association, the expense to be charged to the appropriation for City Council, Flags, Ropes and Stakes.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED PARKING FEE.

Coun. ARNOLD moved to take from the table No. 8 on the calendar, viz:

8. Resolved, That the Boston City Council go on record as opposed to the proposed parking fee to be collected from automobile owners for the privilege of parking their cars in regularly provided spaces in the City of Boston.

The motion to take from the table was declared carried. Coun. Parkman doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote.

The Council stood divided, and the motion to take from the table was lost, 6 to 7.

Coun. Arnold further doubted the vote and asked for a verification by yeas and nays.

The motion to take from the table was lost, yeas 8, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Dowd, Freeley, Guild, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, Wragg—8.

Nays—Coun. Bush, Donovan, Dowling, Englert, Green, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson—11.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. DONOVAN a general reconsideration of all action taken today was refused.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. RUBY, at 4.28 p. m., to meet on Monday, March 29, at 2 p. m.

Boston's valuation ($1,808,569,298) equal to more than 40 per cent of all other valuations in Mass.

Massachusetts ranks fourth in amount of Federal income tax paid, this total being $109,857,344 in year ended June 30, 1924. N. Y., Penn. and Ill. rank first, second, and third.

Total taxes assessed by Mass. (exclusive of $10,000,000 State Tax on municipalities) in year 1924, $44,068,996, divided thus: Income tax, $15,211,192; business tax on domestic corporations, $11,448,89; same on foreign corporations, $2,528,470; inheritance tax, $6,484,110; franchise tax on 252 out of 403 public-service companies making returns, $2,447,692; on insurance premiums, etc., $2,558,523; on savings bank deposits (incl. Total taxable income reported for 1923 and assessed in 1924, $467,320,201, divided thus: Business income, $268,793,704; interest and dividends, $167,053,669; gains, $29,787,328; annuities, $1,685,500.

Total distribution of income tax to Mass. cities and towns in 1924, $13,972,422 ($1,215,238 more than in 1923) of which Boston's share was $3,554,002; distribution of business, public-service, etc., taxes, $14,073,870, of which Boston received $3,110,115. This is an apparent increase of 72.2 per cent in the 10 years since 1913. The value of real estate, with improvements, amounted to $155,908,625,000, not including public, ecclesiastical and institutional property exempt from taxation, which amounted to $20,505,819,000.

The increase in money value of other classes of property is largely due to the price inflation of recent years and should not be represented as a permanent increase in the quantity of wealth.

In Massachusetts the total wealth increased 106.7 per cent or from $6,279,266,000 in 1913 to $12,980,839,000 in 1923, the latter averaging $3,243 per capita.

BRIDGE DIVISION SOON TO SUBMIT TO MAYOR NICHOLS PLANS FOR NEW CONGRESS STREET BRIDGE.

STRUCTURE TO REPLACE PRESENT ONE TO BE OF MOST UP-TO-DATE TYPE AND WILL ADD 25 FEET TO WIDTH OF

APPROACH OF CONGRESS STREET BRIDGE TO BE REPLACED BY NEW AND WIDER STRUCTURE OF BASCULE DRAW SPAN TYPE.

By act of the Legislature and within the discretion of Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, Boston is to have a new bridge over the Fort Point channel at Congress street. The Legislature passed the bill recently and this week the measure was signed by the Governor.

The bill authorizes the City of Boston to incur indebtedness for the construction of the bridge to the amount of $800,000 outside the statutory limit of indebtedness for the purpose of erecting the bridge provided the city spends 10 per cent provided within the tax limit or the sum is raised from some other source.

The Bridge Division of the Public Works Department is already at work preparing plans for the structure and these will be submitted to Mayor Nichols for his approval or disapproval when completed. As contemplated by the Bridge Division the new bridge will be a through girder structure with a bascule draw span. The bridge will be 549 feet long with girder spans of 60 feet and a draw span of 101 feet. This latter will provide a 75-foot clear channel, which will be 25 feet wider than the present channel and will comply with the new regulations of the War Department as planned for the development of the harbor.

The financing of this structure will be another of the problems which the administration will face but which, when completed, will be an added attraction and convenience for the city. The present structure has outlived its usefulness.

MAYOR NICHOLS SECURES SUS- PENSION OF MILK RATES FOR 120 DAYS.

MESSAGE FROM INTERSTATE COM-MERCE COMMISSION TELLS THAT HIS REQUEST HAS BEEN GRANTED—IS VICTORY FOR CITIZENS OF BOS-TON AS WELL AS NEW ENGLAND.

Mayor Nichols has received from the Interstate Commerce Commission a wire stating that the commission, in reply to his request for a suspension of the new higher milk schedules for 120 days, has suspended the schedules of the Boston & Maine and other railroads, and that an order to this effect will be shortly issued.

The Mayor today also submitted to the commission a bill stating that the rates now in effect represent an increase of 150 per cent of the rates prescribed by the commission in 1916, and that the proposed rates would be approximately 180 per cent of the rates prescribed in 1916, and that this further increase is proposed in the face of a large increase in milk traffic and in milk revenue since 1916.

It is also stated that the proposed increase will add to the revenue of the railroads approximately $1,000,000 annually, which sum must be paid by the consumers of milk and other dairy products in the Boston market. It is alleged in the petition that the proposed rates are unjust, unreasonable and burdensome, and in violation of the Interstate Commerce Act, and the petition asks that the case may be heard and the proposed schedules disallowed.

As required by law, copies of the petition have been sent to the following respondents: Boston & Maine Railroad, Maine Central Railroad, Grand Trunk Railway System, Rutland Railroad Company, Central Vermont Railroad, Delaware & Hudson Company, St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain Railroad, Greenwich & Johnsville Railway.

A dispatch from Washington announces the proposed rate increases on milk and cream in interstate transportation between New England points was ordered postponed by the Interstate Commerce Commission until July 30, pending hearings before the commission. The hearings will be started April 20.

GOOD FRIDAY DEVOTIONS.

Mayor Nichols has issued the following circular letter to heads of departments:

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,

LISTING OF VOTERS.

The police listing of voters in the City of Boston began upon the 1st instant.

The police officers will call at every building whether a dwelling, business house, stable, or manufacturing establishment, also every suite in every apartment building in each district to get the desired information. This information is "Your name, your age, occupation, where you lived April 1 last year, and your present residence."

Capt. John E. Driscoll of Station 5 states there will be at least 50,000 names collected in the South End. There will also be many thousands of names collected by Capt. James McDevett's men in the West End.

In the South End, the work of collecting names will not be difficult at the Franklin Square House where there are many hundreds of young women. Neither will it be difficult to get the names of those at St. Helena Home, the Homeopathic Hospital, the Y. W. C. A. and the City Hospital. Some clerk always has a list ready for the policeman who goes to the Old Men's Home on Springfield street.

The police boat squad will list the names of residents at the forts, at Deer Island, Lovells and Paddocks Islands, Fort Standish, Spectacle Island and at the light-houses. There are all-the-year persons living on the islands, among them many caretakers.

If the names are all presented Monday, the 5th instant, Commissioner Wilson and Superintendent Crowley will consider it first-class work, but at the same time, Commissioner Wilson and the different police captains desire the work to be thorough, instead of rushing matters with inaccuracies.

MAYOR NICHOLS WINS NEW FRIENDS IN WEST ROXBURY DISTRICT—PROMISES $200,000 FOR STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

ADDRESSES ENTHUSIASTIC ASSEMBLAGE OF CITIZENS ASSOCIATION MEMBERS ON PROBLEMS OF HIS ADMINISTRATION.

Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols was the guest of honor of a large assembly of members of the West Roxbury Citizens Association on the 30th ultimo, at the Robert Gould Shaw School, when he announced that he had in contemplation the expenditure of $200,000 out of the $1,000,000 to be diverted to new highways, for improvement of streets in the West Roxbury district. The announcement was received with great enthusiasm. He suggested that citizens of the district confer with President Charles G. Keene, after the appropriations have been made, to determine what streets in the district most needed repairs.

The Mayor said that he did not oppose the betterment of Ashland street and stated that he rode over that street recently and was sorry that he did so. He said, however, that River street is in much worse condition than Ashland street and that the latter is a ballroom floor compared with Medford street, Charlestown.

He said that no doubt he had made some campaign promises in West Roxbury, and what he thought was the easiest one proved the hardest, and that he would not have promised it if he had realized what a big job it was.

He was referring to the collection of ashes and garbage, and said that in the very district where he has tried hardest to remedy conditions he has received the most complaints. He said that no doubt every one present had some complaint about it, but all were patient not to mention it at the meeting, and he was sorry he had touched on the subject.

He praised Major Keene and the City Council, and said that the first act that proved it to be a good body was its selection for president. He stated that the policy of his administration was to first take care of necessities such as streets, sewers and the fire apparatus, then look after the luxuries.

He said that Boston did pretty well, considering conditions, in the removal of snow. He claimed that it didn't snow for four years, and then one day he looked out of the window and found there was snow, snow, and still more snow. When he looked for equipment to cope with the situation he said it was not to be found.

The Mayor stated that rather than take the opinion of experts on local improvements he would rather have the ideas of the people who voted for him and who were his friends when he needed friends most.

He asked the co-operation of the people in West Roxbury in managing the affairs of the city, and invited them to call on him frequently. He was loudly cheered by the gathering that crowded the hall.

President Keene spoke on the budget and told of a few items. He said that Boston has but 125 more policemen than in 1917, and that 400,000 more vehicles are registered in the state than were there at that time. He added that he found three cars from Wellesley on Charles street parking space all day, while business men who reside in that town were in this city at work, and claimed that Boston people are deprived of some privileges by outsiders monopolizing them, and that something should be done to curb this practice.

President Keene said that he, and no doubt the Mayor, realized that the city could get along without the services of many present employees, but that it takes time to find out just which employee could be dispensed with.

He stated that congestion at the City Hospital is such that the doctors have to keep a record of the patients discharged each day, so as to admit a like number. He said that beds were placed even in the corridors, and that such an appropriation as the hospital item in the budget would be impossible to cut.

Senator Gaspar G. Bacon spoke at length on the Ashland street matter, and said that he is doing his best to have a connecting link between the West Roxbury and Roslindale sections and the South Shore, and have it a good piece of roadway.

He also touched on his bill for the establishment of a beach and park at Charles river, and said that he wanted a place for children to bathe, and for mothers to bring their little ones under the shade trees.

MAYOR NICHOLS URGES FAIRNESS AND DILIGENCE IN MAKING ESTIMATES FOR TAX ASSESSMENTS.

APPEARS BEFORE FULL DEPARTMENT OF ASSESSORS AND MAKES ADDRESS, TELLING WHAT CITY NEEDS AND WHAT IS EXPECTED FROM WORKERS. VALUATION WILL CLOSELY APPROACH $2,000,000,000 IS HOPE.

Mayor Nichols addressed the employees of the Board of Assessors prior to their beginning their season's work, upon the 31st ultimo, making a vigorous and ringing speech in behalf of a fair and equitable assessment.

The entire personnel of the department was present.

Mayor Nichols stated he had the utmost confidence in the Board of Assessors and their assistants and laid stress on their duty to make assessments in the true spirit of the law, and to see to it by every legitimate means in their power that real estate be relieved of its burdens if possible by the discovery of additional personal property.

"I am convinced," the Mayor said, "that no duty in the municipal or federal service is of more importance than that relating to taxes. Your work not only means much to me, but to yourselves and to the entire community. It is the very foundation of municipal operation, for without funds the city could not transact business. It is important also in respect to the good feeling of the community and to its prosperity as well.

"There has been some talk that Boston is disproportionately assessed—that certain properties bear more than their rightful share of the taxes while other properties escape with an assessment less than their fair value. It is your duty to correct all such irregularities, if they actually exist, and I have no doubt they exist in Boston, and, in fact, in all communities.

"I realize the great task of assessing property fairly. Men are but human and judgments vary. Therefore I urge you to form estimates impartially, without fear or favor, and to make use of every reasonable means of having your own opinions confirmed by conference within your department, and by all fair and honorable outside means. The value of conference cannot be overestimated. I am convinced that you will adopt all such means in making up your opinions.

"I want to say that I have entire confidence in you and will put the high responsibilities squarely up to you. I also want to impress upon you the fact that every citizen is watching your work and will expect just and considerate treatment."

Many business men feel that the properties in the residential districts ought to be made to bear this season the burden of increases in valuations, and that, in residential sections, like Dorchester, Brighton, West Roxbury and Roxbury, single and multiple dwellings have lately been sold or mortgaged at figures sometimes double the city's assessment valuation upon the properties. The Mayor counseled the agents to make the most careful canvass of districts in which this situation is reported.

But apartment-house dwellers need have no fear of the reaction upon rentals that a readjustment of valuations might have, it is said, at City Hall. All appearances are that the housing market has changed from one in the landlord's favor to a condition more favorable to rent-payers. This is largely due to the steady volume of apartment building that has proceeded through the last three or four years. Reliable information from Dorchester, for instance, is that several hundred apartments, renting at $65 per month and over, are now idle.

Decision to make this adjustment of property valuations in the suburbs does not mean that the business section is to escape any part of the increases, however. The business section properties will be subjected to the usual close scrutiny and where increases are deemed warranted they will be made.

Newbury street properties also, it is said, will be obliged to shoulder a share of the increases. In the opinion of the assessors, this Back Bay thoroughfare is rapidly being turned over to a business basis, and this inevitably means valuation improvement. The same condition is true in Huntington and Massachusetts avenues, and in the section to the east of Columbus avenue from Park square to Dover street. Recent sales in this section tend to show that it is feeling the beneficial influences of the Park square development and the Stuart and Tremont streets widenings.

The bulk of new taxable values this year will be largely in apartment houses, although large business buildings that have lately been completed will come 100 per cent under city taxation this year.

Another fruitful source of new taxation revenue will be the suburban "great white way" districts in the suburbs—retail centers in outlying sections whose growth has been greatly stimulated by the 10-cent fare on the Boston Elevated, the assessors say.

The staff of the Boston Assessing Department comprises 115 men and women.

The task will result in an average advance of about $35,000,000, it is estimated, bringing the city's total valuation to nearly $2,000,000,000.

MAYOR NICHOLS MAKES PROMPT MOVE TOWARD CAPTURE OF MURDERERS OF POLICE OFFICER. $5,000 REWARD ORDER PRESENTED TO COUNCIL.

ATTENDS FUNERAL SERVICES OF LATE OFFICER, THEN DRAFTS ORDER WHICH COUNCIL PASSES — PUBLIC MUCH
AROUSSED OVER COLD-BLOODED KILLING — COMMIS-SIONER WILSON ANNOUNCES DEPARTMENT FORCE
ELIGIBLE FOR REWARD — FAMILY TO BE CARED FOR.

Mayor Nichols took prompt action to apprehend the person or persons responsible for the death of Frank J. Comeau, of the Fields Corner Station, on Monday when he drafted and presented to the City Council for passage an order authorizing a reward of $5,000 for the capture of the murderers. The cold-blooded and cowardly attack has aroused widespread indignation throughout the city. The Mayor took this action after he had attended the funeral services of the late officer on Monday. Added incentive looking to the capture of the murderers was given when Police Commissioner Herbert E. Wilson announced in general orders on April 1 that members of the police force would be eligible for the reward. The announcement also appealed to the department to leave no effort untried to make the capture.

The Mayor said the killing of Patrolman Comeau was of conspicuous atrocity and open defiance of the forces of the law. Every effort should be made to apprehend the gunmen, he declared. The Mayor said the reward will be offered not merely to stimulate the search for the criminal, but to strengthen the support of the authorities by the public.

His order reads:

"Ordered, That the Police Commissioner of Boston, under the direction of the Mayor, be authorized to expend an amount not exceeding $5,000 for procuring the detention and apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the death of Frank J. Comeau, late member of the Police Department of Boston, said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund."

A bill is already before the Massachusetts Legislature to appropriate $5,000 for the same purpose. This contemplated reward — $10,000 — is one of the largest rewards ever offered in a criminal case in Boston.

The City Council passed the order unanimously.

An order of Councilor Gilbody providing an annuity of $600 a year for Mrs. Comeau was also passed.

A further order of Councilor Gilbody that Corporation Counsel Deland confer with Police Commissioner Wilson to determine if any portion of the Police Strike Fund of 1919, can be paid to Mrs. Comeau was also passed.

A monster benefit for the widow and two children will be held at the Boston Arena, Thursday evening, April 8. All the leading theaters will co-operate by presenting acts from their programs.

Representative Bernard P. Casey is chairman of the committee and James T. Hartin is secretary. James J. Lyons will have charge of the fund to be sent to the Fields Corner Branch of the First National Bank. Coun. George E. Curran of the Governor's Council is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Richard Tobin of the Mayor's Office is chairman of the publicity committee and Michael J. Curran, formerly police officer of Station 6, South Boston, who was wounded two years ago, is chairman of the ticket committee.

Mayor Nichols attended the solemn high mass of requiem, celebrated at St. Ann's Church, Neponset, upon the 29th ultimo and which was attended by thousands, many of whom were forced to find standing room upon the church steps, and the sidewalk adjacent.

The services were most impressive, with an honor guard of police and the various contingents representing the military orders that Patrolman Comeau belonged to. The funeral cortege left the Comeau home, at 15 Bowman street, headed by a detail of forty-eight policemen in charge of Capt. Louis Lutz and Sergt. Thomas Kavanaugh. Following were a number of men from Post 1018, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Boston Police Post, 251, American Legion, bearing flags.

A detail of men in plain clothes from the 317th Signal Corps, the outfit Patrolman Comeau served with during the World War, followed the flag-draped casket, which was borne into the church on the shoulders of fellow officers from Station 11. The bearers included John F. Lyons, Daniel J. Donovan, Francis P. Maguire, John C. Malone, John Flaherty and Samuel J. Grimes.

The solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Patrick Scannell, with Rev. J. P. Hennessey as deacon and Rev. Francis P. Foley, subdeacon. Rev. John Harrigan, pastor of St. Ambrose Church, Fields Corner, in the vicinity where the patrolman was shot, and Rev. Joseph P. Murphy, Rev. Father Harrigan's assistant, were within the altar rail. John Dewire was master of ceremonies, Joseph Kerrigan and John Leary acolytes, and John Norton was thurifer.

Heller's Mass was sung by the church choir, under the direction of George Hurley, and augmented by Miss Sarah Lynch, Marguerite Casey, Mrs. Edward Connor and Miss Marion Mulhall. During the offertory they sang "Pie Jesu."

The firing squad at the grave comprised William Hayes, in charge; Roland Reid, John Leserro, A. Feurrell, Arthur Pelletier, J. Peralli, H. Bailey, W. Owen and John Stabinsky. The color guard consisted of George Carey of Station 13 and Daniel Galvin of Station 10, and taps was sounded by Cecil Lewis of the traffic squad.

Interment took place at the New Calvary Cemetery, and Rev. Fr. Scannell said the prayers at the grave.

As the funeral cortege passed the Fields Corner Police Station the force stationed at the division was on the sidewalk in front of the station, standing at attention.

Governor Fuller, Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson and Supt. Michael H. Crowley attended the services and headed the policemen lined up in front of the station during the passing of the cortege.

Judge Churchill, on hearing that the funeral procession was about to reach the Dorchester District Court building, ordered a 15-minute recess, until the cortege passed. The Judge and court officials stood with the police.

Business at Fields Corner was suspended while the funeral procession was passing.

THE CITY TAX SALES.

5,742 PARCELS IN 22 WARDS OF CITY
MADE TO COLLECT DELINQUENT TAXES.

The City of Boston has just concluded its largest real estate sale—that of 5,742 parcels, located in each of the twenty-two wards. The sales were made to insure the collection of delinquent taxes. This is an annual procedure at City Hall, authorized by law and accounted the only feasible method of clearing the collector's books year after year.

It must not be supposed that these sales, duly advertised in the City Record, attract the attendance of eager buyers who seek the opportunity to obtain attractive bargains. On the first day of the sale fifteen persons were present, and on the second day seven. They were all tax-title buyers who make it their business to deal thus in real estate year after year and who find it profitable.

But only about 40 per cent of the advertised tax titles pass to the buyers. With uncanny skill they pick out the so-called bargains, leaving the city itself to take over the remainder. The law says that the collector, after two days of a sale, may officially declare all property passed to the control of the city upon which no bid has been received. This action thus officially clears the collector of his liabilities under the law. Under such tax sales property holders have two years in which to redeem their holdings, or up to the actual time of taking the titles to the Land Court.

The reason why Boston's sale was so large this year is because for the first time 2,232 parcels of the East Boston Company, upon which tax arrearages had been registered, were offered. This property is in East Boston and embraces a very large tract of vacant marsh land. The sale thus clears up a problem that has been pressing for years and Collector William M. McMorro declares that it is a great relief.

Another interesting feature of the tax sale is that it reduces to $1,424,945 the outstanding taxes on Boston's real estate and makes the total of outstanding real, personal and poll, $2,236,224. This is regarded at City Hall as a most creditable showing. It serves to recall the fine record made by Collector McMorro during the four years he has been in office with the open door policy. In each of these four years he has broken the tax collection records, starting with a percentage of 87.043, the best figure in twenty-five years, then climbing to 91.084 in 1923, to 91.597 in 1924 and 88.948 last year.

OVERTIME ALLOWED.

CHAMBER CONCERTS AT LIBRARY.

The chamber concerts on Sunday evenings at the Public Library will be continued next season.

The response of the public during the recent concerts in February and March warrants such a course; Mrs. Frederick S. Coolidge and others stand ready to provide the means; the director of the library is equally disposed to foster them.

For the coming year, however, the plan and scope of the concerts have been materially altered. There will be seven in all; they will occur at monthly intervals; at each a different string quartet will play. Five of the seven will again be the gift of Mrs. Coolidge; the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia will provide a sixth; the Library of Congress at Washington a seventh. The schedule is already drawn, with the names of the composers whose music will be played, in parentheses:

Oct. 17—Pro Arte Quartet. (Beethoven, Jongen, Frank.)

Nov. 21—Lenox Quartet. (Brahms, Mannes, Malipiero.)

Dec. 19—Flonzaley Quartet. (Haydn, Spalding, Schumann.)

Jan. 16—San Francisco Quartet. (Mozart, Hanson, Ojai Prize-Piece.)

Feb. 13—South Mountain Quartet. (Beethoven, Smetana, Weiner.)

March 13—Curtis Quartet. (Bach, Schubert.)

April 10—London Quartet. (Beethoven, Bridge, Debussy.)

Of these quartets, the Lenox, the Flonzaley, and the London speak for themselves. The Pro Arte is the noted quartet of Brussels to play in the United States for the first time next autumn. The San Franciscans have twice visited the East with applause. Mrs. Coolidge maintains the South Mountain quartet at Pittsfield. The Curtis quartet was assembled last winter from eminent teachers at the Philadelphia school. Messrs. Flesch, Bailly and Salmond grace it.

GIFT OF TRAFFIC TOWER.

The Paine Furniture Company has presented the City of Boston a new traffic signal tower, at Boylston and Arlington streets, which was dedicated upon the 27th ultimo.

President W. L. Shearer of the Paine Furniture Company, flashed the first signal lights in the new traffic tower.

Police Commissioner Wilson received the three keys to the tower from Mr. Shearer, who said that he thought it was a credit to Boston. Commissioner Wilson replied that the gift was very much appreciated and that it would improve the traffic situation at the corner. At the conclusion of this brief ceremony Officer Frank Ham of the Back Bay traffic station put the tower in operation.

Essentially, the tower is similar to that presented to the city by Lewis E. Kirstein of Filene's recently, but due to the left hand turns at the Arlington and Boylston street corner there are more controls. There are the same number of lights on each tower, but those in the rear of the Boylston street tower are set at an angle because of the wide street.

The tower bears the inscription on its front: "Presented to the City of Boston by the Paine Furniture Company, 1926." It was designed by Gifford LeClear of Densmore, LeClear and Robbins, who gave his services and the services of his company.

TELLS OF WORK OF SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS AT ANNUAL MEETING IN WASHINGTON.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT JOHN C. BRODHEAD MAKES REPORT TO SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF WORK ACCOM- PLISHED AT MONSTER CONFERENCE.

The following is the report of John C. Brodhead, assistant superintendent of schools, on his attendance at the annual meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Society, held in Washington, D. C., February 21-25, 1926.

The consideration of the School Committee in sending me to the convention, the pleasure of travelling with the principal of the Edward Everett District and of living with him for a week, and the spring-like aspect of the always attractive capital city, already entirely free of ice and snow, radiant with sunshine and musical with the songs of birds, combined to lay a delightful foundation for an educational feast.

The Department of Superintendence has not met previously in Washington since 1908, at which time it was so small that the entire body of delegates was received and addressed by President Roosevelt in the East Room of the White House. Fortunately, considering the present size of the department, Washington has recently erected an auditorium seating six thousand and admirably adapted to convention purposes. In contrast with the arrangements at Atlantic City, where, during a recent convention, daytime audiences had to face the window wall of the hall and were entertained during the addresses by all sorts of noises in the exhibition space in the rear of the building, the Washington Auditorium provided the space for the exhibitors mainly on the ground floor, and for the general meetings, above.

Eleven radio amplifiers distributed around the building made every seat in the building a good one from a listener's point of view, unless a speaker became so wrapped up in his subject as to step away from the reading desk, in which case he practically disappeared, as far as one's ears were concerned.

One great advantage of holding a convention in Washington is the availability of the government bands. Each general session was preceded by one half hour of delightful music which seemed to have the power of attracting large audiences to early assemblies.

Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of the district schools and formerly assistant superintendent of schools in Boston, presided at the general sessions with dignity and precision. Meetings began and closed on time, and speakers were held rather rigorously to their time allotments, with general satisfaction to everyone. Mr. Ballou controlled the meetings with the aid of a gavel and block presented by Superintendent Condon of Cincinnati. These had been made by pupils of the Woodward High School of Cincinnati from a bedpost and a laboratory table—the personal property of Horace Mann in the old days of his presidency of Antioch College.

A very human note in the proceedings was struck when, at one of the general assemblies, a man craved the indulgence of the presiding officer and stated to the audience that in recognition of Mr. Ballou's just and kindly treatment of his colored teachers, they had dedicated to him the second issue of their monthly periodical and desired the permission of circulating copies of the same among the audience. The printed program was supplemented by the issuance, daily, of a single-leaf bulletin, bringing all changes of program and notices up to date.

New England was well represented. Its superintendents had a long, special train to the convention and there were three hundred representatives of New England at a protracted dinner one evening. Our State Commissioner of Education, Payson Smith, played a prominent part, being chairman of the committee on resolutions and being appointed by Mr. Ballou to the Committee on the Study of Business Management in the Schools, which committee includes in its membership Messrs. Hoover and Work, cabinet officers; and is to spend $50,000 in its study during the next few years. Miss Mary McSkimmon of Brookline, president of the New England Association, was naturally much in evidence; and our own Miss Julia E. Sullivan, master's assistant in the Lewis District, as president of the Department of Classroom Teachers, presided at a large luncheon gathering of that group. Mr. Leonard M. Patton, principal of the Edward Everett District, will probably be too modest in his report to speak of his own part in the program; but at one of the executive meetings of the department, in the auditorium before many thousand superintendents, although his time was limited, he made a very fine presentation of the Boston plan for citizenship training.

The convention being held during one of the vacation periods of the Boston schools, there was doubtless a large number of our teachers and principals in Washington "on their own."

There was the usual impossible number of meetings and the writer confesses that he yielded to temptation and "cut" some which he might have attended. He can claim a score of only ten meetings listed as educational; but he wishes to be credited with attendance at one afternoon meeting of the National House of Representatives and one of the Senate, during which sessions the famous tax bill, as it came from the conferees, was adopted by Congress. It was felt that this experience was equally as valuable as some of the meetings which were attended. The fact that the measure under discussion was not being settled upon party lines gave a feeling of pride; but a conviction remained that if any two of hundreds of Boston teachers, who could be mentioned, had presided over the House and Senate respectively for a reasonable length of time, the procedure in those chambers would have been more business-like and decorous.

No comment need be made here upon the President's new presentation of the character of the Father of His Country with emphasis upon him as an educator, as all probably heard it over the radio or have read it.

The convention was favored with an address on "Education as a National Asset" by Secretary Hoover. The distinctly friendly note toward education made a deep impression. After stating that one quarter of the population is engaged in what he calls a "gainful occupation" (education), he protested that education could not solve all problems but it should train the minds of youth to understand the problems of life and to make wise decisions. It could stimulate ambition and train character. He pointed out that what is put into the spirit is more important than what is put into the mind. He commented upon the infrequency of cases where teachers figure in sensational headlines, and stated that teachers were willing to continue teaching although underpaid because they chose to "live more abundantly." He confessed that, although he was president of a national child health organization, which had just presented from the platform a plea for the co-operation of superintendents in carrying out its plans, he was opposed to the constant intrusion upon school programs of special propagandists.

Right here is a good place for the statement that the convention was honored with a short address from another secretary of the President's cabinet in the person of Secretary Wilbur of the Navy, for whom a general program was interrupted so that a plea might be made for the co-operation of the superintendents in raising funds for "Old Ironsides."

In addition to the Department of Superintendence, with all its subsidiaries, there were held, preceding its session, meetings of the National Society for Vocational Guidance and of the National Safety Council. In one meeting of the latter association, Director Rugg of Teachers College stated that all the necessities of education for modern life should be regrouped under the new heads of (a) social contacts, (b) physical contacts, (c) personal contacts, and (d) art contacts; that safety education is not a subject but is simply one of the factors forcing the movement of the adaptation of curricula to the life of today.

In the mind of the writer, the two big topics of the convention were character training and the changing curriculum; and they were, of course, in the discussions, frequently closely related. Health education ran a close third. The following points made by various speakers made strong impressions.

United States Commissioner of Education, John J. Tigert: "The objectives of education are health, culture, foundation for efficiency in self sustenance, and character; the latter because 'sharp instruments need to be sterilized.'" He emphasized the love of knowledge as against mere learning; the love of industry as against simply being industrious; the love of purity as against merely being pure, etc., and described worthy citizenship as an educational rainbow composed of the four mentioned objectives.

Miss Patty Hill of Teachers College, New York City, made the distinction, in kindergarten work, between instruction in reading which she deprecated and preparation for reading which she commended.

Miss McSkimmon plead for financial recognition of our best teachers without the necessity of their promotion out of the classroom, closing her address with a plea for "the lamp of knowledge lit with the flame of God."

Superintendent Corson of Newark, N. J., opposed the tendency to form larger school units; and emphasized the value to pupils of work with tangible materials which work should no longer be considered incidental or special.

Assistant Superintendent Bogan of Chicago, Ill., formerly principal of one of the largest technical high schools in that city, speaking on the subject "Is the High School Part of the Public School System?" enunciated the principle that in a well-graded course of instruction each grade should show the same percentage of failures; whereas at present the percentage of failures in elementary schools is about 9 per cent while in high schools it varies from 16 per cent to 25 per cent. He regretted the lack of conservation, in high school, of elementary achievements, winding up by stating that the achievements of the elementary school were like the stalagmites in a cave, that those of the high school were comparable to the stalactites, that they were out of plumb with each other, and that what was needed in education was a "plumber to wipe the joints."

Superintendent Glenn of Birmingham, Ala., reported the improvement in the attendance records of teachers and pupils as a result of a one-year drive on the question of health. Much interest was aroused by his statement that two new junior high schools in his city had been named respectively after Robert E. Lee and Abraham Lincoln.

Associate Superintendent Graham of Pittsburgh, speaking on the supervision of classroom teaching in the junior high school, emphasized the necessity of having a great deal of such supervision. He felt that one period a month to each teacher was a minimum amount of such supervision in the case of a corps of sixty teachers.

Professor Davis of the University of Michigan, speaking on individual differences among junior high pupils, said that there should be little election of subjects in the seventh grade and election of from 50 per cent to 75 per cent of subjects in the ninth grade. His remark, that neither algebra nor the languages should be taught to children unless their I. Q.'s warranted it, brought forth vigorous applause. He reported that the city of Lansing, Mich., gave school credit for outside bible study. He also reported that promotion by subject was very general and that overage pupils were quite generally put under junior high school administration even if they had not finished the sixth grade, emphasizing what he stated was a fact that the junior high school should represent more nearly a mental attitude than an organization. He commented upon the wisdom of removing the prefix "extra" from the word "extra-curricula" activities.

President Suzzalo of the University of Washington, Seattle, plead for relief from special drives, including state legislation in favor of or against special subjects. He wished that teachers might realize that they have no more right to teach their own social and economic ideas than they have to teach their own political or religious ideas. Schools are not reformatories of society but only of individuals. The teacher is supposed to understand society and civilization. In addition to knowing society, he should know the child and know the technology of education. The speaker felt that a list of a few general objectives of education was not definite enough—that we really ought to have from two to three thousand definite objectives.

Dean Russell of Teachers College, New York City, felt that the two factors running alongside of and related to scientific education are changed social conditions and public opinion. He noted for the first time in history a concerted effort to form character and citizenship. He felt that the most critical years of life are those just after pupils leave school, and the earlier they leave the more critical are these years. He feels that we are too apt to act as though we had no concern in this matter.

Superintendent Wilson of Berkeley, Cal., spoke of the disadvantages of the platoon school type of organization, listing the large number of children per week per special teacher, the use of one size of desks for many grades of children, the absence of natural working conditions, and the tendency to teach subjects rather than pupils. He quoted children as speaking of platoon schools as "grand chain schools" and principals as saying that in such schools "program is the most important factor."

Superintendent Gwinn of San Francisco, speaking on higher educational and professional standards for senior high school teachers, said that there had been no increased quantitative professional demands upon these teachers in twenty years. He plead for certificates in stated majors only and traced the tendencies of three types of schools, as far as contracts are concerned, thus—the elementary school is moving toward the home; the junior high school is moving toward the city; and the senior high school is moving toward business. He deprecated the tendency of high school teachers to be piece workers and plead with them for co-operation and correlation. He stressed the desirability of vacation employment of teachers in lieu of summer courses.

Director Judd of the School of Education, Chicago, speaking on the principal as a supervisor of classroom teaching divided teachers into three groups—all negative as regards supervision. First, the group who resent supervision. They fail to understand it. The second group do not expect supervision. They are the specialists. The third group is neglected because the principals or supervisors are doing something else. Principals are prone to aggrandize administration. The principal must encourage teachers to increase their factual training, their knowledge of the learner, and help them to progress with the times. Supervision should be sympathetic and impersonal. Director Judd felt that the high school must set up a training scheme for its young teachers. He felt that it would be good notice to the public and would help a principal to hold to his schedule, if he had a notice printed on his door stating that daily, between certain hours, he would be visiting classes in his school.

The resolutions adopted by the New England Association included a service pledge to education; thanks to the President of the United States for his co-operation; an appreciative word for the citizens and workers in Washington and for the Washington model school system; the approval of provision for a department of education; a protest against the exploitation of children and against illiteracy; pleas for the protection of public lands dedicated to school uses; for rural schools; and for emphasis upon education for health and citizenship; and a carefully worded resolution in favor of freedom for teachers in schools to distinguish between truth and error.

PUBLIC LIBRARY PRESENTS NOTABLE EXHIBITION OF MANUSCRIPTS OF JOHN ADAMS, SECOND PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES.

A notable exhibition of the books and manuscripts of John Adams, second President of the United States, has been arranged at the Boston Public Library, in honor of the centenary of his death.

The whole library of the second President, a collection containing more than three thousand volumes, is in the custody of the Boston Public Library. John Adams collected books all his life, from his early schoolmaster years in Worcester to his old age in the retirement of Quincy. The largest portion of the collection he bought while on his diplomatic missions in France, Holland and England. A large number of books were presented to him by the authors. The intrinsic value of the collection is great. Though it has its limitations, it was the second largest American private library in the eighteenth century.

In books on law, government, history and social philosophy, as well as Greek and Latin philosophy and literature, the collection is specially rich. This is the library of a statesman, who was at the same time one of the ablest lawyers and one of the most learned social thinkers of his country.

The first row of cases in the exhibition room is devoted to law books such as Blackstone's "Commentaries," the large folios of Edward Coke's "Institutes," Roger Acherley's "Britannic Constitution," Jean Bodin's "Six Bookes of a Commonweale," Fortesque's "Laws of England," etc. Some of these volumes, like the "Corpus Juris Canonici" and the "Elementa Juris Civilis," contain the autographs of Jeremiah Gridley, the first mentor of John Adams in Boston.

In addition to English civil law, John Adams was also well versed in the philosophy of law. The wear and tear on his Grotius, Pufendorf, Beccaria and Ogilvie, show that he read them over and over.

Social philosophy held the next place in his interests. The works of Voltaire, Mably, Condillac, Condorcet, Helvetius, Fontenelle and La Rochefoucauld are all in his library. The Englishmen, Bolingbroke, Hutcheson, John Locke and Adam Smith, are not wanting either. Most of them are in representative editions, adorned with steel engravings.

Besides the general works and leading monographs on English history, there are folios on the history of France, Italy, Sweden and other countries. History was always near to John Adams' heart; it formed part of his preparation for his studies in social philosophy. Most valuable in this group are his Greek and Roman historians. The copies of Herodotus, Thucydides, Strabo, Xenophon, Tacitus, Sallust and Livy are shown along with his Horace, Cicero, Lucretius and Ovid. The three-volume edition of Plato's works, printed by Henry Etienne in 1578, is the rarest item in that section.

His own works are kept in one group. The two volumes of his "Defence of the Constitutions of Government of the United States," with its French translation, the "Discourses on Davila," and "Essays of Novanglus" (his pseudonym) are, naturally, in original editions. The ten-volume edition of his works, published in 1850-56, with the notes of Charles Francis Adams, includes also his autobiography, diary, and portions of his correspondence.

About twenty volumes in the collection contain substantial marginal notes. In his retirement in Quincy, John Adams read and reread his old books, jotting frequently his objections and observations on the margins.

Condorcet's "Outline of the Progress of the Human Mind" was one of the volumes which he most acutely disliked. "This book is more learned and entertaining than the Sophometer of John Stewart, the pedestrian traveler, which I received from him in England, three days ago: but not much more solid." Once his anger aroused, he is none too fastidious in the choice of his words. He calls Condorcet "wicked," "fool," "a philosophical and mathematical charlatan." Rousseau, Priestly and De Mably hardly fare better. Madame de Stael's "History of the Passions on the Happiness of the Individuals and Nations," and William Gordon's "Establishment of the Independence of the United States," are full of pungent, often querulous, but always delightful comments. In some of the books these comments run up to a total of three or four thousand words. These notes were never published. "More Books," the new monthly bulletin of the library just off the press, began in its first number their publication.

Letters and manuscripts are shown in other cases. His notes taken at the trial of the British soldiers who perpetrated the Boston Massacre, possess, besides their historical value, a deep human interest. Adams, in the face of many threats and risking his whole popularity, undertook the defense, for he thought it to be his duty. His notes contain the depositions of the witnesses, bearing the title: "Evidence of the Commotions That Evening." Side by side with the document lies a facsimile of Paul Revere's famous engraving showing a bloody event.

Two letters written to Governor Plumer, one on December 16, 1812, the other on December 4, 1814, bear on the elections in New England and the convention at Hartford. The letters abound in vigorous statements like the following:

"Do you mean to declare New England Neutral: New England Neutrality has been the Cause of the War. New England Canvass, New England Seamen, have excited British Jealousy and alarmed British Fears Britain had rather Spain, France, Holland or Russia should be neutral, than New England. Britain dreads a Neutral more than a belligerent. Canvass and Seamen are the Enemies that Britain fears more than all the Armies of Europe."

To General Lincoln he writes from Philadelphia (March 10, 1800): "When I came into office it was my determination to make as few removals as possible: Not one from personal motives; Not one from mere Party Considerations.

This Resolution I have invariably observed." The letter is about the promotion of several officers.

Two letters addressed to John Singleton Copley refer to the latter's painting, "The Death of the Earl of Chatham," presented by the artist to President Washington. Among other items shown there are the autographs of the thirteen members of John Adams' administration, including those of Thomas Jefferson, Timothy Pickering, John Marshall and others. These manuscripts (except the "Notes on the Trial") belong to the Chamberlain collection.

The exhibition will be open for two weeks.

MORE ANIMALS FOR ZOO.

Mayor Nichols has approved the recommendation of the commissioners of the Park Department for the purchase from Karl Hagenbeck of Germany for $3,525 of thirty birds and animals, including baboons, monkeys, a female llama, cranes, flamingoes, pigeons, swans and pelicans.

The Franklin Park Zoo enjoyed its most popular year in 1925 and Mayor Nichols is determined that every effort be made to make the collection distinctive and among the best in the country.

PAYMENT OF EXPENSES WAIVED.

President Charles G. Keene of the Boston City Council announced during the week that he would make no attempt to have the City of Boston reimburse him for personal expenses contracted while Acting Mayor of Boston and as representative of Mayor Nichols at many dinners, receptions, social functions and meetings, which the Mayor could not attend personally, a question of illegality having been raised by the Finance Commission.

At the present rate President Keene will have spent nearly twice or three times his $1,500 salary upon transportation. His services as the Mayor's representative coming in addition to his regular duties force him to maintain an automobile, of which his family is not able to make any use, and to keep a chauffeur, whom he must pay nearly double wages because of night and day service.

A peculiar phase of the situation is that any other city official chosen to represent the Mayor is paid for his expenses. Only city councilors face legal difficulties in collection. The ground on which the Finance Commission held up the bill for President Keene's transportation was the same on which it objected to the late Council's Chicago trip at the city's expense. The commission contended and won from the Supreme Court the opinion that the Boston charter specifically prohibits the expenditure of city funds on a councilor, except for his salary.

The provision applies in the present case, the commission believes, even though the expenses are incurred by a councilor acting at the request of the Mayor in the performance of duties connected with the functioning of the Mayor's office.

RAPID TRANSIT SERVICE.

Mayor Nichols gave express personal direction to Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, chairman of the Transit Commission, to appear before the Massachusetts Senate Ways and Means Committee to oppose a resolve extending until January 1, 1927, the time within which the Metropolitan Planning Division may make its report upon rapid transit service and the question of a Huntington avenue subway.

Colonel Sullivan directed his opposition to the part of the resolve relating to the proposed subway. Mayor Nichols, he said, felt keenly that the Transit Commission of Boston should not have been included in the study, especially in view of the interest of the City of Boston in the subject. This, said Colonel Sullivan, is the first time in history that the Transit Commission has been left out of such a study.

Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Planning Division, explained that originally there had been two resolves, but they had been combined into one. He expressed regret that the Transit Commission had been left out, and said that the Transit Commission should make a detailed study of the Huntington-avenue project.

BOSTON CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885, 1909 and 1924 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority vote of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2, providing for City Council of 9 members, was adopted by a majority of 3,894.

Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirements as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations. (6) Chap. 133, Acts of 1922, changing publication of list of City officials and employees to every second year from 1923. (7) Chap. 479, Acts of 1924, providing for biennial City elections (dating from Nov. 3, 1925); for borough or ward representation in City Council; for a fiscal year dating from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, beginning in 1926, also a municipal year dating from the first Monday in January, to begin in 1926; for election of the five members of School Committee in 1925, the candidates receiving the two largest votes to hold office four years, the other three for two years and at the election in 1927 and thereafter the term for all to be four years.

The only amendment of 1924 subject to a referendum was the alternative of Plan 1 or Plan 2 as to the City Council. At the State election on Nov. 4 Plan 2 was adopted, providing for the election by each ward in 1925 and every second year thereafter of one councillor for 2-year term.

MAYORS OF BOSTON.

In its 103 years of existence as a city Boston has had 36 elected Mayors and five ex-officio Acting Mayors. Of the 36 men who have held the office for one year or more, six were elected for other than consecutive terms and 25 were re-elected one or more times. Those born within the present limits of Boston numbered 21; in towns near Boston, 8; in neighboring New England States, 5; in Ireland, 2. The Mayor longest in office was Mayor Curley who served 4 years ending Feb., 1918 and 3 years and 11 months, ending 1925. Next in length of service was Mayor Lincoln, serving 3 years ending 1860 and 4 years ending 1866. The first Mayor Quincy had the distinction of serving through six successive one-year terms ending 1828, and Mayor Fitzgerald also served six years but in tow separated terms. Those who served 4 years were Mayors Prince, O'Brien, Matthews, (third) Quincy, Hart and Peters. Mayor Collins was in office nearly 4 years, his death occurring 3½ months before his second term expired. Those serving 3 years were Mayors Otis, Eliot, Chapman (second) Quincy, Bigelow, Shurtleff and Cobb; 2 years, Mayors Wells, Lyman, Brimmer, Seaver, Smith, Rice, Wightman, Gaston, Pierce (22 months) and Hibbard; 1 year, Mayors Phillips, Armstrong, Davis, Norcross, Green, Palmer, Martin and Curtis. Mayor Armstrong was Lieutenant-Governor and at times Acting Governor before serving as Mayor. Mayors Rice and Gaston served 3 years and 1 year (respectively) as Governor after their terms as Mayor. Mayors Collins, Curley, Fitzgerald, Peters, Pierce and Rice have represented Boston in the lower house of Congress, Mayor Peters having also served as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Ex-Mayor Curtis was appointed Police Commissioner in 1919 for term of five years but his service was terminated by his death in 1922. Ex-Mayor Quincy died in 1919, and Ex-Mayor Green in 1918. (See annual City Doc., Municipal Register, for full list of Mayors from 1822 to 1925, with place and date of birth, years of service and date of death.)

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON, 1630.

Effected by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop in the latter part of August, 1630. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY

Monday, March 29, 1926.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President
KEENE in the chair and all the members present.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE MAYOR.

The following appointments by the Mayor for the term ending April 30, 1926, were received, viz.: Joseph D. Rosenthal and Clarence E. Sharkey, to be Weighers of Coal. Frank J. Long, to be a Weigher of Goods.

Laid over for one week, under the law.

REWARD IN FRANK J. COMEAU CASE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1926.

To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit an order that the Police Commissioner of Boston, under the direction of the Mayor, be authorized to expend an amount not exceeding $5,000 for procuring the detection and apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the death of Frank J. Comeau, late member of the Police Department of Boston, said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

The slaying of Patrolman Comeau was an act of conspicuous atrocity and defiance of law, and demands that every endeavor of the public should be directed toward the capture and punishment of the criminal.

It is my belief that such action on the part of the City of Boston will not only stimulate the search for the slayer of Patrolman Comeau, but will strengthen the support and co-operation of the public with the police authorities.

I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully submitted,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner of Boston, under the direction of the Mayor, be authorized to expend an amount not exceeding $5,000 for procuring the detection and apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the death of Frank J. Comeau, late member of the Police Department of Boston, said amount to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

On motion of Coun. GILBODY, the order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FRANKLIN L. HART JITNEY VETO.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my approval, an order adopted by the City Council granting a license to Franklin L. Hart to operate jitney busses from Boston through Fitchburg to Keene, N. H.

The license sought to be obtained is one of a number which would be required by law if the petitioner received the right to operate a bus line as planned. The granting of this license by the city does not confer upon him this right, nor would similar licenses in all of the cities and towns through which he runs until after the issue of a certificate by the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth.

The development of motor transportation has been rapid, so rapid in fact that I doubt if the statutes and regulations in application to it have been sufficiently studied to fix upon the bus carrier that degree of responsibility essential for the protection and convenience of the public.

The City of Boston is vitally interested in the protection and up-building of its railroad lines. It ought not to promote any enterprise which interferes with the prosperity of such lines, until the case is much more clearly presented to us than in this way. Almost 70 per cent of the passengers of the Boston & Maine Railroad enjoy special rates, which are placed in jeopardy by competition which takes away the revenue of the railroad.

The property of the Boston & Maine Railroad between this city and Fitchburg represents an investment of nearly $13,000,000. The railroad is a substantial taxpayer. Its operation under state supervision for rates and service presents no such difficulties as must be solved before satisfactory motor bus transportation can be established.

It is my opinion that this investment stands in so conspicuous a manner for the interests of this community that we should be slow to take any step which might result in its impairment.

Nevertheless, I must say with all candor that the motor bus furnishes an extremely attractive method of travel for a considerable part of the year, and its utility is receiving more extended recognition by the railroads themselves.

A transportation line is a natural monopoly, and should be regulated and developed as such.
Competing bus transportation is clearly inconsistent with this development in this instance.
Whether it will continue to prove so with increasing travel, no man can foresee, but, in my opinion, for the present, the railroad might well undertake, by developing bus lines parallel to its own trackage, to meet the present demand for bus transportation.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

VETO OF MUNICIPAL BUILDING ORDERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 29, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I beg to return herewith, without my approval, the following orders adopted by the City Council:

(1.) $400,000 for a Municipal Building in Ward
14.
(2.) $500,000 for a Municipal Building in Ward
14.

(3.) $75,000 for the erection of a concrete stand, the erection of a new local building, the resurfacing and grading of playground, and erection of concrete and iron fences at the Randolph Street Playground.

(4.) $75,000 for the widening, grading, resurfacing, and otherwise improving Babson street, between Norfolk street in Ward 18.

(5.) $250,000 for widening, grading, resurfacing and otherwise improving Ashland street, between Washington street and Hyde Park avenue in Ward 19.

(6.) $45,000 for purchase of additional land for Rogers Park Playground, Brighton, and erection of cement bleachers, grading, etc.

I recognize elements of value in all the foregoing orders, but I feel it my duty in withholding my approval to call to your attention my inaugural address, which made allusion to the cost of municipal improvements, and the burden imposed upon the tax rate by borrowing. My address also spoke of the probability of the largest budget in the history of the city, because of the necessity of meeting demands which had not been adequately met, and placed before the people of the city a financial situation so grave as to warrant making it the sole topic of discussion.

Every effort will be made to keep the tax rate this year below $32, and the same effort will be made in ensuing years to reduce this tax rate. It cannot be reduced without the sharpest scrutiny towards expenditures. In provision for equipment, for sewers, for streets, for public buildings and for schools, these needs are already being met.
Other proposals, including the foregoing, I have thought should await further deliberation upon their respective merits so that the most meritorious might be given the first consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, may I say a word in connection with the veto messages from his Honor the Mayor, which have just been read. They meet with my full approval, because they are consistent with the attitude I have taken on these matters here in the Council.
Perhaps it is fair to say, however, that one of them affects a district in which I am fairly well known, the appropriation asked for being for the purchase of land for Rogers Park Playground.
The general public may not understand the apparent indifference of a member of the City Council who offered an order of that kind, and when a veto from his Honor the Mayor is read, appears to have nothing to say. The reason why members of the City Council—probably all of them, certainly myself—have nothing to say with reference to the veto messages is that the charter gives the Council no right to pass a matter over the Mayor's veto. I thought that statement ought to be made because a great many people who think they know a good deal about city government find out after a casual reading of the city charter that they know very little about it. I felt that I knew considerable about the provisions of the city charter, but I learned only a few minutes ago that the Council has no voice upon a veto; and I am also told, and I think reliably, that this is the only legislative body of its kind in the country which is unable to override a veto.

ADMINISTRATION OF CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Ordered, That a special committee of five members of the Boston City Council be named by the President, for the purpose of conducting a thorough examination of the administration of the Boston City Hospital, including the treatment accorded the patients, the efficiency of the employees both as to numbers and ability, and such other matters as might have a bearing upon improving the service of the institution to the citizens of Boston; and that said special committee report back to the City Council.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I believe every member has read the considerable comment in the newspapers with regard to the Boston City Hospital. Whether or not they are true, I don't know. I have been a patient in the Boston City Hospital and found that conditions there were good. But if there is any truth in the comment in the Boston newspapers, I believe the people of Boston should be enlightened. If it is a fact that there are not sufficient facilities to care for the patients who go to the City Hospital, I believe it should be the duty of such a committee as I have referred to to make such recommendations to the Mayor as will alleviate the conditions that exist.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Ordered, That a sum sufficient be appropriated from the city treasury for the erection of a bronze tablet to be placed on the new Police Headquarters building on Berkeley street, said tablet to bear the names of all members of the Boston Police Department, who, since the creation of said department, have died in the performance of their duty; and that the Police Commissioner be instructed to see that the provisions of this order are carried out.

Resolved, That the Boston City Council go on record as opposed to granting to the Board of Public Trustees any further extension of its powers over the Elevated; and that his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston to attend the hearings on this bill and protest against its passage.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REMOVAL OF ELEVATED STRUCTURES.

Coun. GREEN offered the following: Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation for the removal of the elevated structures of the Boston Elevated Railway Company substantially as provided in House Bill 1138, entitled "An Act Relative to the Purchase by the City of Boston and Conveyance by the Boston Elevated Railway Company of Elevated Structures within the Limits of said City."

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SIDEWALK ON WASHINGTON STREET, DORCHESTER.

Coun. WILSON offered the following: Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along westerly side of Washington street, from No. 755 to Armandine street, Dorchester, Ward 17, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917. Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. RUBY the Council voted at 2.16 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President KEENE at 3.25 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on resolution (referred today) relative to the removal of the elevated structures of the Boston Elevated Railway Company substantially as provided in House Bill 1138, recommending reference to the Committee on Legislative Matters. Report accepted; said reference ordered.

2. Report on order (referred today) that an annuity of $600 be allowed and paid to the widow of Frank J. Comeau, late a member of the Police Department, who died in the performance of his duty—that the same ought to pass. Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on preambles and resolution (referred today) in opposition to granting to the Board of Public Trustees any further extension of its powers over the Elevated—recommending reference of same to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

The report was accepted, and the question came on reference to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in view of the fact that if any action is taken on this matter it must be taken immediately, I am going to ask the honorable body to suspend the rule and pass the order.

The motion to suspend the rule was declared lost.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call. This matter which I have presented to the Council is with reference to the bill which proposes to pass over to the control of the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway the operation and charge of that road for thirty years more. We find during the years in which the trustees have had control of this road increases in fare with the service on the road no better than usual, and here we find a bill pending in the Legislature that will give these trustees a right to do as they please in the management of the road, having absolute control, for the next thirty years. I believe that Boston is one of the few cities in the country that has a ten-cent fare, and I believe the time has come when we should have a lower fare. There is no reason in the world why Boston should not have a seven or eight cent fare. If we pass over the control of the road to these trustees for thirty years, probably we will continue to have not only a ten-cent fare, but there will be an increase in the fare. We do not know what the next thirty years are going to bring forth. There is undoubtedly going to be a great change in transportation. We can see things headed that way every day. Petitions are continually being sent in here for right to run jitneys, and there is going to be a complete change in transportation matters in the City of Boston undoubtedly in the next four or five years. We have a petition to run a jitney from Brighton into Boston, at a charge of 25 cents. If we are starting in with that stage of affairs today, what is going to happen in the next five, ten, fifteen or twenty years? I certainly, as an individual citizen, want to protest against giving the Elevated Trustees thirty years control over the Elevated road. We in this Council represent the citizens of Boston, and it should be our duty, if it can possibly be done, to get a decrease in the amount of car fare paid by the city. I would like a roll call on the question of suspending the rule.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, as a member of the Committee on Legislative Affairs, I would ordinarily be heartily in accord with reference of this matter to that committee. But I realize the importance of prompt action upon the matter, in view of the fact that it is pending before the Legislature, and also realizing the impossibility of the Committee on Legislative Affairs in such a brief time as it would have to give the matter the consideration it deserves and the minute investigation that it should have if it is to be considered by us at all. I am, therefore, heartily in favor of the order being passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, his Honor the Mayor, in one of his messages today containing the jitney veto, has stated to us that, after all, the jitney situation is as a part of the general transportation system, a natural monopoly, and Coun. Dowd has already referred to one petition which has come in for a jitney license suggesting a 25-cent fare. It seems to me, under the circumstances, that that adds a great deal of strength to Coun. Dowd's argument that the Elevated situation should not be left in the hands of trustees for the next thirty years.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I am also a member of the Legislative Affairs Committee and I agree with Coun. Bush that the committee on a matter of this type, with the short time that we have for consideration, could not hold the hearings that it should hold if it is to arrive at any sound judgment on the question. I assume that the legislative committee at the State House is going to expedite its hearings and action upon the matter, and that we have very little time if we are going to act upon it. This body cannot go into great detail, under the circumstances, upon a matter of this type. I understand, moreover, that the present act under which the Boston Elevated Trustees are carrying on is a continuing act. If there is no action taken by the Legislature they will still continue to act as they have been doing. So there is no alternative presented at this time of either the Legislature taking immediate action along the line of continuance or having the Elevated go back to its stockholders. I feel like the other members, that this is a matter upon which we should vote today, and I think we should suspend the rule for the passage of the order. I think the average member of the body is sufficiently informed on the question to be able to make up his mind what he is going to be able to do if it is brought to a vote today.

The rule was suspended, yeas 16, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—16.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Guild, Keene, Parkman—4. The resolution was adopted.

JITNEY LICENSE GRANTED.

Coun. WRAGG, for the Special Committee on Jitney Licenses, submitted a report on the petition of the Boston Elevated Railway (referred March 15) for license to operate five motor vehicles between Summer street and Atlantic avenue and Rowe's Wharf, via Atlantic avenue, being a proposed extension to the present Copley square-South Station bus route, recommending that a license be granted.

Report accepted; license granted on the usual conditions.

GRANOLITHIC WALKS IN PARKS.

Coun. WARD offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide for the construction of granolithic walks in all the parks under their jurisdiction.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

SETTEES FOR HEATH STREET PLAYGROUND.

Coun. FREELEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish settees for the Heath Street Playground, Ward 10.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING HUNTINGTON AVENUE.

Coun. FREELEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Huntington avenue, from Brigham circle to South Huntington avenue, Ward 10, and to advise the City Council if this work can be done during the present year.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROCEDURE AGAINST UNLICENSED JITNEYS.

Coun. FREELEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to proceed against persons, firms or corporations operating jitneys in the City of Boston without licenses from the Mayor and City Council.

Coun. FREELEY—Mr. President, I had occasion on Saturday and Sunday to take a walk throughout my district, and I found that there were twenty-eight buses that went through the district, with no names on them. The district that I represent is pretty well congested, and I feel that there may be a great deal of abuse today in the running of buses in Boston without a license from the City Council and without approval of the Mayor. I therefore trust that the Mayor will have an investigation made by the Law Department.
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FIXING UP CHARLESTOWN PARKS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide for granolithic sidewalks, grassed areas, flower beds or shrubbery, planting of trees, and additional seats for women and children on the Sullivan Square park, City Square park and Winthrop Square park, all in the Charlestown district, and that the expense of same be charged to the Parkman Fund.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

FUNDS FOR FAMILY OF PATROLMAN COMEAU.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested to confer with the Police Commissioner and inform the City Council whether or not any of the money collected by the Public Safety Committee of 1919 can be used for the benefit of the family of Patrolman Frank J. Comeau, who was killed in the performance of his duty.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, for the record I would say, for the enlightenment of the body, that in 1919 a committee was formed during the police strike to raise from the public a sum of money for the defence of Boston. With the history of the committee's activities and with the expenditure of money by it, I am not sufficiently conversant to give a detailed report to this Council, but I do know that on April 12, 1923, they reported that the sum raised by public subscription amounted to $540,000 odd, which had been collected, the sum of $340,000 having been spent, and on April 12, 1923, there remained in the possession of this committee $165,000. A declaration of trust was then made containing provisions that this money should be spent for the benefit of loyal police officers, future appointees to the Police Department and their dependants, veterans of military engagements, and so forth and so on. There were a number of stipulations in that declaration of trust. The worthy gentleman who was chairman of the committee at that time, in 1923, has since passed away, and I am also aware of the fact that the treasurer has recently passed away. The status of the matter is, however, one that can readily be ascertained through the Police Commissioner, because the money was to be used according to the declaration of trust, with the approbation of the Police Commissioner. I am therefore asking that the Corporation Counsel confer with the Police Commissioner, in the event of there remaining some of this fund, with a view to perhaps having a part of it used for the benefit of the Comeau widow and her two children, and also for the relief of other such cases as have occurred in the Police Department, which might be worthy of consideration. I therefore move a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The rule was suspended and the order was passed.

CONVENIENCE STATION IN BRIGHTON.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install and maintain in the old Town Hall, Brighton, a convenience station for men and women.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ADDITIONAL LAND FOR ROGERS PARK PLAYGROUND.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the sum of $45,000 be and is hereby appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Park Department for the purchase of additional land for Rogers Park Playground, Brighton, and for the erection in said Rogers Park Playground of cement bleachers to accommodate 1,000 persons and for grading, and that to meet said expense the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, at the request of the Mayor bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, this is the same matter that was covered by one of the vetoes sent back to us by his Honor the Mayor this afternoon. But, if I understood his veto correctly, it is not the matter of merit but the question of financial difficulties that is troubling the Mayor at the present time. I understand that the policy of the present administration is to put all the money possible into the improvement of streets and also into the improvement of playgrounds in the City of Boston. In Brighton today we have several playgrounds, but there is no playground that has a seat to take care of one person. This particular playground was purchased by the city some thirty years ago, and is so narrow that, even with the fences put up by the Park Department recently, baseballs continually go outside the playground and break windows. The situation is so acute that there is no playground in Brighton today that can be used properly as a playground. I am informed by the coach of the Brighton High School that their team is at a disadvantage in playing with other teams that have decent playground facilities because they have to practice on rough ground, and are therefore at a disadvantage. I believe this is a matter that should be given attention this year, and my purpose in filing the order immediately upon receipt of the veto is that it may be on the files in the Mayor's office, so that he will have an opportunity to consider it when he is going over the things which should be done for playgrounds. I certainly hope that attention will be given to this much needed playground this year.

The order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

RECONSIDERATION.

President KEENE—Coun. McGRATH moves a reconsideration of the action taken on all matters at this meeting.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, as I have stated before in the Council, the rules of this body specifically give to each individual member the right to ask for reconsideration in writing within twenty-four hours, at any meeting. If we want to change the rules of the body, all right; but I still insist that it is the right of any member to ask within twenty-four hours for a reconsideration, which will come before the body at the next meeting, so I shall vote yes on the motion and trust that enough members of the Council will agree with me here today to carry the motion affirmatively.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, in view of the question which has been raised as to the right of individual members to reconsideration of action taken here, I would suggest that in the future, if such a motion is to be made, any man on the floor who desires to make it shall make it in person, and I rise to a point of order that there has been no such motion made by anybody in the body.

President KEENE—The Chair withdraws the motion.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I move a general reconsideration of the action taken on all matters voted upon at this meeting, trusting that the same will not prevail.

The motion to reconsider was declared lost.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The Clerk called the roll and the motion to reconsider was lost, yeas 8, nays 12.

Yeas—Coun. Dowd, Gilbody, Guild, Lynch, Mahoney, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—8.

EVACUATION DAY CELEBRATION.

Mr. O'Hare made the following statement:

On Mar. 1, 1926, I presented an order for the closing of all day schools for the entire day on Mar. 17, 1926. I fully realize that a school day should not be taken away without sufficient cause. My reason for entire suspension of all day schools for this one year was to make a deep, lasting impression on the school children of Boston as to the significance of Evacuation Day. On this I stand. In these days when the human frailties of the Founders of our Country are emphasized and their extraordinary virtues are minimized, I think it fitting to do everything possible to re-stimulate patriotic idealism among our school children. A school holiday out of the ordinary was but part of my order and it was introduced solely to serve as a stimulus to patriotic fervor.

The Chairman read the following statement from Mr. Sullivan:

I regret that because of illness I cannot advocate personally the full holiday for the school children on the 150th anniversary of the evacuation of Boston by the British, March 17.

This event is of inspiring significance to Americans. It was a splendid victory brilliantly won on the hills of South Boston and was prophetic of ultimate Colonial victory.

Let this be a patriotic holiday for the school children to impress upon them the stirring scenes of '76.

At no time in our history was there such need of a patriotic renaissance. Witness the assault on our history by hireling historians; on our national integrity and security by pacifists and internationalists with their "peace at any price" program and their world court!

Only recently in Chicago the school authorities banned the display of the "Spirit of '76," and in Cleveland ousted military drill from the public schools.

Let our share in this coming celebration serve as a resounding refutation to the treasonous triumvirate of hireling historians, palsied pacifists, intermeddling internationalists.

FINAL WORK OF TREMONT STREET WIDENING PROJECT ABOUT TO BEGIN.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR WIDENING ARLINGTON STREET BRIDGE AT BOSTON AND ALBANY TRACKS—WHEN COMPLETED IN NOVEMBER $1,200,000 PROJECT WILL HAVE BEEN FINISHED.

TREMONT STREET BRIDGE WHICH WILL BE EXPANDED TO 75-FOOT WIDTH TO COMPLETE $1,200,000 CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM.

With the awarding of the contract for the widening of the bridge over the Boston & Albany tracks at Arlington and Tremont streets, the last job connected with the widening of Tremont street is under way. The work is expected to be completed by November 1. The widening of the bridge is likely to cost altogether a little more than $60,000, though the work of widening the structure itself has been bid in for $41,497 by the James F. Kennedy Construction Company.

V. Grande has been awarded the preliminary work of extending the abutment of the present bridge upon which the new structure is to rest. His bid was $16,576. When this work is completed the entire widening of Tremont street from Stuart to Arlington street will have cost the city $1,200,000.

WILL REPORT ON LOOP HIGHWAY.

The Committee on Metropolitan Affairs and Municipal Finance of the Massachusetts Legislature have appointed a subcommittee of eight members to study and report upon the proposed $27,000-loop highway for Boston.

The subcommittee is made up of Senator Eben S. Draper of Hopedale, chairman, Senator Charles C. Warren of Arlington, Representatives John E. Beck of Chelsea, John I. Fitzgerald, George P. Anderson, George A. Gilman, and Luke D. Mullen of Boston, and Elbridge G. Davis of Malden.

The subcommittee will hold a meeting at the State House, Monday, April 12, at 2 p. m., at which representatives of the various interests involved will be heard.

PLANS UNDER WAY TO REVISE SALARY SCHEDULE FOR CITY EMPLOYEES.

COMMITTEE OF SEVEN TO DETERMINE JUST AND EQUITABLE RATES—PUBLIC WILL BE BETTER SERVED.

A committee of seven has been appointed to make a survey of the personal service rendered to the city and to disclose the nature and duties of the various positions for the determination of just and equitable salary schedules.

There has been no definite and well-defined method of fixing compensation. Uncertainty has prevailed and it has been hard to convince employees who did not receive a salary increase that they were being justly treated. Aside from sliding scale increases in pay, such increases have been granted in an unsatisfactory manner.

After work on the current budget the Mayor felt very strongly the difficulties imposed by having arbitrarily to determine questions relating to work and wages, questions always recognized as among the most difficult at City Hall, and it is the opinion of the Mayor that the public will be far better served and that work will be expedited if the present arbitrary determination can be supplemented by more orderly procedure.

The members of the committee are: Charles J. Fox, Budget Commissioner; Charles L. Carr, Chairman Finance Commission; Joseph P. Manning, President Board of City Hospital Trustees; William P. Long, Deputy Park Commissioner; Bernard C. Kelley, Chief Clerk, Public Works Department; Wilfred J. Doyle, Assistant City Clerk and Chairman Retirement Board; Elisabeth J. Herlihy, Secretary City Planning Board.

SEEKS $20,000 FOR HOSPITAL SOCIAL SERVICE WORK.

APPEAL MADE BY THOSE INTERESTED IN SUCCESS OF WORK FOR FUNDS FOR YEAR.

The department of social service of the Boston City Hospital has issued its annual appeal for $20,000 to complete its budget for the year. This department takes up the work where the hospital leaves off and carries into the homes of the patients essential follow-up treatment that in most instances is the one thing needed to effect a cure.

In the City Hospital, where more than 60,000 persons come for treatment each year, the stream of incoming and outgoing patients is continuous. As fast as a patient is sufficiently on the road to recovery to be sent home his place is taken by one in greater need.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

FINANCE COMMISSION RENDERS REPORT ADVERSE TO PARKER HILL HOSPITAL PLAN.

SUGGESTS ABANDONMENT OF PROJECT BEGUN IN PREVIOUS ADMINISTRATION AS NOT ADVANTAGEOUS TO CITY — FAVORS WEST ROXBURY SITE — SAYS TO STOP WOULD BE COSTLY BUT LESSER EVIL.

The Finance Commission has concluded and presented to Mayor Nichols a report, a request for which had been made, on the subject of whether plans made in the previous administration for the establishment of a hospital for chronic cases of illness at Parker Hill, Roxbury, should be completed or abandoned. In the report as presented by the Finance Commission it has been recommended that the project be dropped as the less costly to the city. The report follows an investigation of the subject that has been continued over several weeks.

The Finance Commission recommendations are nine in number and include the suggestion that the Mayor begin negotiations to end the contract; that the Parker Hill site be abandoned; that the materials which the contractor can't use be used for the construction of other municipal buildings; that the infirmary at Long Island be continued with better transportation service supplied; that the West Roxbury Hospital plant be utilized and that transfers from Long Island to the new hospital be gradually undertaken.

The report follows:

BOSTON, April 3, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor.

SIR,—At the request of your Honor the Finance Commission has made an investigation to assist you in determining whether the city should proceed in establishing a new chronic hospital on the top of Parker Hill in Roxbury.

Your predecessor, in his inaugural address in 1922, set forth a plan to acquire the Elks' Hospital on Parker Hill and to transfer to it the chronic patients at Long Island. The poor were to be transferred to the hospital buildings at West Roxbury, at present used for a Veterans' Hospital by the United States Government, and the infirmary and hospital buildings at Long Island were to be abandoned. Later it was decided to expand the plan by erecting an entirely new chronic hospital on Parker Hill.

In the closing days of the last administration a contract was awarded to Thomas O'Connor & Co. for the erection of four wings of the proposed chronic hospital for the sum of $713,245. These four wings constitute only a small portion of the entire plan and without other necessary buildings cannot be operated as a hospital. The completed plan provides for the construction of ten wings, besides an administration building and a separate building containing the power house, kitchen and nurses' home. The whole undertaking when completed with wings two stories high would cost over $4,000,000,* not including the cost of equipping the buildings. The city, therefore, must determine whether it will abandon the present contract or be committed to substantially the whole undertaking.

* By estimate made for the commission. The architect testified that the cost would be over $3,000,000; the general contractor that it would be about $5,000,000.

The commission inspected the location on Parker Hill and examined the land and buildings of the West Department of the City Hospital at West Roxbury, now occupied by the United States Veterans' Hospital. The infirmary and hospital department at Long Island were visited. The commission conferred with officials, doctors and social workers, and interrogated the architect, the contractor and the subcontractors engaged upon the work. It corresponded with the superintendents of several well known metropolitan hospitals. It engaged Dr. Frederic A. Washburn, Superintendent of the Massachusetts General Hospital, to make a study of the situation. He submitted a report, a copy of which is hereto annexed. The following is a list of the persons who have assisted the commission in its investigation:

Joseph P. Manning, President of Trustees of Boston City Hospital.

James J. Minot, M. D., Trustee and Secretary, Boston Sanatorium.

Frederic A. Washburn, M. D., Superintendent, Massachusetts General Hospital.

Edmund W. Wilson, M. D., Assistant Superintendent, City Hospital.

John H. Foley, M. D., Visiting Staff, Long Island and City Hospitals.

George H. Bigelow, M. D., Health Commissioner of Massachusetts.

Louis R. Curtis, St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, Ill.

S. S. Goldwater, M. D., Director, Mt. Sinai Hospital, New York.

Joseph Dilworth, Real Estate Expert, City of Boston.

Richard J. Shaw, of O'Connell & Shaw, architects.

Thomas O'Connor and Austin O'Connor, of O'Connor & Co., general contractors.

THE INSTITUTIONS ON LONG ISLAND.

The city maintains on Long Island in Boston Harbor an infirmary for the care of the poor of Boston, and in connection therewith a hospital for chronic cases. The land at Long Island is carried on the assessors' books at the value of $945,000, and the buildings at $1,018,200, a total of $1,963,200. The plant is in good condition and, though it might be differently arranged if it were constructed at the present moment, it is reasonably well adapted for its present use.

The commission believes that it is at present well administered. The location, except for a short period in the winter, must be a delightful place for the inmates. The close connection between the infirmary and the hospital makes it possible to give adequate hospital treatment to the poor who live there. The almshouse has a capacity of 681 beds and the average population is 596. The hospital has a capacity of 449 beds and the average population, including children, is 375. When the population is at its maximum, however, the institution is pretty well filled.

One of the principal objections to this institution is the difficulty of access. It has been suggested that the friends of the inmates are deterred from visiting the hospital because of the time they have to devote to traveling. The doctors also have forcibly stated the difficulty which they have encountered in going to and from the island. Some have stated that to visit the patients they must give up at least half a day and often much more.

The commission, however, is not convinced that these objections are insurmountable. The actual trip from Eastern Avenue Wharf to the island does not consume more than half an hour. If sufficient and dependable boat service were supplied, both the visitors and the doctors could be properly accommodated. One of the difficulties has been that boats have been taken off their regular routes for junkets for the benefit of heads of departments and their friends and for members of the City Council. If this use for junkets were prohibited by ordinance and a good boat made regular and frequent trips, the island would be as accessible as any location in the suburbs. This institution is too valuable and too well adapted for its present use to be abandoned.

HOSPITAL NEEDS ON THE MAINLAND.

It has been very difficult to get statistics to show whether additional chronic hospital facilities are needed on the mainland. The doctors consulted were sure that the need existed, but could furnish no definite estimate of the demand. It was finally suggested that a basis could be established if the number of patients discharged from acute hospitals with the diagnosis that they needed care as chronic cases could be determined. The social workers of the various acute hospitals in the city volunteered to make a study of their records to ascertain these facts. They have made a written report to the commission, a copy of which is hereto annexed. The study included 724 Boston cases and showed the disposition made of each. Only 61 homes in the whole group of 724 were found to be suitable for the care of patients, although 57 other homes were classed as fairly satisfactory. It results that, of the 260 cases which the report shows are taken care of in their own homes or with relatives, about 200 are in homes which do not meet with complete approval.

In addition to this, in every acute hospital chronic patients are occupying beds which should be devoted to acute cases. The hospital authorities cannot turn them out, because they have no place to go. For many persons suffering from chronic diseases and needing continuous hospital care, there is no place except Long Island. Many of these persons refuse to be taken there, because they object to going to a hospital which in their minds is connected with a pauper institution. The consensus of opinion among the physicians and social workers consulted appears to be that if a hospital is established on the mainland it should have no connection with the pauper institution.

Taking into consideration the report of the social workers, together with the report of the Cancer Commission of Massachusetts, and the fact that there are at least seventy chronic cases now in the City Hospital, alone, the commission believes that the minimum need for additional accommodations for chronic cases is between two and three hundred patients, but that the extent of the need can only be determined when the opportunity for the care of this class of cases is offered. Any new hospital for this purpose should be upon the mainland and independent of the institution for the poor.

THE HOSPITAL PLANNED FOR PARKER HILL.

The plans for the completed institution on Parker Hill provide for ten wings, two stories high, radiating from a semicircular building, the ends of which are connected by the administration building, which forms the diameter of the semicircle. These wings, containing the wards, will provide for 600 patients, but if a third story should be added to each wing about 900 could be accommodated. The power plant, kitchens and nurses' home are to be located in a separate building in the rear of the hospital. A blueprint showing the general layout is hereto annexed. With wings of only two stories, the institution would not accommodate both the chronic patients at Long Island, for whom it was intended, and the patients shown by this report to be in need of chronic hospital care.

The responsibility for the choice of the type of building rests on the former Institutions Commissioner and not on the architects, who have made a very skillful use of a very poor site, have developed an ingenious grouping of pavilions to give the greatest amount of light and air to the wards, tied the whole group together into a complete unit, and created something rather new in hospital development. For this adaptation of the pavilion type of building they are entitled to praise.

The part of the institution included in the $713,245 contract now let contains four wings and no more, providing space for only 240 beds. There is no administration building; there is no building to supply power, light and heat. There is no kitchen, other than ward diet kitchens; no home for nurses; no place for the staff to sleep. There is no operating room and no surgical room. The entrances are in the rear. A quotation from a letter to the commission from Mr. Hollis French, President of the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, disposes of any hope that may have existed of supplying all these omissions from the Brigham plant:

On the wisdom of deciding whether or not the city should build now we are not qualified to express an opinion, but we would like to make it clear that if the city does carry out the present plans, it must be understood that they call for no administration offices, no housing for nurses, no operating suites, no kitchen or laundry services, and no light, heat and power for the wards now under contract.

It has been stated in the press from time to time that it was expected to make use of the kitchen, laundry, operating suite, and power plant of the Brigham Hospital for the service of the new chronic hospital, but I wish to make it absolutely clear that while our hospital will gladly co-operate to its fullest extent with the new hospital, it cannot undertake to furnish kitchen service, laundry service, nor could its single operating suite be counted upon, as it is now in almost continual use. The only services that this hospital could supply would be those of heat, light and power, and there is no doubt that it could fill this demand at costs lower than the city could buy or generate itself.

Thus the building of new wards by the city would also entail at a minimum the erection of additional buildings for kitchen, laundry, administration, nurses' housing, and surgical suites. The present Elks' buildings might serve temporarily for such service, but they would require so much outlay that it would, except for office and nurses' quarters, be of doubtful expediency to invest so much money.

The completed plan of the proposed new hospital would require the removal of the Elks' Hospital now owned by the city. Though the original location for the construction of the four wings under contract would necessitate the removal of only about one-half the Elks' Hospital, and though moving these wings 100 feet toward the east would leave the Elks' Hospital untouched, that building is so badly cracked, through settling, that, in the opinion of the commission, it cannot be used as any part of the new institution and the city will be obliged to construct a new hospital throughout.

The type of the hospital in this design, with its many foundations and many roofs, is expensive to build; it is expensive to administer. Doctor Washburn in his report, hereto annexed, says:

As to the type of hospital to be constructed: The pavilion hospital of the type which is now in process of construction is no longer being erected under modern metropolitan conditions. It is too expensive in the first cost and too costly of maintenance. The great number of foundations and many roofs suffice to make it much more costly to build than a many storied structure. All hospital authorities agree that the cost of maintenance of the pavilion type of hospital is much greater in proportion than that of a compact hospital with one story of wards superimposed upon another and with modern elevator service.

Dr. Winford H. Smith, director of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, in a recent letter to the commission, said:

I believe that most hospital authorities now would agree that a hospital built within the limits of a large city must be several stories high. I think no one would consider again the spreading out over large areas in one or two story buildings, unless one were building in the country where a different type of construction could be used. This hospital was originally built of pavilions, none of which were more than two stories high, and most of them contained only one ward floor for patients. We have been remodeling and enlarging the Johns Hopkins Hospital, and the old wards have been increased from two story to five story buildings. Practically all of our ward buildings will eventually be five-story buildings,—in some instances an additional story on top for operating rooms and laboratories. Our large out-patient building, pathological building and surgical building will be eight stories high, but patients are not housed in this building.

Mr. Louis R. Curtis of St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, Illinois, in a letter to the commission, after describing the new nineteen-story building of this hospital, with a capacity of 670 beds, and the reasons for selecting this type of building, said:

We estimate that we can operate for about 15 per cent less in this building than in the low buildings which we formerly occupied. We find also, that with exceptionally efficient elevator service, a great deal of time is saved for attending physicians, supervisory officers, and others who make frequent visits to different wards or departments. The transportation of patients to operating rooms and there [other?] departments, is much quicker and easier than in a wide, spread building. The same is true of the transportation of food and supplies. In fact, if we had it to do over, we would make very few changes. The sketch inclosed could probably be worked into a satisfactory plan, if the ground space is ample and if you contemplate a hospital of the old type, that is, large open wards only. It would in my opinion be expensive to operate. The general trend of hospital construction is toward relatively tall buildings.

In an article in the "Architectural Forum," entitled, "The Selection and Development of Hospital Sites," by Kendall, Taylor & Co., architects, Boston, appears the following statement:

It has not been thought necessary to consider the low, pavilion type of building so common abroad, at Vienna and other places, in which a large number of buildings of one or more stories are spread over an immense area requiring a vast original outlay and continued maintenance expense and expenditure of physical and other forces. The pavilion system has been used to an extent in this country but economy has demonstrated the advantages of multiplying stories and installing elevators with a consequent reduction in the ratio of cost per patient. Many of those built twenty years ago as one-story cottage hospitals, have long since had the roofs raised and other stories built thereunder, to the happiness of all concerned.

One of the difficulties with this plan is the great distance between the proposed location of the kitchens and the wards, and between the administration buildings and the wards. Much effort in transporting food to the patients, and on the part of the doctors in going from ward to ward, could be saved if the building were more compact and more wards could be reached by the use of an elevator. The higher storied buildings are also more economical in the use of land. Many of the great metropolitan hospitals have recently been constructed of the multi-storied type. Testimony has described hospitals having all the way from seventeen to twenty-three stories. Here in Boston, Phillips House at the Massachusetts General Hospital has some eight stories and the new building to be constructed for this hospital will have eleven stories. The commission realizes that concentration may be overdone, but it has been advised that there is no objection to buildings containing from six to eight stories.

The commission intends no criticism of the heavily endowed institutions, which can afford to adopt the sprea -out, pavilion type of hospital. Where public funds are to be used and where the demands for expansion may be great, economy of construction and maintenance must be given weighty consideration.

If a complete new hospital is to be built, the commission believes it would be wiser to adopt a plan which would lend itself to gradual development. The plan should include a well-designed administration building, with quarters for the staff; the necessary power, heating and cooking plant, and a home for nurses; then one or more well-designed ward buildings, several stories in height, could be constructed. By adding other ward buildings from time to time, the demand for future accommodations could be met.

SITE AT PARKER HILL.

The principal arguments for the site at Parker Hill are its convenient access from the center of the city, its nearness to the Medical School, its good air, and its view. It is, however, difficult of approach. Visitors would find the ascent a strenuous climb. In the severe winter storms it would be snow-bound, and the city fire apparatus would find difficulty in reaching it. If a large hospital is to be erected at an elevation, it should be on a plateau and not on a hilltop. The parcel acquired by the city for this hospital is long and narrow. Its greatest length is along Parker Hill avenue, where it slopes from the crest of the hill toward the east. Toward the south it falls off precipitously toward Fisher avenue. On this narrow, sloping lot it is difficult to erect a hospital of any size and practically impossible to expand it in any direction. Messrs. O'Connell & Shaw, the architects, in a letter to the Finance Commission, refer to the site as follows:

We believe that your hospital administrator has a task of considerable difficulty confronting him in analyzing and reporting on an institution of this size confined to such a limited area of baffling topographical nature. We, therefore, offer our services to him, through you, for what they may be worth in acquainting him with the problems and our solutions of them.

The difficulties of the situation are shown by the fact that the building containing the heating plant, nurses' home, kitchens, etc., is to serve as a retaining abutment. According to the architects' letter to the commission, the upper story of this six-story building, containing the kitchens and dining rooms, "will be approximately on the level of the basement of the main building." The unsuitability of the tract is further emphasized by the following facts.

For various reasons it was decided that it would be advisable to change the location of the four wings now under contract and to move them from the contemplated site about 100 feet toward the east. This would radically change the work to be performed under the contract. Instead of requiring a large amount of excavation, a large amount of filling would be made necessary; instead of building a 4-foot foundation, a foundation 26 feet high would become necessary.

For some unaccountable reason after it was proposed to move the building down the hill, it was proposed to place it on a plane about 8 feet higher than the original. The general contractor has informed the Finance Commission that this change would add about $114,000 to the cost of the undertaking.

It is curious that, although Dr. John H. Cunningham, Jr., has been one of the chief consultants on the plans of the hospital, he was not consulted about the site. Doctor Cunningham's present position is that, although he is insistent upon a convenient location on the mainland, he does not insist on this site. Doctor Washburn in his report refers to the site on Parker Hill as follows:

Location on top of Parker Hill—the difficult access to this location is well known. The streets are steep, it is hard for patients to approach it, it is difficult for their friends, who are apt to be elderly people, to climb the hill in order to visit them. In the winter and during and after severe snowstorms it is almost inaccessible. At such a time it would be very difficult indeed, if not impossible, for the Fire Department to reach the hospital and there are a number of wooden buildings on the hill. The contour of the land is such that it is extremely difficult to construct here a modern hospital conveniently arranged and economical of maintenance. The only feature of this location is its nearness to the Harvard Medical School and this advantage is very largely counterbalanced by the difficulties of approach to the top of the hill.

This site is unsuited for chronic patients who may be able to get out on the hospital grounds. Not only can it afford no recreation ground with turf and shade trees, but during a large part of the year it will be bleak and cold.

EXPENSE OF ABANDONING PARKER HILL.

In determining the expense in which the city would be involved if it discontinued its contract for the erection of the four wings of the hospital on Parker Hill, the commission has conferred with the general contractor and all his subcontractors. It has not tried to determine the minimum amount which the city would have to pay to extricate itself from this contract. For the purpose of this report it has accepted each contractor's claim at its full value. Where the contractor has estimated his own profits, it has accepted them, and where the contractor has given the basis of figuring his profits, the commission has estimated as directed. It has also accepted the contractor's statement of overhead expenses to date. Where the original subcontractors were supplying materials or services themselves, the commission has accepted their statements of the amount of work done and materials manufactured or procured.

Where the subcontractors have still further sublet their contracts and the final contractors could not be reached, the commission has figured the whole commitment as a loss. It has followed the advice of the Law Department in figuring the amount to which the architect will be entitled. On this basis, giving every advantage to the claimants, it finds that the maximum amount it would cost the city to terminate the contract is $276,238.86.

On the testimony before it, however, the commission is confident that the amount allowed to those to whom subcontractors have given orders can be very substantially cut. It is also satisfied on good evidence that some of the contractors have been very liberal in figuring their profits. On all the evidence the commission is of the opinion that settlements can be effected for substantially less than the above figure. The city can still further reduce the damages by taking over the materials which the contractors cannot dispose of without loss and using them for other buildings. The commission will place all this testimony at your Honor's disposal.

SUITABLE SITE FOR HOSPITAL.

It has been suggested that it would be advantageous to locate a new chronic hospital near the Boston City Hospital. A saving could thus be made by using the existing ambulance system and the operating rooms, laboratories, X-ray plant and other equipment of the City Hospital. Heat, light and power could be obtained from the power plant at the City Hospital.

On the other hand, at West Roxbury the city owns a complete set of hospital buildings. They have been put in good condition by the United States Government, which is now occupying them as a Veterans' Hospital. When the new Veterans' Hospital has been completed these buildings will be vacated and available for use by the city. With practically no expense this plant could be operated as the nucleus for a chronic hospital. It will accommodate about 200 patients.

Immediate plans should be made by the trustees of the City Hospital and the architect to expand this plant as occasion arises and to supply whatever additional administration buildings may be required. Thus the city, around a going plant, can build up modern buildings of sufficient size and height to be economical in construction and operation. This location can be conveniently reached by train and by trolley and over good roads, by automobiles. There is plenty of level land available for development and, if necessary, more can be acquired in the neighborhood. None of the difficulties of developing an efficient modern hospital on a hilltop will be encountered.

This new chronic hospital should, of course, be independent of the Long Island institution and should be under the control of the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital. A new group of patients should be admitted to it. They should be of the type who now go, in acute cases, to the City Hospital. Several physicians have testified before the commission that one of the saddest things they encounter is the patient who, having been self-supporting and independent all his life, is thrown out of work by chronic disease, who may be able to make some contributions toward his own care, but can find no hospital to take him except what he considers a pauper institution. This group of patients could be added to gradually by patients selected from Long Island. The incurables now at the island could undoubtedly remain there. In testifying before the commission Dr. John H. Cunningham, Jr., said:

Of course there are various groups, there is the incurable group, that group as I think being fairly well taken care of where they are, that is beyond redemption; but the other, very much larger group, can be brought back to usefulness and those people need all kinds of attention, that requires constant supervision.

And further, answering the question whether there is not a large group that is well taken care of at the island, he said: "Yes, I think the incurables can be put there."

After a careful study of these problems, in accordance with the request of your Honor, the Finance Commission makes the following suggestions for your consideration:

That your Honor enter into negotiations with the contractor for a termination of the contract.

That the site at Parker Hill be abandoned.

That the materials which the contractors cannot dispose of without loss be taken over, so far as possible, and used in the construction of other city buildings.

That the city continue to maintain its infirmary and hospital at Long Island.

That adequate boat service with frequent and regular trips be established between the city and Long Island.

That an ordinance be passed or other steps be taken to forbid the use of this boat for other purposes.

That the city plan for the development of a chronic hospital at the West Department in West Roxbury.

That this new hospital take in primarily the more self-reliant patients who should not be sent to Long Island.

That gradually selected cases be transferred from Long Island to the new hospital.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

HOSPITAL SOCIAL SERVICE WORK.

The endless round goes on. A large proportion of the outgoing patients still require professional care and it is at this point that the skilled social worker continues the hospital ministrations and completes the work begun by the physician or surgeon. Many times it is emergency work that is needed, or family conditions that require readjustment.

At the Boston City Hospital, from a small beginning a little more than ten years ago, the work of the department of social service has developed into an important adjunct of the hospital. It has proved its worth as a constructive force, as well as a growing factor in hospital economy. The demands upon it are almost unlimited and are constantly increasing. To continue this work successfully the department needs additional money. Contributions, large or small, may be sent to William C. Endicott, treasurer, 71 Ames building.

PUPILS FROM CITY GYMNASIA IN ANNUAL EXHIBITION.

SEVERAL THOUSAND CITIZENS ENJOY INTERESTING PROGRAM SHOWING RESULTS OF INSTRUCTION.

Several thousand citizens witnessed the annual demonstration of gymnastic exercises by massed classes from the municipal gymnasiums in the Boston Arena on Thursday night. There were many attractive features.

The entrance march of all the participants, led by their instructors, opened the exhibition and was the only mass event of the night. The specialty demonstrations which followed were girls' afternoon classes, free arm movements and Morevian dance, led by Edward J. Fisher and James J. O'Brien; women's afternoon classes, free exercises, Indian clubs and La Petite dance, led by William H. Cronin and Frank Caswell; boys' classes, athletic exercises and games, led by Fred D. Byrnes and Harry Robinson; women's evening classes, dance exercises, dumb-bell exercises and La Belle Romano dance, led by Edward W. Kohler and William M. Mullen; men's classes, free exercises, steel wands and apparatus work, led by George H. Frazer, William P. Joy and George T. Connell; women's classes, old-fashioned dances, "Pop Goes the Weasel" and "Virginia Reel," led by Maurice R. Smith. Michael Terenzio of the Paris Street Gymnasium gave an exhibition of skating on his hands with roller skates, and of tumbling, with Harry Monks as a partner.

The program was under the direction of James E. O'Reilly, acting superintendent of the Bath Division, and John A. Lane, acting physical director. NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL FEATURES AS DISCUSSED IN CONVENTION OUTLINED.

LEONARD M. PATTON, MASTER OF EDWARD EVERETT DISTRICT, TELLS OF SUPERINTENDENTS' CONVENTION AT WASHINGTON.

The following is the report of Leonard M. Patton, Master of the Edward Everett District School, on his attendance at the annual meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association at Washington, D. C., February 21 to February 25:

There were sixty-one meetings scheduled on the official program of the Department of Superintendence at the Washington convention, February 21-25, 1926. It is my purpose this afternoon to speak briefly of several subjects that were discussed at the convention instead of trying to deal exhaustively with any one subject.

I wish I were an artist and could picture the opening meeting on Monday morning, February 22. The Washington Auditorium was filled to capacity; the Inter-high School Festival Orchestra occupied the stage and played several inspiring selections. After they had quickly and quietly withdrawn, Superintendent Frank W. Ballou ushered to the platform the speakers of the morning: United States Commissioner of Education, John J. Tigert; Patty S. Hill, director of the Department of Kindergarten-First Grade Education, of Teachers College, Columbia University; Superintendent Condon of Cincinnati; Mary McSkimmon, president of the New England Association of Brookline; and Hon. Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois.

In order to reach every one of the 6,000 in the auditorium the speakers faced the microphone, that wonderful apparatus for magnifying sound. When it came Ex-Governor Lowden's turn to speak he seemed to dislike the "back-fire" of the instrument and stepped to one side. Raising his voice, he shouted, "Can you hear me better this way?" From the back of the hall and the gallery came a thundering "No!" and Mr. Lowden returned to the microphone.

Superintendent Condon in a characteristically happy speech presented Superintendent Ballou with a gavel and base made from wood that came from a table and bed that once belonged to Horace Mann. Superintendent Ballou introduced a member of the Washington Commission of the District of Columbia who gave a cordial welcome to the visiting educators. Commissioner Tigert gave an able address on the topic, "What is Elementary Education For?" Patty Hill spoke well on the "Function of the Kindergarten." Miss McSkimmon told in forceful words what characteristics an efficient elementary school principal should have, and Governor Lowden drew a somewhat gloomy picture of the "Problems of Rural Life and Rural Education."

United States Commissioner Tigert based his address on the "Cardinal Principles of Secondary Education," as outlined by the Commission on the Reorganization of Secondary Education, appointed by the New England Association in 1917. He seems to think that elementary education, as well as secondary education demands health instruction, a mastery of the fundamental processes, vocational efficiency, instruction in how to make the best use of leisure time, training in how to live happily and co-operatively in the home and in the community, and efficient character training. The commissioner spoke unusually well and seemed to carry the audience with him.

One of the most interesting addresses was by Jesse H. Newlon of Denver, Colo., on "Research in Education." He asked if we have properly evaluated the educational needs in our research work. Have we had a rich enough background on which to base our work? Haven't some of us been out in "No Man's Land"—out of contact with the rank and file—where we are not in a position to know what is going on. Should we not go into the schools, study them, and keep in contact with them during our investigations? A young man takes his Ph. D. in school administration, with little or no experience, and thinks his degree is the end of his troubles. When he enters upon his work he realizes that he has plenty of theory, but not much else. He must do one of two things—get down into the ranks and face the problems himself, or work with those who know. The college professor cannot get along without schools, nor schools without professors. We must, as schools keep in touch with the opinions of educational experts and they in turn must not get too far away from the schools.

"Neither must we overlook the contribution of the educational theorist. He develops a philosophy of education, as a result of experience and study, not in education alone, but in all subjects. Theorists, perhaps, have done more for education than research workers. The latter may have rounded out the theories, but the theorist has had the vision and breadth of view. The research worker should have a background of theory and a wide knowledge. During the next twenty-five years there will be increasing needs for research, but in itself it will not function, unless it has an adequate background. The successful research worker of the future must be a master of educational theory, a wide reader, a man of practical experience, a man with broad sympathies, and one who keeps in close contact with school and economic conditions."

F. J. Kelley of the University of Minnesota brought out very clearly the need of making a more equitable adjustment of the teaching load in secondary schools. He said that a somewhat exhaustive investigation seemed to indicate that one hour of classroom work was equivalent to two hours of laboratory work; that fifteen hours of work in mathematics about balanced twelve hours in economics and eight hours in philosophy. "Future study may change the ratio but the old plan of assigning hours regardless of the subject matter is not sound."

Mr. Kelley also spoke of the necessity of adapting subject matter to the different intelligent levels of the pupils. "Students are not all alike," said Mr. Kelley. "A common curriculum with common methods is not workable. Is it our job to teach those who want to learn and are capable of it; or, to teach what we think they ought to learn and are capable of learning in our way? The superior student needs different subject matter taught in a different way than the mediocre or inferior student. It is our business to give every student the opportunity to develop himself along his own lines to the limit of his capacity."

To my mind, Ernest Horn of the University of Iowa gave one of the most thought-provoking addresses of the convention on "Curriculum Making in Moral Education."

"Any one," said he, "who is observant will note the increased number of articles in magazines dealing with citizenship, character, manners, and morals; the prizes offered everywhere for essays on citizenship for the best all-round students in school, for those who have shown the greatest improvement in citizenship, etc.; and the increase in the number of departments in colleges dealing with ethics and character development."

"There is more interest in character development now than ever before, and there will be plenty of teaching and talking along these lines for the next five or ten years, and many courses developed. The danger here lies in trying to reach a solution of the problem by philosophical means. We must get data and go at the subject in a scientific manner. Our greatest need is facts. For example, we want to know if good results come through literature. Maybe good results do come, but do we know? Shall we say, 'Don't'? What knowledge do children have of what is the right thing to do? What is the correspondence between his knowledge and his action. How clearly are children able to define the moral issues and questions that seem simple to us?"

"Can children decide the relative merit of moral questions without teaching? What is the effect of moral stories on the minds of children? What is the significance of a crime epidemic—hold-ups and murders—in a section of the country? Can crime statistics be of use in our work?"

"Doctor Bagley says that since France has put a rather formal system of moral instruction into her schools, crime has steadily decreased. Has the moral instruction in France any relation to this decrease in crime?"

"What are the traits of a desirable citizen in a community? What particular citizen would you like to get rid of in your community? We need to do a very complete job of 'case' work with our delinquent boys and girls and make an exhaustive study of the practices that help these cases."

"Our actual knowledge," said Doctor Horn, "is very limited and only by pooling the knowledge that we have are we going to be able to help in the solution of these vital problems."

Ben B. Graham, associate superintendent of schools, Pittsburgh, Pa., spoke forcefully and intelligently on the subject "Supervision of Classroom Teaching in the Junior High School." Much of what he said will apply to elementary and high schools as well as to the Junior High School. Mr. Graham stated that there should be a very close articulation between the sixth grade and the junior high school; that in this, intelligence tests would be helpful in supplementing the estimates of the sixth grade teacher and in guiding the junior high school teacher.

He emphasized the necessity of having a program schedule worked out for the first day of school and of having supplies and apparatus on hand so that there may be no delay in an enthusiastic start. "Be ready to take advantage of the first momentum," said he.

"There should be careful supervision of beginning teachers. If a beginner can manage a class successfully, the methods may be given later, but if she cannot hold her class the principal will have a problem on his hands.

"Sometimes teachers are inclined to teach subjects instead of girls and boys. These teachers are a problem. They need careful study and tactful direction.

"Social meetings," said Mr. Graham, "as well as professional, are necessary for the best interests of the school. Groups and individual teachers should study the junior high school curriculum and relate their studies to their school work.

"The greatest value of the high school principal is in the supervision of his school. His great duty lies in classroom supervision. He must be able to submerge his personality and, at times, become a pupil. His presence must not disturb the teacher nor distract the pupils. He should have a thorough knowledge of subject matter and assignments and be able to advise definitely and with authority,—but constructively. This can't be done by a five-minute visit to a room. He must visit longer and sometimes for several days. He must have conferences and then check results. He may even have to give a demonstration lesson. While most important, this is least exercised.

"Since the first month is so taken with school organization and the placement of children, little time is allowed for supervision; there is a break again the first of January, and again in June, but in between—that is, in the second, third, and fourth months, and in the sixth, seventh and eighth months,—he should devote a large part of his time to supervision. The principal should budget his time and should give fully 50 per cent of it to supervision. He can and must delegate much responsibility but not supervision. This is something he must do himself and he must let no other duties interfere with it."

It was a pleasure to listen to Dean James E. Russell of Teachers College, Columbia University, discuss "The Scientific Movement in Education."

Among other things the dean spoke of the immense saving that had come about by the use of the budget system and better business methods. Again he touched on the modern youth. "Our children," said he, "who read everything, see everything, and whose minds are open to everything, can't be muzzled. They differ in capacities and in personalities, and we must recognize these differences in our treatment of them."

"Good citizenship," said Doctor Russell, "as a dominant aim, is a new thing in education. It is a departure from the old military form of government; and public opinion, not state laws or national laws, controls public school education.

"What is inimical to the public welfare? Who is to decide? The trend of public opinion in public education is to aid conduct by legal enactment. The ends of education, however, will never be attained by preaching about them or by passing laws regarding them. They must become part and parcel of the life of the child. Education does not end with school days. The most critical time in a child's life is when he leaves school and the earlier he leaves the more critical is the situation. In order to safeguard and guide them at this time we must get more knowledge and more accurate knowledge of what our children do outside of school hours and what they do when they leave school."

Superintendent J. M. Gwimm of San Francisco, Cal., had for his topic "Higher Educational and Professional Standards for Senior High School Teachers." Among other good things he said that the high school teacher should not be simply an expert in his department, but should be able to carry part of the general school load. He should not confine himself alone to classroom instruction, but should have a knowledge of how his subject works into the rest of the school program, the language, the grammar, writing, spelling, etc.; he should not only be responsible for the conduct of his students in his own room but should understand his responsibility in assisting the other teachers and the principal in the discipline and conduct of the building,—and beyond.

Only by such understanding and co-operation can the best results be obtained.

One of the liveliest meetings of the convention had for its subject "The Single Salary Schedule." This was really a debate, with E. E. Lewis, Superintendent of Schools of Flint, Mich., for the plan, and Russell A. Sharp of Kansas City, Mo., against it. There were other speakers, but these two stood out prominently.

Superintendent Lewis stated that there should be a single salary schedule for all classroom teachers from kindergarten to Grade XII, regardless of sex, and that this should be a basis for all other schedules; that this schedule should be based on definite principles, including age, preparation, certification, ability.

"Between the sexes," said Mr. Lewis, "wherever and whenever possible there should be no differentiation. Salaries should be based on the assumption of a schedule for men and not on the assumption that the teacher is a young thing, anticipating matrimony, living at home, and not wholly dependent upon her salary. This is too often the attitude of school boards. The teaching profession must remedy this situation. In some places, the sex differences have not been wiped out. Perhaps in two or three generations this may be done. The best procedure in the meantime is to temporize, adjust, educate and convince."

In summarizing, Mr. Lewis gave the following arguments in favor of the single salary schedule:

1. One classroom teacher is as valuable as another, everything else being equal—preparation, experience, etc.
2. Transfer can be made in the grades from kindergarten to XII without financial loss to any teacher.
3. The attitude of the teaching force towards the officers of administration is co-operative, enabling them to work with greater efficiency with the teachers.

4. A single salary schedule dignifies the position.

5. The system is easier to operate when once installed. It removes blocs and petty differences and therefore promotes unity.

6. It assures a higher maximum.

7. It is favored by high and junior high school teachers on the grounds of simple justice.

8. It eliminates a form of spoils system that now exists.

9. It forms a basis for schedules for other departments.

Russell Sharp, speaking for the negative, said: "It is impractical to pay a normal school teacher of two years' salary in the same grade.

"What is more, the revenue is not in sight to pay these salaries. Hosc says that between the two-year and the four-year normal school training this plan would mean a difference of $225. To pay the increases we must have more money. Even with more appropriations this will mean a scaling down of high school salaries rather than an increase to high school levels.

"The high schools need more men, but salaries must be high enough to get and hold men or we shall lose those we have. In 1880, 43 per cent of the high school teachers were men; in 1921, 16 per cent of the high school teachers were men. This shows the trend.

"A certain superintendent I know states that the single salary schedule does not provide money enough for the adequate payment of his teachers and that subterfuge has to be used to evade the schedule in favor of the men.

"What evidence is there," said Mr. Sharp, "that there is need of or reason for paying a grade teacher the same salary as a high school teacher, or by what scientific study can you establish the fact that an elementary teacher with a master's degree should receive $1,000 more than the normal school graduate? When we can get an adequately prepared teacher for the lower grades for a salary hundreds of dollars less than another with a degree, but no better teacher except for the letters opposite her name, how can we justify ourselves to the people who pay taxes?"

"Is this done in business? Do you mean to say that the man who digs the foundation for a clock tower, or mixes the mortar, or carries the bricks, is entitled to the same pay as the man who designs the structure or the man who lays the bricks or adjusts the delicate mechanism of the clock?"

Alma Kreusen of Denver, Colo., said that she believed the teaching service from the kindergarten to Grade XII requires equal, though not necessarily the same, qualities; that the work of the elementary teacher is tremendously responsible; that the best incentive to her is found in the recognition of her importance as shown in the single salary schedule.

"In Denver," said Miss Kreusen, "The teachers of the high and elementary schools are in one club with no class distinction. After six years of the single salary schedule, 84 per cent of the teachers are in favor of the plan. As a further result we have no longer the undue and undignified scramble for credits. It is the position and not the person that decides the salary. The single salary schedule, it is true, is more expensive, but people will pay if greater efficiency can be effected."

After the regular speakers had finished, several spoke from the floor.

A superintendent from Texas said, "We have the single salary schedule. I can see no great correlation between the M. A. degree and the efficiency of the elementary teacher. The schedule entails a great financial burden but apparently neither the people nor the teachers want to go back to the old scheme. The plan has caused harmony among the teachers."

A man from Hinsdale said, "We have had the single salary schedule for five years. It works well. We have made one innovation, however. We give a man who is married a flat $500 more than his bachelor brother."

A belligerent South Carolinian shouted out, "Are we thinking of the interests of the teachers in this discussion or of the pupils of the school? Why should we pay $5,000 for a position that calls for only $1,000."

Another speaker brought out the fact that there is a decided danger if merit does not enter into the plan. "A teacher with an A. B. or an A. M.," said he, "may get $300 or $400 more than a teacher in an adjoining room who is known to be a superior teacher getting better results, but not having a degree."

"All growth is not measured by credits and degrees. Parchment is not a sign of all knowledge and power. Study, when taken, should be connected in some way with school work, and advance should in some way be based on merit."

GENERAL REMARKS.

One thing that disturbed me was the generalities in which the speakers indulged. Seldom were concrete illustrations given of actual accomplishments or present field work.

Perhaps the greatest enlightenment came from actually seeing and hearing so many people we have read about. In some instances we were sadly disillusioned; again, unexpectedly inspired.

Without doubt the convention is worth while. It gathers together some of the foremost thinkers and doers in the country; it centers the attention of all the people for a brief period on education; it gives leaders an opportunity to compare notes and get their bearings; it stimulates thought and tends to get men out of old ruts; it tends to create good will among the people of our country.

I esteem it a great privilege to have been chosen to represent the Boston principals this year at Washington, and I take this occasion to express my appreciation to the superintendent and the School Committee for their courtesy in granting me such an opportunity for educational betterment.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 8 the Mayor approved a contract with the Dewell Company for listing and mailing personal assessment statements. A communication from Edward F. Kelly of the Assessing Department was as follows:

Boston, April 5, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with the Dewell Company, in the preparation of an alphabetical arrangement of the personal assessments and sending out of approximately 85,000 statements with notices, and sealing and mailing the same.

In order to complete this work in the shortest possible time and to have the notices sent out while the assorting and arranging of the two sets of cards is going on, it is desirable that it be given to the Dewell Company, who have had experience on this kind of work and, in the opinion of this Board, can do it in the most expeditious and efficient manner.

The smaller part of the work is sending out the notices, the sorting and arranging of the list requiring experience and care, and should be done at the same time that the notices are being prepared. The Dewell Company will agree to complete these lists and deliver the notices not later than three weeks from the date of starting. It should be finished as soon as possible, as the time for filing lists expires May 15.

Because of the fact that they have agreed to do the work in this time and, in our opinion, are competent to complete the contract as required,—having done similar work for the Commonwealth and other cities, and having an available trained staff—we request your permission to award this contract without advertising, at a cost not exceeding $1,300, divided up approximately as follows:

Sorting into complete alphabetical order 7,000 cards at $7 per M., $490; combining above cards with another index of 60,000, clipping all duplicates together with the new card on top 130,000 at $2 per M, $260; addressing 85,000 envelopes to above cards, inclosing notices, sealing and mailing, at $6.50 per M, $550. Total, $1,300.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS,
EDWARD T. KELLY, Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon April 1 the Mayor approved a contract with the Central Construction Company for repairing bituminous pavements. A communication from James H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, March 30, 1926.

To the Mayor of Boston.

I respectfully request authority to award a contract to the Central Construction Company, next to the lowest bidder, for repairing bituminous pavements in any street upon which the maintenance guaranty has expired, at a cost of $99,950.

The lowest bidder has no plant, tools or equipment to successfully carry on the work, and it does not seem that it would be possible for him to secure the necessary plant within a reasonable time, as the condition of the streets is such that they require immediate attention.

The following bids were received in this office on March 23, following public advertisement:

M. F. Gaddis, $87,700; Central Construction Company, $99,950; Rowe Contracting Company, $107,950; Warren Brothers Company, $112,250.

Yours respectfully,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 2 the Mayor approved a contract with V. Grande for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from James H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, March 26, 1926.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to V. Grande, 22 Hull street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 5 the Mayor approved a contract with John J. Bird for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from James H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, April 2, 1926.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to John J. Bird, 3829 Washington street, Jamaica Plain, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon April 5 the Mayor approved contracts with the below-named contractors for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from James H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, March 25, 1926.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Your permission is respectfully requested to the award of contracts for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the following persons and corporations on the ground that these contractors are not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; and also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 2 the Mayor approved a contract with the Linscott Motor Company for one Reo sedan. A communication from Francis E. Slaterry of the Schoolhouse Department was as follows:

Boston, April 2, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners respectfully requests the approval of your Honor to the purchase, without advertising, of a five passenger Reo sedan car at a cost not to exceed $2,030, delivered, from the Linscott Motor Company, the same to be used by the commissioners.

The reason for requesting authority to contract without advertising for bids is that no advantage would result from advertising as the above concern are the sole agents for this car in this territory, therefore the price is the lowest that could be obtained.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS E. SLATTERY,
Chairman.

MARCH LABOR REPORT.

Business for the month of March, according to the figures of the Massachusetts Public Employment Office, 23 Pearl street, Boston, shows a decided improvement over February and also over March of last year. During the month, 1,561 persons were called for by employers, an increase of 435, or 39 per cent, over February, also an increase of 298, or 24 per cent, over March a year ago. The number of positions reported filled was 1,389, an increase of 375, or 37 per cent, over the previous month, and an increase of 323, or 30 per cent, over March a year ago.

During the month, 1,422 service men (894 soldiers, 528 sailors) visited the office in search of work, of which number, 153 (108 soldiers, 45 sailors) visited the office for the first time and were registered. Of these, 303 (203 soldiers, 100 sailors) were referred to employers and 221 (147 soldiers, 74 sailors) secured positions.

The attendance of applicants for employment was 25,125, an increase of 6,543, or 35 per cent, over February, but a decrease of 2,095, or 8 per cent, from March, 1925.

In the men's skilled department the metal trades were the most active, with calls for all-round machinists, repair machinists, tool and die makers, screw machine operators, and general machine hands. There were a few calls for foundry chippers, sheet metal workers and tinsmiths. The demand from the building trades was very quiet during the early part of the month but improved during the latter part, with calls for painters, carpenters, plumbers and electricians. The demand from the printing trades was erratic. There was a slight improvement during the last week and a number of positions for compositors, pressmen (cylinder and job) and feeders were filled. The steam trade demand was very quiet, with one or two orders daily for engineers and firemen which were easily filled. The general trades called for boot and shoe workers, factory hands and rubber mill workers.

In the men's unskilled department, business picked up considerably and general business increased. The demand for culinary workers in hotels and restaurants also improved. The demand for laborers on general construction was very light as was also the call for farm hands.

Boys for errands, office and factory work continued in fair demand, with an over-supply of applicants looking for positions.

Business in the women's departments shows improvement. The demand for factory work is fair, as is also the call for power stitchers. The demand from the hotels, restaurants and state institutions for help continues quiet. Housework girls are scarce. While the demand for day workers in homes and offices has been good, the demand does not begin to meet the supply.

The number of people called for by employers was 1,561 as compared with 1,263 in 1925; 1,218 in 1924; 1,886 in 1923; 1,490 in 1922 and 1,444 in 1921.

The number of positions reported filled was 1,389 as compared with 1,066 in 1925; 1,032 in 1924; 1,389 in 1923; 1,248 in 1922 and 1,026 in 1921.

HEAVY TRUCKS BARRED UPON PERKINS STREET.

The Board of Street Commissioners have issued a ruling prohibiting the use of Perkins street, Jamaica Plain, by trucks of more than two and a half tons capacity.

The petitioners were Miss Ethelind Adams, 112 Perkins street, Dr. E. F. Murphy, 97 Perkins street, Dr. R. K. Noyes, 87 Moraine street, Alvin Shroeder, 94 Perkins street and F. E. Tynan, 98 Perkins street.

Two years ago, Perkins street had become so noisy that the Board of Street Commissioners granted relief in its behalf, but for one week only, the order being rescinded without a hearing or notice to the petitioners, as Miss Adams reminded the Board. Since that time the truck nuisance has increased 100 per cent and is now "intolerable." Moreover, the damage to property has been large and its valuation lowered. "We have refrained from asking for abatement of assessments, although we feel justified in so doing," Miss Adams said.

The petitioners further declared that Perkins street is not free from trucks day or night, and that "numberless" trucks pass through the street on Sundays as well. Rents are high, and as the street is entirely residential, the speakers declared that they were entitled to consideration.

PAYMENT TO WIDOW OF FRANK J. COMEAU.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, April 2, 1926.
Wilfred J. Doyle, Esquire, Assistant City Clerk, City Hall, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir,—In compliance with the order of the City Council passed March 29, 1926, requesting the Corporation Counsel to confer with the Police Commissioner and inform the City Council whether or not any of the money collected by the Public Safety Committee of 1919 can be used for the benefit of the family of Patrolman Frank J. Comeau who was killed in the performance of his duty, I am pleased to advise the City Council that the Police Commissioner has informed this department that he has already taken steps to secure a payment from this fund for the benefit of the family of Patrolman Comeau.

The Police Commissioner further informs this department that he is quite confident that a sum of money will be paid from this fund to the late patrolman's family in view of the fact that the trustees of this fund have made payments from it heretofore to the families of other police officers who were either killed or died in service.

Very truly yours,

FRANK S. DELAND,

Corporation Counsel.

Placed on file.

PROPOSED AUTHORIZATION OF ANNUITY TO COMEAU WIDOW.

Coun. GILBODY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston favors the enactment of legislation authorizing the payment of an annuity to the widow of Frank J. Comeau, late member of the Boston Police Department, who was killed in the performance of his duty.

The resolution was read a second time, under suspension of the rule, and the question came on its passage.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, speaking to the order for a moment, I will say that, while we passed one worthy order last week, there has been presented in the Senate the bill here referred to, which involves permissive legislation and will have to have the concurrence of the City Council of Boston before it can be considered by the respective committees of the Legislature. I trust, therefore, that the resolve will be passed today.

The resolution was adopted.

FINANCE REPORT.

Coun. GREEN, for the Committee on Finance, submitted a report on the message of the Mayor (referred March 15) with accompanying order, to transfer to the new central fire station $270,360.68 ($75,000 from fire station, Shawmut avenue and Tremont street, site, and $195,360.68 from fire station, Shawmut avenue and Tremont street)—that the same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on giving the order its first reading.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Finance, through you, whether the committee has had any recommendations from the Finance Commission in connection with this matter?

President KEENE—Coun. Green, will you answer the question of Coun. Dowling?

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, we had two meetings of the Committee on Finance. At one of the meetings Coun. Guild was absent in New York and at the suggestion of Coun. Gilbody we held the order in committee until Coun. Guild got back from New York. The committee then had a meeting last Thursday afternoon and we had before us the Acting Fire Commissioner, Colonel Sullivan, who went over the matter pretty thoroughly with us. Then, Mr. President, the committee waited on his Honor the Mayor. We also invited the Corporation Counsel to the committee meeting. After having talked the matter over with the Mayor, the Corporation Counsel and Colonel Sullivan, the committee decided in its wisdom to report out this order. Incidentally I may say for the information of the gentleman who has just taken his seat that Colonel Sullivan informed the committee that the city would save approximately $150,000 by the purchase of this new site known as the Barnard Memorial site on Warrenton street. He said also that there were some legal entanglements that would have to be straightened out through his Honor the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel. After talking with the Mayor and the Corporation Counsel we felt pretty certain that these legal entanglements could be straightened out and that they could go along with the building.

I may also add for the information of the Council that Coun. Gilbody was interested in a site that he said he thought was more centrally located than the site on Warrenton street, but Colonel Sullivan informed the committee that he would have to pay $60 or $70 a foot more for the land on the site that interested Coun. Gilbody, and we thought, in view of that, with the idea of saving the city that much money and of expediting matters we had better report out this order. That we have done.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, the city charter has delegated to the Finance Commission a lot of authority upon some of the things that come in here this year as in other years, things which are not debated at any great length and that sometimes pass with very little information on our part as the basis of our action. While I am willing and able at all times, and want to justify my position and my vote on all measures coming before us, I feel as though the Finance Commission which is in a position to make inquiries upon matters of this kind, ought to give the Council some information about them. I am satisfied that no member of the committee on the part of the Council has an opportunity to make investigations such as the Finance Commission can make. If we make mistakes—and we are likely to make them—we are chided, abused, and chased into court by the Finance Commission, and they certainly ought to be able and willing to assume some obligation as well as we. It is true that we do not have to accept their recommendations, but they do have the responsibility and the legal authority to deal with such matters and to give us the benefit of the information they obtain. They have a great deal of information at their disposal which, if they are functioning in a right manner, they ought to be glad to place before us. I did not hear from the Finance Commission on the appropriation bill, covering nearly $44,000,000. We had no word or recommendation from them in regard to it, were not called into conference or asked what we thought or told what they thought about this, that or the other. I voted for the appropriation bill because I had confidence in the Mayor and in the Budget Commissioner. But that was not really enough to satisfy me in my vote. I ought to have had some information from the Finance Commission. We ought to have information from that commission on matters of this sort, without having to depend absolutely on what the Executive Committee or any other committee of our body may say after a very brief examination. If the Finance Commission are going to deserve the money they receive from the city—and we have no control over that, they come in here and take $50,000 by act of the Legislature and do what they wish,—they ought to be able to help the Council. I was talking with a representative of the Finance Commission today and asked why the members of the Council had had no recommendations from that commission in regard to the appropriation bill, and I was much surprised to hear that representative of the Finance Commission say that he felt that the City Council was not interested, that the Finance Commission had made recommendations to previous councils, and that the recommendations had been thrown out the window. That is no reason for the Finance Commission falling down today. Their opinions and their information would be of interest to me and of interest to the people of my district and the whole city. We are all interested in obtaining information that will enable us to vote conscientiously on the matters that come before us; and if the Finance Commission have not the time or inclination to do this in return for the money they spend, they ought to let us know. For that reason, I move that the order lie on the table for one week.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I think the remarks of Coun. Dowling concerning the Finance Commission would have considerable more point if the order upon which the committee has reported favorably were a new order of appropriation. I would like to call the attention of the Council to the fact that this order upon which the committee has voted favorably is merely an order to transfer money already appropriated. The Finance Commission might have a great deal of interest in the original appropriation of money, but inasmuch as this order calls only for the transfer of money already appropriated I cannot see that the committee ought to go to the Finance Commission or the Finance Commission ought to come to the committee with regard to it.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, in answer to Coun. Guild I will simply say that I do not recede from my position at all. I do not think that is sufficient reason for the Finance Commission hiding its light under a bushel, if it has any light. I still think we ought to get some information from the Finance Commission upon a matter of this sort, although it is only a transfer of funds.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I don't think this Council ought to bolster up an organization like the Finance Commission. I think each one of their investigations is a one-sided story. Personally I think the Finance Commission is of no value to this city, and I hope the Council will not start out by trying to make the Finance Commission really believe that they are a functioning body of the City of Boston. In all my experience I have found the commission merely conducts a one-sided investigation, merely reports in order to attack people, never makes constructive reports. When we had the budget before us here the Finance Commission did not see fit to make a report to us upon it. If they had wanted to do some good for the City of Boston, they would have reported in advance, not coming around six months or a year later, as they always do, and attacking somebody, not attempting to have any constructive legislation whatsoever. In regard to this matter, I will say that I was a member of the committee and looked at first upon the matter with considerable suspicion. At first I was opposed to it, but after listening to the Acting Fire Commissioner I felt that it was absolutely all right. I understand that the city entered into negotiations with the Boston Elevated to purchase this particular site for $75,000. Although they have a written agreement the contract was never carried out; so if the present site is abandoned there is no loss to the city so far as money is concerned; $12,000 has been paid, I think, to an architect, and there is pending legislation for the balance of the fee, I think $6,000 more. There are two contracts for the construction of the building now made by the City of Boston, and I understand that the city is contemplating taking care of the contractors if they will do the work within proper bounds. This new site can be bought, as I understand it, for less money, and the city can save money on the construction. On the site they now have, I understand that there would be ramps running out from the building, that the apparatus would at all times have to have blocks under the wheels to keep it from going out the doors, and that, regardless of where the headquarters go, the original site was not a proper site. I understand that the question here is simply that of combining these two appropriations into one, so as to carry out a proper plan.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I want to say amen to the remarks of the speaker from Brighton, Coun. Heffernan, in regard to the Finance Commission. I certainly do not intend to delegate any of the duties I have assumed to such a body as the Finance Commission. The chairman of the Finance Committee, in making the report for the committee, possibly put me in a suspicious light, and I want to say now for purpose of the record that I had no particular site in mind. I did not have a site, Mr. President. The point I made to the Finance Committee was simply this, that it was proposed to have the central fire headquarters placed in the Back Bay. If it is to be a central headquarters, it occurred to me that we ought to have it in the central part of Boston, and I therefore favored a proposition that would involve a location in the central part of Boston, as the president knows. But I did not have any particular site in mind. In other words, I had no desire to wish onto the city any land in the City of Boston. I will confess that I had in mind the possible use of the land on Hawley place and street, which we bought some time ago for police headquarters and which it has been found impossible to sell to anybody since at the assessed value of the land. I had in mind that such big interests as Filenes, Jordan Marsh and others, on Washington street, should be near a central headquarters, instead of having such headquarters placed over in the Back Bay. That did not seem to me right. However, as I was not present at the last meeting of the committee, because of a matter very personal to me, I am willing to accept the judgment of the Acting Fire Commissioner and my fellow members of the Committee on Finance.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, for the information of the members present and of the councilor who just took his seat, let me say that, of course, everybody knows that Coun. Gilbody had no ulterior motive in the matter of selecting any particular site of his own. As chairman of the committee, let me say that I will give him a clean bill of health in that respect. I agree with the councilor who has just taken his seat in everything he said about the Finance Commission.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I don't think I have enjoyed a more interesting afternoon than this afternoon, hearing these worthy gentlemen get up and assail people who are very prominent in the public eye, members of that popular organization known as the Finance Commission. But I do agree with Coun. Heffernan that there has never been anything constructive that that organization has done or advised. I believe, like my brother councilor Dowling also, that we should have some report from the Finance Commission relative to this matter. Personally, I believe that if they reported favorably upon any matter, I might be opposed to whatever action they took; but I think the Finance Commission should make some report and advise the members in regard to this transfer.

Coun. Dowling's motion to lay on the table was declared lost.

The order was read once and passed, yeas 18; nays, Coun. Dowling—1.

Assigned for fourteen days for final action.

SIDEWALK ON BABSON STREET.

Coun. WRAGG offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Babson street, both sides, between Blue Hill avenue and Norfolk street. Ward 18, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

On motion of Coun. PARKMAN, the Council refused a general reconsideration of all action taken today.

Adjourned at 4.05 p. m., on motion of Coun. FREELEY, to meet on Monday, April 12, at 2 p. m.

WORK ON DOCK SQUARE WIDENING PROJECT SOON TO BE BEGUN WITH RAZING OF BUILDINGS.

STREET COMMISSIONERS INAUGURATE WORK AND MANY HISTORIC LANDMARKS WILL BE REMOVED OR REMODELED.

DOCK SQUARE PROPERTY WHICH WILL BE DEMOLISHED TO MAKE WAY FOR NEW STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Work will soon begin on the notable street improvement of the year which will transform Dock square as a step in the move to facilitate traffic through Boston. This has been decided upon by the Board of Street Commissioners and twenty buildings or parts of buildings in the market district will soon be falling before the onslaughts of wreckers. Among the buildings doomed are many of Boston's historic institutions.

The island in the center of Dock square containing five buildings and housing a number of markets and small stores will soon be a memory. The entire island will be removed, providing a Dock square of the proportions of Copley square.

This new development is the result of a special act passed by the Legislature authorizing the city to borrow outside of its debt limit for the widening.

In the removal of the island on Dock square Augustus Hemenway et al. lose three buildings, one of 923 square feet, one of 478 square feet and another 1,560 square feet. Moses Shapiro loses a building of 1,097 square feet and Stanley W. Warren, trustee, loses a building of 1,039 square feet.

The entrance to the market district from Adams square to Dock square will be widened about 44 feet by tearing down parts of four buildings on the north corner from Washington street to Dock square. Here Herbert M. Sears et al. lose 1,386 square feet in one parcel, 555 square feet in another and 215 square feet in another. Pauline S. Trip, trustee, loses 16 square feet in a small parcel taken in conjunction with the other three.

With this corner removed, the width of the highway entering the market district from Devonshire street and Dock square will be 111 feet.

On the south side of Dock square a large parcel is being removed, beginning at a point 10 feet from Exchange street and continuing in a straight line to a point 30 feet from Change avenue and Faneuil Hall square.

In this widening 741 square feet is sliced from the property of Anna M. Barry, 793 square feet from the property of William J. Strober, 3,908 square feet from the property of the Federal Development Company, and two pieces of 688 square feet and 687 square feet from the property of the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company.

The south side of Faneuil Hall square is widened 30 feet by removing parts of five buildings; 682 square feet is taken from the block bounded by Change avenue, Corn court and Faneuil Hall square, owned by the President and Fellows of Harvard College; 581 square feet is taken from a building owned by Moses Shapiro; 808 square feet from a building owned by John F. Cronin; 609 square feet from a building owned by William J. Strober, and 384 square feet from a building owned by the Massachusetts General Hospital. This side of Faneuil Hall square then continues to South Market street.

FIFTY-ONE NEW STREETS TO BE BUILT IN BOSTON ACCORD- ING TO PLANS.

STREET COMMISSIONERS AFTER HEAR-INGS SELECT DISTRICTS OF BRIGH-TON, WEST ROXBURY, JAMAICA
PLAIN, HYDE PARK AND DORCHESTER FOR WORK.

The extensive program, providing $1,000,000 for new street construction, resulted in formal hearings by the Board of Street Commissioners, upon the 14th and 15th instant.

The list includes fifty-one streets. The commissioners were not surprised to find that there were no opponents of any of the projects at the hearings. Groups of residents appeared to advocate acceptance and construction of each street, recounting the inconvenience which they had experienced, in some cases for years, because of the deplorable condition of the roadways.

Plans will be prepared at once so that there will be no delay in carrying forward the street construction program this year.

Twenty-two of the streets are in Brighton, twelve in the two West Roxbury and Jamaica Plain wards, four in Hyde Park, fifteen in Wards 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17, Dorchester; three in Wards 10 and 12, Roxbury, and two in the Andrew square section. Costs of laying out and construction for these streets are figured at $775,000. Left over from last year, however, there is $245,000 which is available.

The street construction program, now arranged, is as follows:

Greylock road, Brighton, from Allston street to Glenville avenue.
Maple avenue, Brighton, from Glencoe street to Dustin street.
Allston Heights, Brighton, from Cambridge street to Buckminster street.
Courtland road, Dorchester, from Harvard street to Morton street.
Hollingsworth street, Dorchester, from Oakland street to Randolph road.
Norwell street, Dorchester, extension 450 feet west and south.
Dudley avenue, West Roxbury, from Walworth street to Metcalf street.
Walworth street extension over Bellevue avenue.
Eldridge road and Nathan street, West Roxbury, from Hyde Park avenue to Patten street.
Wiltshire road, Brighton, northwesterly from Chestnut Hill avenue.
Colwell road, Brighton, from Chestnut Hill avenue to Foster street.
Waldorf street, Dorchester, from Ashmont street to Mellen street.
Regina road, Dorchester, easterly from Washington street.
Hillsdale street, Dorchester, northwesterly from Adams street.
Emmons road, West Roxbury, from Howitt road to Linnet street.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.]

SALE OF BUILDINGS.

Robert T. Fowler, Municipal Auctioneer, disposed of nine buildings in order to provide additional light for a school building upon Charter street.

The school building is the only one in the city where it has been necessary to burn electric lights during every school session because of the proximity of the buildings.

Prices were low because the buildings are so located that wreckers cannot back their trucks close to the walls. The buildings, mostly of three or four story dwellings, are located on Webster avenue, Canny place, Washington court, Oliver place and Unity terrace. The New York Building Wrecking Company was the buyer in each case.

Robert T. Fowler, Municipal Auctioneer, has sold the three and four story brick buildings in Dock square for $190, to provide for the widening of the famous historical thoroughfare.

If by May 10 the new purchasers do not raze the properties, the city will be obliged to hire wreckers at its own expense and realize whatever is possible upon the materials. Work of tearing down much of the property doomed by the widening, however, is progressing so well that auctioning of the rest of it in the vicinity of Faneuil Hall will be postponed for two weeks in the hope that it may not be necessary.

NEW RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR TAXI DRIVERS ARE PROMULGATED.

POLICE COMMISSIONER HERBERT A. WILSON AND DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT GOODE MAKE LAWS FOR SAFETY OF PUBLIC — IN EFFECT JULY 1.

Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson and Deputy Superintendent of Police Thomas F. Goode of the Police Department have established new rules and regulations for taxicabs and hackney carriages in the City of Boston. The new rules will go into effect July 1.

At the present time, according to Deputy Goode, there are in this city 1,879 regular licensed stands. Of these 1,062 are designated special stands, and all told there are 3,478 drivers of vehicles which come under the classification of hackneys and taxicabs.

Commissioner Wilson has been very liberal in the way of granting licenses for hackney services during the past year. However, for every license the applicant was first investigated by one or more of Captain Goode's staff of special officers.

Every vehicle, the police say, will be thoroughly examined to find out if it is suitable to transport passengers. This has always been the rule, but it will be more rigidly enforced after July 1.

There will be no advertisements of any description, including announcements of rate or fares displayed on the cars operated for hire, or any other matter other than the name of the owner, his address and telephone number. But a driver may have pasted on the inside of his taxi the rates. Such pasting, however, will not be allowed on the windows of the taxi or hackney.

All licensed hackney carriages must be presented for inspection at the office of the inspector of carriages at least every six months.

New applications for licenses and for permits for special stands may be filed with the Police Commissioner at any time, but applications for renewal of licenses and permits already in force shall be filed annually before January 15.

Each applicant for a driver's license must file with his application two recent photographs of himself, of a size which may be easily attached to his license. One must be attached to the license paper and the other to be filed with the inspector of carriages. And the rules read that "the photograph shall be attached to the license so that it cannot be removed and another photograph substituted without detection."

"And no person shall be licensed to be a driver or owner who is not twenty-one years of age or over, who cannot read, write and speak the English language intelligibly, or who is addicted to the use of intoxicants. The commissioner may grant licenses, the book reads, "to suitable persons for the conduct of funerals who are not residents of the City of Boston who are owners of such vehicles and whose principal business is the conveyance of persons for hire at funerals from place to place within the City of Boston, and they may set up and use them as hackney carriages within the said city.

"Every horse-drawn hackney carriage shall be provided with a lamp on each side thereof and the lamps shall be kept lighted when the vehicles are in use at night. The number of the owner's license in figures in the Arabic character of not less than one inch in length shall be placed on each lamp. It will be the duty of the police to observe the movements of hackney carriages, especially at night."

The Police Commissioner and Deputy Goode will regard as unsuited to hold a license any driver who gives directions, information or service to a man or woman seeking a place or person for immoral purposes, and it will go bad with any driver who offers such information, direction or service. Again, the rules say that the commissioner will regard as unsuitable to hold a license any driver who conveys from place to place a person who is intoxicated, even though not disorderly. A driver, however, if he has reason to believe where a drunk lives, may convey him to his home, especially if a policeman has so ordered.

When a passenger becomes noisy while riding in a taxi or hackney carriage the driver may appeal to a police officer for assistance, after the passenger has been warned by the driver. Such person may be prosecuted in the courts.

The rules read also that "No person having charge of a hackney carriage, while in a public way or place, shall solicit business.

"If such carriage is rightfully standing upon some special or public stand, the person in charge thereof may solicit passengers by motion of the hand. And no person in charge of a hackney carriage shall permit any one to ride upon the driver's seat, or adjacent to the driver's seat, except when the seats inside the car are fully occupied, and then only when the person so riding is a genuine passenger.

"No person having charge of any hackney carriage shall receive or permit to be placed therein, nor convey in or upon the same, any person sick or infected with any contagious disease, or the body of any person dead from such disease. Drivers of taxies and hackney carriages are asked to refrain from smoking while operating their vehicles.

"Any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of the rules and regulations as laid down specifically shall forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding $20 for each offense, and any licensed owner or driver who violates the rules and regulations shall, in addition to said penalty thereupon become liable to forfeit his license and will be disqualified."

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 540 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Elm avenue, between Adams street and Burgoyne street.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

This Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of Elm avenue, from Adams street to Burgoyne street, excluding the lots at the corners of Adams street and Elm avenue, and the lots at the corners of Burgoyne street and Elm avenue, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 660, Sewerage Works, Elm avenue, Dorchester, February 12, 1926, William J. John M. Gray has been chosen as architect to draw the plans for the central fire station to be erected upon Warrenton street, instead of over the subway incline at Broadway and Tremont street, South End.

CITY COMPLAINS OF CRAWFORD HOUSE.

RESULTS IN PROPOSED CHANGES.
ACTION STARTED TO MAKE BUILDING CONFORM TO BUILDING LAWS FOR SAFETY.

A bill in equity has been brought in the Suffolk Superior Court by the City of Boston against the National Security Bank of Boston, as owner of the land at 79-85 Court street, upon which the Crawford House is located, to enjoin further use or occupation of the hotel buildings until its owners are made to conform to the building laws, and alleging it is a fire menace and in unsafe condition.

The petition declares the buildings are occupied for hotel purposes and are in violation of section 4 of chapter 550 of the Acts of 1907 and acts in amendment and addition thereto in that the buildings are open to wind and weather, are of faulty construction on the side wall and are in a dilapidated condition constituting a fire menace and are therefore in a dangerous and unsafe condition.

The petition further says the respondent was notified of the dangerous and unsafe condition and neglected and refused to remedy that condition.

The petition seeks an injunction restraining the respondent, its servants, agents and tenants from conveying the land, from further erection, alteration, maintenance, use and occupation of the buildings till they shall have been made to conform to the act, and seeks an order forthwith directing the respondent to cause the building to be constructed and maintained in accordance with the act.

Michael J. Carroll, building inspector, makes oath the facts in the petition alleged are true and Leo Schwartz, assistant Corporation Counsel, brings the petition for the city.

HELPING THE HOSPITAL CHILDREN.

Children in the South Department of the Boston City Hospital, where adolescent patients suffering from contagious diseases are isolated, have in the past been debarred in great measure from the many things that serve to help sick children forget their suffering and weariness.

This condition has been alleviated to an appreciable extent by the Department of Social Service at the hospital. A teacher has been engaged to provide school work for the children in an attractive way and devices have been introduced that are effective.

The department also has introduced music into the wards by means of victrolas. This stimulates interest in the tasks set by the teacher, because it must be earned by earnest effort; it soothes and quiets fretful, lonesome little children, who never before have been away from home, and it brings, at the afternoon rest hour, cheerful, pleasant memories.

It is work of this character, among many other activities, that has made the Department of Social Service a valuable adjunct to the City Hospital. To continue and increase such activities the department is asking the Boston public to aid it in raising $20,000 to complete its budget for the year. Contributions may be sent to William C. Endicott, treasurer, 71 Ames Building, Boston.

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Whiting street, bounded:

East by Baker street, eight feet; south by another part of Whiting street, five hundred twenty and 10-100 feet; west by the same, eight feet; and north by the same, five hundred and twenty feet, containing forty-one hundred and sixty square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 530 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Whiting street, leading westerly from Baker street for a distance of about 520 feet.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

ENFORCEMENT OF BUILDING LAWS.

The W. B. Hunt Company, druggists, will vacate the store at Washington and Stuart streets immediately because the premises are regarded as dangerous.

The Building Department of the City of Boston, through Assistant Corporation Counsel Leo Schwartz made the complaint to the Superior Court. Court action was taken after long conferences between representatives of the city and the property owners.

It was agreed that the tenant would vacate the premises by the 19th instant so that the building would be repaired to comply with the law.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence, July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

Total gross debt on Feb. 1, 1925 for all subways and tunnels, $42,096,700; against which a sinking fund of $7,825,262 has been accumulated from the revenue, making the net debt $34,271,438. The loans are payable mostly in 40 years from date of each (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $\frac{4}{3}$ to $\frac{4}{2}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{1}{3}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $\frac{4}{3}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet southerly was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

Loans issued in 1924-25 for Dorchester Tunnel extension, $300,000 and for Dorchester Rapid Transit, $150,000.

Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows:

Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

WORK ON PARKER HILL HOSPITAL SITE AS HOME FOR CHRONIC SICK TO BE HALTED.

ACTION TAKEN FOLLOWING REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION AND AS RESULT OF CONFERENCES WITH EMINENT EXPERTS.

Following the report of the Finance Commission and several conferences with city officials and prominent physicians, it has been decided to drop the Parker Hill Chronic Hospital project, which was sponsored by Mayor Curley, and the contractor, Thomas O'Connor & Co., has been notified to stop work at once on the $713,245 contract under which operations had begun on the first four units of a contemplated $4,000,000 plant.

In taking such action the Mayor issued the following statement:

"The contract for erecting a chronic hospital building with a capacity of 240 beds at the top of Parker Hill concerns a serious problem presented to the City of Boston in the care of persons afflicted with chronic or long-continuing disease.

"At my request inquiry was made by the Finance Commission into this contract, and the commission recommended that the contract be terminated and the site abandoned. Its findings I have subjected to a review as thorough as the time available permits, and I have conferred with physicians, engineers, architects and laymen with the view of obtaining information and opinion applicable to the entire case.

"Opinion is divided upon island and mainland sites, and between types of hospitals. Parker Hill is favored generally by the physicians on the Long Island visiting staff. Dr. John H. Cunningham, Jr., surgeon-in-chief at Long Island, considers Parker Hill one of the most beautiful locations for a chronically sick patient. The opinion of Dr. Frederick A. Washburn, superintendent of the Massachusetts General Hospital, states exhaustively the case against the top of Parker Hill as a site because of steep streets, fire hazard, high costs and difficulty of construction.

"The City Hospital trustees and Doctor Washburn favor a site at the City Hospital. Dr. James J. Minot, trustee and secretary of the Boston Sanatorium, and president of the staff of the Long Island Hospital, favors the Veterans Hospital in West Roxbury when vacated next year. Others, rather than have a mainland site they do not favor, prefer the present location at Long Island.

"Certainly the treatment of chronic cases calls for all of the consideration that we can give. The care of a chronic case is not to be estimated in terms of weeks or even months, but rather in years. A most important step in medicine is the study of chronic diseases. They are too little understood, and the treatment and care of them are not sufficiently appreciated.

"Patients relieved of the acute symptoms of chronic disease are frequently discharged from a hospital, although it is known that they still have processes going on which will develop into chronic form. Such patients may become invalids and unable to support themselves. Attention should be given to these cases to see if the disease can be checked and the patient returned to reasonable good health and made active in the community.

"This has been demonstrated in tuberculosis and is sometime to be demonstrated in other forms of disease. The extension of hospitalization for chronic cases is, therefore, a highly important matter and too much care cannot be given to the study of it. It would be most unfortunate to provide for facilities in a place and in a manner such as not to win the fullest measure of co-operation from the medical profession and to inspire in the community that confidence essential to the successful treatment of its chronic sick.

"Relief of the patient is of vital and primary importance and the possibility of mistake in that ultimate end should be avoided. At the present time there is a disagreement of the most serious character as to how we can accomplish what we want. This disagreement concerns not only the location of a site but the type of construction of building to be erected thereon, the permanence of such building and the method of supervision, all of which effect the comfort and well-being of the patients. With such uncertainty it is impossible for the city to proceed with safety upon any definite course of action involving the expenditure of millions.

"It is rather to be feared that a mistake now will retard the progress of a beneficial policy which I feel sure can be formulated after further study and consideration. The question merits the best thought we can give it and involves not only the possible adaptation of many admirable facilities possessed by the city but an examination of other facilities which it may be necessary to appropriate.

"Under the circumstances, therefore, I deem it wise not to proceed further with the present contract and I have accordingly caused the contractor to be notified to cease operations."

It is advisable, therefore, if there is any doubt about the quantity or quality of your experience, to take both the grade for which you think you are qualified and the next lower grade. If you should be found ineligible for the higher grade, you will still have an opportunity to be placed on the next lower grade.

Grade A.—Engineering assistants, drafting assistants, and rodmen, who perform under instruction and supervision elementary or apprentice work in the field or office.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly West Roxbury, and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Whipple avenue, bounded:

Northwest by Washington street, eight and 33-100 feet; northeast by another part of Whipple avenue, one hundred and sixty feet; southeast by the same, eight feet; and southwest by the same, one hundred sixty-two and 34-100 feet; containing twelve hundred and eighty-nine square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 150 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Whipple avenue, leading southeasterly from Washington street for a distance of about 160 feet.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lot of land situated on the southwesterly side of Whipple avenue, about 145 feet southeast of Washington street, supposed to belong to Frederick Bogardus, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, to the amount hereinafter set against it; said lot and the supposed owner thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 661, Sewerage Works, Whipple Avenue, West Roxbury, February 27, 1926, William J. 1. Report on notices of hearings on petitions for gasoline licenses (severally referred March 1, 8, 15 and 22)—that same be placed on file.

Report accepted; said notices placed on file.

2. Reports on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, that same ought to be granted, viz.:

O. S. Olson, Sailors' Haven Hall, April 15.

Reports accepted; permits granted on usual conditions.

3. Report on petition (referred today) of Patrick McDonough to be retired—recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That the Retirement Board for Laborers be hereby authorized and requested to retire, under the provisions of chapter 765 of the Acts of 1914, as amended by chapter 63 of the Special Acts of 1915, Patrick McDonough, employed in the labor service of the City of Boston, in the Public Works Department.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred February 15) revoking authorization to borrow $380,000 for bath house and laundry, L street—that the same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, when revocation of this order was first requested by his Honor the Mayor, I voted against it in the sincere, firm and honest belief that a new bath house at L street was a crying need, that it was a matter that concerned a large number of the residents of all parts of the City of Boston and that no better means could be found for expending public money. That belief has not changed. I still have it. However, in view of the fact that the Mayor is unalterably opposed to the expenditure of the money for that purpose at this particular time, I think, out of deference to his judgment, this order should pass, because if not, it may have the effect of retarding other improvements that may be of equal importance and equal benefit to the public welfare.

Coun. LYNCH—Mr. President, in the two previous mayoralty administrations, South Boston has been a victim of circumstances. Under Mayor Peters we had a $400,000 appropriation given to us which was taken away under Mayor Curley. Under Mayor Curley we had $400,000 given to us for a bath house which is now about to be taken away. I think there is no doubt in the minds of the members of this Council that this new bath house is really needed. However, I will not discuss that any further at the present time, under the circumstances. I feel that South Boston, with some twenty odd thousand voters is entitled to one eleventh of the money spent by the City of Boston, and I don't think South Boston will be fairly used if this order is rescinded.

Coun. ENGLERT—Mr. President, I think it would be rather inadvisable at this time to spend the sum of $380,000 for a new bath house over at L street, South Boston. Often, in talking with officials of the Park Department who have charge of this bath house I have received the information that an appropriation of $20,000 would be sufficient to furnish such additional accommodations as are immediately demanded,—such as the repairing of the bath house, providing additional shower baths, additional lockers, repairing the roof, repairing the old handball court, installing a new handball court, and other things that will meet the needs of the people who frequent the bath house. I think the people of Boston in general, and those who make particular use of the bath house will be satisfied to have the Council today spend $20,000 to repair the bath house instead of spending the large sum of $380,000 for a new bath house at this time. I hope the Council will vote to sustain the Mayor.

Coun. MAHONEY—Mr. President, with regard to the $380,000 appropriation which has been made for L Street bath house, I simply wish to say that the present structure is an old wooden building, erected twenty-five years ago. In the first place, it lacks sufficient accommodations to care for those who daily patronize the place in the summer months. It is also an eyesore, a totally inadequate and improper thing for the best bathing beach in the country. I want to impress on my brother members our interest in this matter, as residents of South Boston, and also the interest of people from all parts of the city, because there is not a man here this afternoon who does not either himself frequent that bath house in the summer months or know of many who do.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule, yeas 17, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowd, Dowling, Englert, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Guild, Keene, McGrath, Parkman, Ruby, Wilson, Wragg—17.

Nays—Coun. Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney—3.

5. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred April 5) appropriating $10,000 to be expended by Municipal Employment Bureau,—that same ought to pass.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and the passage of the order.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, there is a political axiom, as old as the hills, to the effect that a fellow who talks when the vote is against him is a fool. But I am going to justify my position on this order just the same by calling attention to the facts about this Employment Bureau. The Mayor sent to this body last week a communication requesting a $10,000 transfer from the Reserve Fund to what is called the free Employment Bureau. The Mayor knows as well as I do—he must know—that the $10,000 asked for is only going to carry the Employment Bureau for a period of twenty weeks. The Mayor knows as well as I know that it is his intention to carry the Employment Bureau along for a year, two years or three years. The Mayor knows as well as I know that the thing to do was to come before this Council with a request for enough money to carry along the Employment Bureau for a year. He knows that it is to continue. But he does not follow that procedure. He comes in here asking for $10,000, I think, for the purpose of creating the impression that it is a temporary affair and that by and by the Employment Bureau will get the gate, as I feel should have been the case a long time ago. It was established in 1922, and in nine months of that year spent $10,000 and rendered no public service. In 1923 it spent $18,000; in 1924 it spent $31,000; in 1925 it spent $30,000; and in January, February and March of this year, $6,360. The $10,000 that the Mayor asks for now, if given to him, gives it $16,360 for carrying it on. Twenty weeks from now he will come in and ask for another $10,000, which will be $26,000, and if the present Employment Bureau is unchanged and their ambitions and desires are the same as now, they will come in and ask for an automobile, and that will cost $1,500. Also, if their aims, purposes and desires are the same twenty weeks from now as today, they will ask for five additional employees at approximately $1,500 a year, and that will mean an additional $7,500. So the total expense of running the public free Employment Bureau for one year will be $35,360. There are no records in the free Employment Bureau that show that it has done any work at all. I am satisfied that it has done some, but very little. There is no record in the free Employment Bureau that shows what became of an automobile they had before, in use up to the first of this year, but still they want another one. The personnel of the Employment Bureau is made up of people who have had no experience in getting employment for others and very little experience in getting employment for themselves. I am told, as I said in the meeting of the committee,—and I am going to repeat what I said in committee here, with the permission of the Council,—that a person said to be a stenographer in the Employment Bureau does not know the difference between a typewriter and an adding machine. There is an assistant secretary to the Mayor, if you please, with that dignified title, who has not done a productive day's work for himself in five years. He is a political doorman, as I referred to him two weeks ago. He has been attached to every political campaign to which he could attach himself, and has been an errand boy, a stool pigeon, a bootlegger,—everything except a reputable, hardworking, industrious man, a man interested in anybody but himself. There is another assistant secretary of the Mayor, if you please, with that dignified title, who only a few years ago transgressed the laws and did a year at Deer Island. There is no effort made at the Employment Bureau today to get work for the 200 or 300 applicants who have gone there for work. Mr. Sullivan, the present director of the free Employment Bureau, came before your special committee and told us that the department records were incomplete and almost all gone. If the records of that department were taken during the previous administration and disposed of, there was criminal negligence there, and certainly that is nothing to justify the Council in giving $35,000 for the continuance of the Bureau in the public service. Records lost, mislaid or stolen in that administration are no justification for keeping that kind of people in the employment of the city. The personnel of the Employment Bureau is as political as the gathering we are accustomed to see around headquarters. Their duties are political, and they are not public servants. They are paid wages entirely out of proportion to what they do, and, as I say, there is nothing to show that they have done anything at all. The director of the Employment Bureau came before us and told us how many people had been employed the first three months of 1926 and the first three months of 1925, and his own figures were a thousand out of the way. I believe it is wasteful extravagance for the Mayor to ask $10,000 for the continuance of a department that renders no public service. Everything that the free Employment Bureau does in this city is done by the state free Employment Bureau established for twenty or twenty-five years, a bureau which does good service. I could not vote for the Mayor's order in committee and I cannot vote for it here, and I move that the request of the Mayor be laid on the table.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, most of what I have to say I said in executive session. I am also a member of this committee but I would be an ingrate to the people I boast of as friends if I did not on the floor of this chamber stand up and defend, if such a thing is necessary, a gentleman whom I have had the privilege to know and of whose friendship I am proud. And so I stand here in public in defence of the man whom the speaker on my right (Coun. Dowling) has seen fit to call a political doorman, a man who has never worked, a bootlegger, and a man who has taken part in every political campaign for years in the City of Boston. Thank goodness—while I think I will not be charged with being a bootlegger or a political doorman—I have taken part in different campaigns in the City of Boston for about eighteen or twenty years and I think it is no discredit to any man who may see fit at an opportune time to travel through the streets of the City of Boston espousing the causes of his friends who aspire to political office, to do so. The question is on the appropriation of $10,000 as requested by the Mayor to keep up the work of the Employment Bureau. I as a member of this committee, having been appointed last Monday, spent some time last Tuesday visiting the Employment Bureau, and I made a careful investigation of the situation myself. I know about the four employees of the department stationed at Tyler street. I interviewed the so-called inefficient and inexperienced staff. Mr. Sullivan, who has been referred to here, in the less than two weeks he has had, has obtained as good a knowledge of that department as any one could expect a man to have in the short space of time he has been employed. This man has been before the investigating committee of our Executive Committee at a hearing held in these chambers and has been examined and cross examined for two and one half hours by the gentleman on my right as well as by myself. He did not evade one question that he could possibly answer. He brought with him all the data possible to accumulate in the short space of time that he had to do it, and he brought statistics showing that the Employment Bureau of the City of Boston had done more work in the way of securing employment for the citizenry of Boston than the state of Massachusetts had done in its state employment department. He then quoted from a report handed down by the federal government as the result of an investigation of the employment situation. Mr. Sullivan, as a result of the questioning, gave us data which he had received from the files of that department. He did not say at any time—and I spent the entire time when he was being examined in the room—that the reports were not there. He said that up to the time when he entered the employ of the department the reports, in his opinion, were inadequate and not as carefully compiled as he would like to have them, and that he was immediately putting into effect a system such as should be used by an employment department of this kind. He introduced—and I am surprised that my good friend has not referred to them in the executive meeting or in this chamber,—probably fifty or more letters from reliable contractors and business firms of Boston, such as Filene's Sons, Jordan Marsh, the Boston City Hospital and the like business firms and institutions, commending the work of this Employment Bureau on account of the experienced, capable and efficient men which the Bureau sent out to employers on request. I have read some of these letters, showing that the concerns were satisfied with the calibre of the men. But, be that as it may, as I have said before, we cannot afford to discontinue a department that is doing the work that this department is in handling the employment situation in this city. The department was organized by the former Mayor of Boston. I have read reports which I will not take the time to read here complimenting the department and stating that its work should not only be continued but extended, reports stating that the Soldiers' Relief and the Public Welfare Department, for example, have saved thousands and thousands of dollars a year of the city's money because of the ability of the Employment Bureau to place the unemployed, in that way relieving these other departments. Mr. Sullivan distinctly told us that they keep a record of every man who is employed so that when he does get a job through this department his name is immediately sent to the Soldiers' Relief and Public Welfare Departments, and they then discontinue any relief they may be giving to the man. I am convinced that the expenditure of the $25,000 or $30,000 which it may cost the city to keep this department up will result in the saving of thousands of dollars to these other departments and that these men who are thus given a chance to seek and obtain honest employment will not have to bow their heads in shame, as the result of receiving the charity of this wonderful city, but can say, "The city has furnished me an opportunity to make an honorable living so that I can take care of my family." I think that department ought to be continued. I think to act otherwise would be unfair and would be an injustice to the Mayor. Under the old regime there were fourteen employees in the department with salaries ranging from $3,000 a year down. Today the highest paid man in the department, the official director, receives a salary of $2,500, and there are now only eight people, taking the place of the former fourteen. They do all the work that the others did. They have no automobile and they have not requested an automobile, but they did say through their director this, "If we had an automobile in our department, such as they had there previously, we could do far more work in seeking out contractors and convincing them that they ought not to keep in their employ aliens but should employ citizens of Boston." I am in earnest about this matter and hope that the request for the appropriation will be granted here this afternoon.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, I have listened with a great deal of attention to the debate in the executive session and the debate in this Council Chamber upon this matter, and I find myself faced, like the rest of the members of the Council, with this situation. Here are two members of the committee who investigated this matter and who express diverse opinions as the result of their investigation. Their opinions differ. They have both received the results of their investigation and have expressed their opinions because of those results. Yet they are absolutely contradictory in their statements. Leaving aside the personal recriminations, leaving aside the attacks on the personnel of the department, the only things we are faced with here are the facts that were gleaned from that investigation. We do find certain facts from an examination of the evidence as presented by both of the men who have so ably expressed their opinions, with perhaps a great deal more oratorical ability and histrionic talent than I myself possess. But I want merely to deal with the facts. I think the Council is in the same position with regard to this matter as a man who stands on the side lines and watches his chickens running over his neighbor's flower beds. He cannot do anything more about it, because if he chases the chickens off, he will do more damage to the flower beds than if he allows them to remain there. If we do not pass the appropriation, we will destroy the entire utility of the Bureau. The real fact we are faced with here is whether the Bureau has justified its existence. From the facts given by previous speakers, it is my personal opinion that the Bureau has justified its existence. We all know, in spite of the safeguards placed around employment offices, that there are a great many leeches who get in and that those leeches fasten themselves onto the very poorest of our citizenry, taking their toll from those least able to bear it, in return for giving them employment. The Municipal Employment Bureau gives that service to those free of charge, and I believe that such a work is one which the city is entirely justified in conducting and one which will bring benefit to those who are least able to help themselves. Such a bureau is in itself certainly a good thing, whatever opinion some of us may have about the personnel of the Bureau, their ability or inability, their competency or incompetency. It is not for us to decide those questions. The sole responsibility for the personnel is up to the Mayor, and it is to him that the people must look if the Bureau fails to function properly. That is no reason for taking away the only means which the Bureau has of existence, the financial means. If those are taken away there will be no Bureau, and those men who have come to look to the Bureau for salvation in the way of employment will be the ones who will suffer. Therefore, I think this appropriation ought to pass.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I am so far from agreeing with the statement of the previous speaker that the Municipal Public Bureau renders no public service that I feel that it has now become of such importance that it should in the next year at least become one of the regularly constituted departments of the city and included in the regular city budget. The fact that it does not appear as a regular city department and is of necessity taken care of out of the Reserve Fund shows that at the outset it was looked upon with some doubt as to its importance and as to the length of time it should continue to function. It has now been in existence over a period of years and is doing an increasingly large business. I think I shall be much more inclined to vote in favor of further extension at the time when the $10,000 in question is exhausted if I know that some steps are being taken toward making it a regularly constituted department than I shall be if I know it is to be carried on in the same way that it has been carried on in the past. The chief objections raised this afternoon to carrying the department on have dealt solely with the personnel of the department. I think conditions are not such at the present time as to warrant the City Council in holding back the money to carry on the department simply because the previous speaker feels that the personnel is not all that it should be. I can readily imagine that a situation might arise where the personnel of a department became so notoriously rotten that the City Council would be fully justified in doing all they could to prevent its going on, but I am very far from being satisfied that that is the present condition of the Municipal Employment Bureau. I shall at this time vote in favor of the Mayor's order, but unless I know that steps are being taken to constitute the department as a regular department of the city, to be included with the other departments in the budget in future years, as I think the importance of the work warrants, I shall be reluctant to vote in favor of future orders for carrying it on.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, it is not my intention to enter into debate upon this matter, because I am too familiar with the workings of the Municipal Bureau not to realize that its carrying on is well worth while. However, I would like to ask a question of the chairman of the committee, if I may, through the president. May I ask if the member understood Mr. Sullivan to say that the records of the previous administration were stolen or missing?

Coun. DOWLING—I understood him to say that they were stolen or missing, and I gathered that he thought they were stolen.

Coun. DOWD—Again, I would like to ask the gentleman, Mr. President, if the opportunity or courtesy was extended to the former director of the Bureau to defend himself against such remarks by Mr. Sullivan?

Coun. DOWLING—The committee did not hear his predecessor.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, it is very amusing to hear the councilor from Brighton (Coun. Dowling) tell us about the money that this Bureau will expend during the next year and about his great apprehension in the matter. It was only one or two weeks ago that, with very little consideration and debate, the councilor from Brighton voted to expend $43,000,000. I think most of us realize that the Municipal Employment Bureau could very well expend upward of $35,000. We have heard a lot of talk in regard to a possible automobile. Certainly the director needs an automobile if he is going to get results. He has to go to various parts of the city quickly to get in touch with the different people, and he must have transportation. As to the character of Mr. Sullivan, I believe it must be very high. The people of Boston have elected him to represent them on various occasions. I don't think the councilor should allow himself to be swayed by personal feelings in this matter. In regard to the so-called Curley handovers there at the present time, while I am in favor of the passage of the order, I feel that it is more than likely that we will a little later see the Curley handovers wiped out. Of course, the Mayor, in changing the personnel of the department, will be acting within his rights, in accordance with the principle that to the victor, no matter who he may be, belong the spoils. But I don't think a Mayor, whoever he may be, should cut any of the girls who are not in political life in any way. I would like to ask the chairman of the committee if Mr. Sullivan said during the cross examination that he found in the files literature relating to the fatherhood of any mayoralty campaign that had been conducted in the last four years?

Coun. DOWLING—I don't think I understand the question, Mr. President.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. Sullivan, I understand, said that the business correspondents, records pertaining to the business bureau, were missing, but in their place he found literature pertaining to political campaigns.

Coun. DOWLING—I did not understand that, no. Now, Mr. President, I know when I am lied, but I also know when I am right, and I know that I am lied now, but I know that I am right, notwithstanding. I just wish to clear up one situation. The councilor from Ward 14 would create the impression that I had withheld some information that came to me as a member of the committee. I referred in the committee to a number of communications and data that Mr. Sullivan had left with us, and, of course, I would not withhold from any member of the Council anything that was so left with me for the consideration of the Council. Since my brother has referred to that matter, I will now say a word in regard to it. As I said in the committee, these communications came to the director of the free Employment Bureau as the result of letters sent out by the Employment Bureau, applause letters, if you please. The then director felt that he wanted to have something of the sort, something showing confidence in the department, from the different people to whom he had sent applicants for work. So some time in January or February of 1924 he sent to a number of employers stereotyped letters to this effect:—"Don't you think the work of this department is the best ever?" and so on and, of course, every one of the replies that came back was in answer to a letter of that sort. Two of these communications make no reference to such a letter, but you will find in the other letters that they are answers to such a communication. Here is one saying, "Replying to your letter of such and such a date, we think the Bureau is" so and so; and "Your letter of January 28 has been received, and we are glad to tell you" so and so. Then, here is one that says nothing about the letter that was sent, but is evidently in answer to such a letter. Then, here is one. "In reply to your letter of January 25, I wish to say," etc.; and another says, "In reply to your letter of January 28, I wish to say," and so forth. "In reply to your letter of January 29," and so forth and so on; and here is another one that refers to a letter received on January 29. And so it goes on through the list. There is nothing here that helps the argument of the gentleman from Ward 14, but it all verifies what I maintain, that the Bureau has not justified itself. So I hope no little red herring drawn across the trail will take your minds away from the real situation with regard to this Bureau. The fact that I did not in my previous remarks bring up these letters was not because of any intention on my part to withhold information, but was simply in the interest of brevity, the situation in that respect already being well known.

Coun. Dowling's motion to lay on the table was declared lost. Coun. Dowling doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

BOSTON SOON TO ENTER UPON MOST AMBITIOUS SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM TO EXTEND OVER FOUR YEARS.

SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSION, AFTER CONFERENCES, REACHES DECISION AS TO WHAT IS NEEDED FOR NEXT FOUR YEARS, AND WILL SET TO WORK TO MAKE PLANS EFFECTIVE. EXPENDITURE OF $10,000,000 ANTICIPATED.

NEW EAST BOSTON HIGH SCHOOL TO BE READY FOR OCCUPANCY IN FALL AS RELIEF FOR CONDITIONS IN DISTRICT IN $10,000,000 PROGRAM.

The Schoolhouse Commission, following conferences with the Mayor, the School Committee, the City Auditor and the Budget Commissioner, is about to undertake the most ambitious program of school construction the city has ever known. The plan anticipates the expenditure of some $10,000,000 over the course of the next four years, and following out this plan a bill is shortly to be presented in substitution for the one now before the Legislature embodying the features arranged for.

The present program calls for $10,000,000 to be raised in taxation through three years and expended over the four years of Mayor Nichols' administration. Besides this sum, there will be the $4,500,000 appropriation for last year, but unexpended.

This $4,500,000 will be spent this year, if the bill is enacted, along with the sum of at least $1,000,000, but not more than $1,500,000 which Mayor Nichols agreed to provide out of this year's tax revenue as his part of the program.

In 1927 he agrees to furnish not less than $3,500,000 nor more than $4,000,000 for the program, and not more than $3,000,000 nor less than $3,500,000 for 1928 construction. For the fourth year of the program, whatever remains as unexpended balance of the $10,000,000 to be applied from taxation will be available.

The Schoolhouse Commission, to put through this program, is composed of Francis E. Slattery, chairman; Charles P. Norton and Luther C. Greenleaf.

The plans include the remodeling the present East Boston High School Building for intermediate or junior high school purposes immediately upon the close of the school term in June.

This is made possible by the completion of the new high school building for East Boston which is promised to be ready for occupancy next September. Eventually the junior high school is expected to accommodate pupils from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades of the Emerson, Chapman and Ulysses S. Grant Districts, thus relieving the congestion that exists in them.

The new Roxbury Memorial High School for Girls on Townsend street, so named in honor of Boston boys who participated in the World War, also is promised for occupancy next September.

This will release the entire structure now shared by the Roxbury High School and the Boston Clerical School, to the latter. Extensive remodeling on that building then will be undertaken to include a gymnasium and a new assembly hall.

A nine-room addition to the South Boston High and alterations within the present structure will give that school domestic science accommodations for girls, which it never has had; a music room, with cases for violins and other instruments of the school orchestra, quite a new thing in Boston schools; a better lunchroom and lockers. The new wing to the Jamaica Plain High School is expected to be ready next fall, with accommodations for the agricultural department, ranked as one of the best of its kind in Massachusetts. There will be administrative rooms, laboratories and other improvements.

A new wing for the Boston Trade School for Boys on Parker street, Roxbury Crossing, will double the capacity of the school and provide accommodations for classes in plumbing, gasfitting, concrete work, bricklaying, plastering, automobile repairing.

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

LEGISLATURE GETS FAVORABLE REPORT ON LOOP HIGHWAY BILL FOR BOSTON FROM COMMITTEE.

$30,000,000 BOND ISSUE FOR THOROUGHFARE RECOMMENDED BY MUNICIPAL FINANCE AND METROPOLITAN AFFAIRS COMMITTEES—TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN TEN YEARS.

The Committees on Municipal Finance and Metropolitan Affairs have mutually reported favorably a bill calling for the construction of a loop highway for the City of Boston.

The bill as reported in the Senate by Senator Eben S. Draper provides that the Mayor of Boston must approve some plan for a continuous highway within three years, and that the entire highway shall be completed within ten years. Ten per cent of the cost of the highway must come from the tax levy and there is provision for an issue of twenty-year bonds, not to exceed $30,000,000 outside the statutory debt limit.

The Board of Street Commissioners, or a special commission, with the approval of the Mayor, shall carry out the work.

The act becomes effective with the approval of Mayor Nichols.

The Mayor is given the fullest authority and must take the initiative, yet the City Council must pass the item providing 10 per cent of the cost.

The measure also provides that the narrowest width of the thoroughfare shall be 92 feet, and suitable safety islands shall be provided at street intersections.

The act provides that the highway shall consist of several parts, connecting the easterly end of the Charles river dam with the junction of Albany street and Broadway. The route would begin at the junction of Charles and Leverett streets, at the easterly end of the Charles river dam. Proceeding over existing ways or over private land bounded by Leverett, Brighton, Lowell, Minot and Nashua streets or over Boston & Maine Railroad freight lands to Causeway street.

From Causeway street, the route runs either through Merrimac street to Haymarket square, or along Causeway street and Beverly street to the intersection of the latter street with Washington street, in such manner as to make a continuous thoroughfare from the end of the Charles river dam to Haymarket square or to Washington street.

Extending either of these routes from its termination, the highway follows either the general line of Cooper, Ferry and Stillman streets, the general line of Cross street, or the general line of Endicott, North Centre, and John streets, to Commercial street, or by any other route as the Mayor of Boston may approve.

From Commercial street a street shall be constructed within 800 feet of Atlantic avenue at State street to Fort Hill square. From this square, the bill provides for a street, either with or without a supplementary elevated or underground vehicular way in the vicinity of Federal and Summer streets, such street extending from Fort Hill square to the corner of Kneeland and Albany streets, and following Albany street to Broadway.

The proposed measure also authorizes the Mayor of the City of Boston to construct several other highways leading into the circumferential highways, and contains provision for widening of several others, as well as providing for the reconstruction of the several bridges over the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad and over the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad wherever this becomes necessary.

Some of the streets provided for are as follows: A street extending from Albany street near its intersection with Oak street to a point near the intersection of Tremont street and Broadway, or to Columbus avenue; as connection between the main highway and Haymarket square if it follows the lines of Cross street, and to Washington street, if it follows the other line marked out: widening of Broad street between the main highway and Atlantic avenue; a new street between Fort Hill square and the end of Northern avenue, or a widening of Oliver street from Fort Hill square to Northern avenue; improvements to such streets in South Boston as will give adequate approach to Northern avenue from Congress street, Summer street and Dorchester avenue; and for an elevated street from the end of Charles street at Leverett street over the property and tracks of the Boston & Maine Railroad and other private property to or near the intersection of Causeway and Beverly streets.

The act provides that the commissioners may take such additional land at important intersections as may be required in their judgment for the convenient and suitable regulation of vehicular and pedestrian traffic. Remnants or parcels of land may be taken wherever in the judgment of the commissioners public interest so requires.

"Real estate or any interest therein may be acquired for the purpose of this act by purchase or by eminent domain." The bill reads, "All of the aforesaid layout, takings, and construction work, the awarding of damages and the assessment of betterments therefor shall be done by the commissioners in accordance with the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906, as amended by chapter 536 of the Acts of 1913 and by chapters 79 and 80 of the General Laws, in so far as said provisions are consistent with the provisions of this act, provided, however, that except pursuant to court judgment it shall require a vote of not less than two of the commissioners and also the approval of the Mayor of Boston to "(a) Make any award or settlement of damages for any taking hereunder for a price more than 25 per cent in excess of its average assessed valuation during the previous three years.

"(b) Make any increase in an award or settlement of damages for any taking hereunder after the same has been once determined.

"(c) Make any abatement or decreases in any assessment for betterments after the same has been determined or levied.

"Pro tanto settlements shall not be made except by unanimous vote of the commissioners.

"The commissioners shall assess betterments upon property over as wide an area as in their judgment it is proper so to do.

"To meet the cost of the work authorized by this act, the treasurer of the City of Boston without any other authority than that contained in this act shall, from time to time, on request of the Mayor of Boston, issue and sell at public or private sale serial bonds of the city to an amount not exceeding in the aggregate thirty million dollars, which bonds shall go outside of the statutory limit of indebtedness of the said city.

"Each authorized issue of bonds shall constitute a separate loan and such loans shall be paid in not more than twenty years from their dates, but no loan shall be authorized by the Mayor under this act in any year unless a sum equal to 10 per cent of the loan so authorized is voted for the same purpose to be provided from taxes or other sources of revenue.

"The amount required to be raised by taxation shall be in addition to the amount that may be levied for municipal purposes as fixed for the year when the loan is authorized. The bonds shall be designated on their face 'Intermediate Thoroughfare Bonds—Act of 1926,' shall be in such form of coupon or registered bonds without coupons, or coupon bonds exchangeable for registered bonds, as the treasurer of the city shall determine; shall bear interest in accordance with the provisions of chapter 52 of the Special Acts of 1918; shall be payable by such annual payments as will extinguish said bonds at maturity, and so that the first of such annual payments on account of any loan shall be made not later than one year after the date of the bonds issued therefor and that the amount of said payments in any year on account of such loan shall not be less than the amount of principal of the loan payable in any subsequent year.

"The treasurer of the City of Boston shall hold the proceeds of said bonds in the treasury of the city and pay therefrom the costs and expenses incurred under the provisions of this act. Any premiums received from the sale of the said bonds, less the cost of preparing, issuing and selling the same, shall be applied to the payment of the first bond or bonds to mature. The City Treasurer may, with the approval of the Mayor, make a temporary loan for a period of not more than one year in anticipation of the money to be derived from the sale of any issue of said bonds and may issue notes therefor and such notes may be refunded by the issue of new notes maturing within said year, but the period of the permanent loan herein authorized shall not be extended by reason of any temporary loan."

BOSTON'S CELEBRATION OF PATRIOTS' DAY PRAISED AS MOST DISTINCT IN RECENT YEARS.

MILITARY DRILL ON COMMON AND PARADE REVIEWED BY HIGH STATE AND CITY OFFICIALS AS WELL AS LEADING CITIZENS MAKE DAY MEMORABLE.

Boston's celebration of Patriots' Day in 1926 will ever be memorable in the minds of those who took part as one of the most distinct in arrangement and features ever held. It will also be remembered as one of the most brilliant of such events with state and city officials playing most prominent part, and with the military features that gave thrill to the occasion.

The celebration, in its features this year was so individually different from other events that have passed that on every side could be heard enthusiastic praise for the conception and the execution of all the plans for the celebration.

From early morning to the end of the day there was feature after feature presented for Boston's citizens, beginning with the flag raising in the morning, the rides of Paul Revere and William Dawes, and other ceremonies. At North square thousands of children gathered along with the patriotic adults to hear the addresses and to see Paul Revere start on his ride, having been given his message to the countryside by Mayor Nichols.

The feature of the day, however, that won the greatest praise and was the most striking was the military drill and parade on the Common followed by the march through the streets to the Old Granary Burying Ground and State street.

Nearly 10,000 persons, despite the cold, gathered on the Common for the exercises and the military review which celebrated the 151st anniversary of the battle of Lexington and Concord as well as the famous rides of Paul Revere and William Dawes.

At least 5,000 more lined the curbs along the short route from the Common to State street where the marchers were dismissed. The hill on the Common was a mass of bright color from the hats and coats of the women in the throng.

Both sides of Tremont street, from Boylston street north, were packed and the steps of Cathedral Church of St. Paul and the Park Street Church, were filled with spectators. The parade brought thousands to downtown Boston.

The Charles Street mall of the Common was the scene of activity for a half hour before the exercises were scheduled to begin. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller and Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols and their party of honorary guests arrived on the grounds shortly after 2 o'clock, but left almost immediately to be present at the finish of the marathon race.

Meanwhile the bands played, airplanes soared overhead, Grand Army men sat down. During the wait the Marine Corps gave a close order drill and the Continentals of the Sons of the American Revolution gave a flintlock drill.

A battalion from the 13th United States Infantry executed the escort to the colors, and a detachment from the 211th Coast Artillery Corps, M. N. G., performed guard mount.

On the athletic field the exercises opened with the firing of the Governor's salute followed by drills by the 110th Cavalry and Battery C, 101st Field Artillery.

The review was then held before Governor Fuller, Mayor Nichols, Lieut.-Gov. Frank G. Allen, President Wellington Wells of the State Senate, Speaker John C. Hull of the House, Rear Admiral Philip H. Andrews, Maj.-Gen. Preston Brown, Maj.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, Maj.-Gen. Edward L. Logan, Brig.-Gen. John D. Barrette, Adj.-Gen. Jesse F. Stevens, and Brig.-Gen. A. F. Foote.

The review over, the line left the Common at Charles street and, headed by a detail of police, moved over the following route: Boylston street to Tremont, to Court, to State street, where they were dismissed at the scene of the Boston Massacre after a review by the marshal and his staff. En route, brief memorial exercises were held in the burying ground on the Common, at the Granary Burying Ground and at King's Chapel Burying Ground. At each place the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the American Revolution decorated the graves of Revolutionary soldiers with flags.

At Granary Burying Ground a wreath was placed on the grave of Col. Paul Revere and at King's Chapel a wreath was placed on the grave of William Dawes, Jr., by the Sons of the Revolution and the Daughters of the Revolution. Brig.-Gen. Malvern Hill Barnum and his staff later visited each of the cemeteries and held brief exercises, with a selection by the band, the firing of a volley and the sounding of taps.

The parade marched in four divisions, several thousands strong, and was made up of units of soldiers, sailors and marines, the Grand Army, Spanish War Veterans, veterans' organizations, patriotic societies, the Boy Scouts and schoolboy cadets. Six bands and two fife and drum corps furnished music.

STREET COMMISSIONERS HOLD HEARING ON LAYING OUT OF RESIDENTIAL STREETS.

ONE OF PETITIONERS OFFERS TO GIVE CITY LAND NEEDED IN ORDER TO HAVE HIGHWAYS CONSTRUCTED.

The Board of Street Commissioners gave a public hearing relative to the laying out and construction of new residential streets upon the 21st instant. Several hundred petitions are on file from property owners who have suffered hardships by the long neglect to improve their highways.

J. Scott McLaren, Brighton builder, was the petitioner. He owns a large tract close to Chestnut Hill avenue. He plans to build seventy-two houses. He has laid out two streets himself and during the previous administration the city laid out two for him. Now he asks that two more streets be constructed by the city, Wiltshire road and Colwell road, claiming that an enterprise such as his should receive every encouragement from public funds, for the city will soon have available a large amount of taxable property.

Representative Dowling supported the petition, asserting that it would be good business for the city to put aside a part of the $1,000,000 for the encouragement of home building rather than spend all of it on streets which have been wholly or partly built upon, many of which are not particularly bad at any season of the year. Councilor Heffernan, however, opposed the petition, in the belief that the city should take care of the built-upon streets first and saying that in his district alone all of the $1,000,000 could be spent to good advantage. He declared that the city is so far behind in this work that it cannot afford to construct in anticipation of growth. This argument was supported by Representative Birmingham who said that people who have long paid taxes should have the first consideration.

Mr. McLaren offers to give the city the land needed for the construction of the two streets, as was done by him during the development of South street. He told the Board that since 1912 he has erected houses which total in value between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

The Board took the matter under advisement.

Another street petition for hearing was that for Emmons road, West Roxbury, Benjamin B. Perkins, who owns a large tract in that vicinity appealing for the laying out of the street. He told how he had tried to improve the locality by selling lots under restrictions for home building and had waited for years for a good street. Joseph Beal, who lives at the corner of Howard road, called attention to the fact that only three of the ten residents had signed the petition, and that the welfare of the large elm and maple trees by the roadside was the real issue. Most of the residents would prefer a bad road rather than see the trees injured. It was explained that the trees could be saved by providing for a nine-foot sidewalk on either side.

This case also was taken under advisement.

SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM.

The overflow at the High School of Practical Arts will be housed in a building on Winthrop street now occupied by the Roxbury High School. A temporary annex for the Mechanic Arts High School is to be opened on Scotia street next fall. It will provide a limited area for military drill and physical training, and a shop for sheet metal working.

The top floor of the Everett School on Northampton street, formerly used as an assembly hall, is to be subdivided into class rooms. Money has been appropriated to build a kindergarten and five class rooms at Forest Hills in the Francis Parkman District, and a like amount for a similar structure in the Robert Gould Shaw District.

A four-room wing in the Henry Vane School in West Roxbury will be for a kindergarten and elementary classes. A three-room addition will be built to the Robert Gould Shaw building and a four-room addition will be built to the Alexander Hamilton School.

A lot of land large enough for an intermediate school on South Huntington avenue has been bought and an appropriation made for the purchase of a site for an intermediate school on Northampton street. Appropriations have been made for enlarging the yards of the William Lloyd Garrison School in Roxbury, and the Bunker Hill School in Charlestown.

The Donald McKay Intermediate School in East Boston will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks.

From present indications the completion of new buildings, wings and additions will release next fall forty-one portables now used to relieve congestion. All of these will not be discarded, however. Some will be destroyed as worn out, some will continue in use for overflow pupils where the increase does not yet warrant new buildings or additions, and others will be used for fresh air rooms for which there is a strong demand.

IMPORTANT POLICE ORDER.

Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson of the Police Department has issued through Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley an important order in relation to arrests when the complainants are the Watch and Ward Society or any organization. The order was brought about through the arrest a few weeks ago in the vicinity of Boston Common of H. C. Mencken, editor of the American Mercury. The order was sent to all units of the department.

When arrests or complaints have been made by civic organizations who desire the aid of the police, if made to station houses by members of the Watch and Ward Society, or other organizations, the captain is asked to submit the facts of the case to Commissioner Wilson personally. The commissioner in no way criticizes any one, saying that at all times he is ready and very anxious to co-operate with any civic organization.

The arrest of Mencken, it has been said in police circles, might have been made without so much publicity, and such a tremendous crowd witnessing it. There was also intimation that a large amount of free advertising often is occasioned by such arrests.

BOSTON'S BUSIEST THOROUGHFARE IS SHOWN.

TEST AND CHECK PROVES MORE VEHICLES PASS THROUGH GOVERNOR SQUARE, BACK BAY, THAN ANY OTHER DISTRICT.

The busiest thoroughfare, at the point of intersection, in the City of Boston, in the matter of motor traffic, is found to be Governor square, Back Bay.

This year's count by the Chamber of Commerce showed that 57,750 vehicles passed through the square between eight o'clock in the morning and midnight, as compared with 55,000 vehicles shown in the Chamber's traffic count at this intersection in April, 1925.

This intersection presents a difficult traffic problem because there are twenty-five different directions and turns which traffic may take on approaching the intersection from the five streets that run into the square. Other facts brought to light by the count are as follows:

More than 45 per cent of the passenger cars carried only one passenger.

The greatest bulk of inbound traffic is between 8.45 and 9 a. m. During this fifteen-minute period 650 vehicles go through the square bound for downtown Boston.

Outbound traffic is heaviest between 5.30 and 5.45 p. m., when 671 vehicles move outward and homeward.

The busiest time of the day for both inbound and outbound traffic is between 5.30 p. m. and 5.45 p. m., when 1,204 vehicles pass through the square in all directions.

Inbound traffic before reaching the square on Commonwealth avenue is 70 per cent greater than inbound traffic on Beacon street. After leaving the square, however, more than four times as much inbound traffic goes down Commonwealth avenue as down Beacon street, in spite of the fact that trucks use Beacon street.

LIBRARY PUPILS VISIT BOSTON.

Librarian Charles F. D. Belden of the Boston Public Library was host during the week to fifty students of the New York State Library School of Albany, who are enjoying a two weeks' tour of New England libraries.

The pupils arrived in Boston having spent the day in the noted libraries at Providence. These included the Providence Public Library, the Providence Athenæum, Brown University Library, John Carter Brown Library and the Annmary Brown Memorial Library.

Patriots' Day was spent in Cambridge, the morning devoted to the Harvard University Library and the afternoon to the Riverside Press of Houghton, Mifflin Company.

The visitors reported Tuesday at the Boston Public Library, the Brookline Public Library and Wellesley College Library.

Boston Athenæum at 10½ Beacon street was visited and other hours were devoted to the tours of some of the other noted special libraries in Boston, including the Social Law Library in Pemberton square, the Boston Globe Library, the Public Latin School Library, the New England Historic Genealogical Library, the Insurance Library Association of Boston and the Stone & Webster Library, and a visit was made to Simmons College.

WANTS MORE TIME TO STUDY RAPID TRANSIT PROBLEM.

A. C. RATSHESKY, FOR METROPOLITAN PLANNING DIVISION, APPEALS TO LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE.

A. C. Ratshesky, vice chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Division, addressed the House Committee on Ways and Means, upon the 20th instant, and urged that the time in which his commission was given to make a report on the question of a comprehensive plan for rapid transit service within Greater Boston and the metropolitan district be extended to January 1. The commission was to have reported to this session of the Legislature.

Mr. Ratshesky spoke of the numerous investigations which have been made into matters relating to the transportation needs and pointed out that each inquiry has been an individual one, and that no attempt has been made to formulate a well co-ordinated plan for rapid transit development within the metropolitan district.

"The question of rapid transit is a metropolitan problem, not a local one," said Mr. Ratshesky, "and up to the present time we have treated the subject in a haphazard manner, because the measures relating to it have dealt with local situations. The time has now come when a general survey for rapid transit purposes should be made for the entire metropolitan district." He said that the Metropolitan Planning Division is working a comprehensive plan, and that if the division had sufficient time and an appropriation it could make an investigation which would bring about the desired result.

NEW FIRE HOUSE, ENGINE 21, IS DEDICATED WITH ELABORATE EXERCISES.

COMPANY HOME IN WHICH FIRST PIECE OF HORSELESS APPARATUS IN CITY WAS LOCATED GETS MODERN QUARTERS—MANY AT EXERCISES.

Patriots' Day was observed by Engine 21, Columbia road and Annabel street, Dorchester, with an elaborate celebration to mark the formal opening of the new fire station. The new station is equipped with every modern facility and is of the Spanish type of architecture.

The program was opened at noon with the dedication of the new flagpole in front of the station. Commander Benjamin Ham of the Dahlgren Post, G. A. R., escorted by the St. Paul Boy Scouts, hoisted the flag. The orator was Raymond P. Delano of the United Improvement Association. There was open house, and in the afternoon free ice cream was served for the children.

In the evening, more than forty vaudeville numbers were given.

The committee consisted of Lieut. David F. Sheehan, chairman; Hosemen Thomas P. Higgins and Patrick Burke, assisted by the following members of the Uphams Corner Improvement Association: E. N. Rolland, J. C. Ambrose, J. V. Wattendorf, J. Williamson and John Diggin.

At the flag raising exercises, the invocation was given by Rev. John V. Cronin of Beachmont, a former Dorchester boy.

Mr. Delano's address was as follows:

Invited guests, Captain Avery, Officers and Men of Engine Company 21, and people of this Uphams Corner District:

We are met here on this nineteenth day of April, 1926, to dedicate this new building as the home of this division of the Boston Fire Department. This new structure takes the place of the former building which was dedicated as an engine house fifty-eight years ago.

This company has had a fine record, both in personnel and in long terms of service, and also for their obedience to the department's rules and regulations. It has rendered most valuable service and efficient aid to this large and ever growing section of Dorchester. I cannot let this occasion pass without saying that we know that it is with just pride and deep feelings of gratitude that your former captain for so many years is here today to see his dream realized, and his untiring efforts, both as fireman and citizen, for a new and suitable building, now an accomplished fact.

The city and department officials, the architect, the builders and the men who made suggestions as to the needs of the new building are all to be congratulated upon their accomplishment. It is a fitting reward for the public service and public interest that has been rendered here.

The joint committee of the men of the company and of the Uphams Corner Improvement Association are to be thanked for their interest and work in making this event and those that are to follow during the day and evening possible.

This engine company has the distinction of having the first piece of horseless apparatus used in Boston, a steam-driven engine, installed in its old house for trial in 1872, and today we see before us the latest and best types of motor apparatus, here housed for our protection.

Last year there was destroyed by fire in the City of Boston, some $5,500,000 worth of real and personal property. The number of fires was 7,678. Dorchester had 1,101 fires. If averaged by families we find that every family of five persons each lost by fire $35 during 1925. This department of our city has a total investment of $3,500,000 in property and equipment, and costs $4,000,000 annually to maintain.

One of the paradoxes in life is that the things that are the greatest boon and benefit to mankind are often their greatest enemy when wrongly used; of fire this is most true. Fire keeps us warm. The blazing sun makes it possible for us to live upon this earth. Fire keeps the wheels of industry turning—it creates our motive power. It is in fact a primary necessity of our very existence, yet improperly or carelessly used it is our greatest enemy, causing havoc, destruction, desolation, untold loss, horrible suffering and often death. Therefore it behooves us to take care and to learn how to use it and how to quench and restrain it.

This building, then, and the men that are in it are your best friends; therefore honor them, obey them and help them, and thereby become better citizens of this good city of ours.

This building that we dedicate today is also a monument and memorial to the men who have served and gone on, to those who volunteered to help their neighbors, to the call firemen who assumed this public service in addition to their regular employment, and to the veteran firemen who fought with the old hand tubs and later with the horse-drawn apparatus.

There is something alluring about it all, something heroic about being a fireman—yes, he assumes the risks, takes the chances, and accepts the drudgery for the sake of the cause. Their work and service are akin to the soldier, the militiaman and the policeman. They are true patriots, and this day is particularly a fitting one upon which to dedicate this new fire house, for our hearts are stirred and fired with patriotism as we remember Paul Revere's "Ready to ride and spread the alarm," and the gallant stand of the minute men at Concord and at Lexington. So today we have before us in the foreground this flagstaff from which is to wave the stars and stripes, our nation's emblem, with its bars of crimson red, symbolic of the sacrifices made and the blood shed for us, that we might have and may continue to have our country with its constitutional guarantees of the protection of life, liberty and property and the pursuit of happiness, and its white stripes standing for our honor and purity of purpose, and its star-filled field of blue, a patch of the blue heavens above, showing that beside all and above all we, as a nation, trust in God.

At this time I step aside for the Past Commander of the Massachusetts Department of the Grand Army of the Republic, our honored and beloved citizen—a veteran indeed—Commander Benjamin A. Ham, who will unfurl the flag, and the bugler will sound the colors and the scouts will give us the pledge of allegiance.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 16 the Mayor approved a contract with the E. L. Le Baron Foundry Company for furnishing 400,000 pounds of D castings to the Water Service. A communication from Frank L. Brier of the Supply Department was as follows:

Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing 400,000 pounds D castings (frames and covers) for delivery to the Water Service, Public Works Department, which were publicly opened and read at this office under date of January 28, 1926.

The E. L. Le Baron Foundry Company, the lowest bidder at a price of $0.027 per pound, filed a proposal filled out properly with a certified check at this office, but neglected to make any entry whatsoever on the duplicate which was filed with the City Auditor.

In view of the fact that this irregularity automatically threw out their bid, and in order that we may take advantage of this price which was the lowest submitted, I recommend that all bids be rejected and that permission be granted me to award this contract, without advertising, to the E. L. Le Baron Foundry Company at a price of two and seven tenths ($.027) cents per pound; $920 thus saved.

Foran Foundry & Manufacturing Company, 3.23 cents per pound; W. A. Snow Iron Works, Incorporated, 2.93 cents per pound; Mechanics Iron Foundry Company, 4 cents per pound; E. L. Le Baron Foundry Company, 2.7 cents per pound. (Auditor's copy a blank. No firm or price written in.)

BOSTON, April 12, 1926.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Boyle-Robertson Construction Company, 11 Beacon street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

pine plank, one side, $69 per M feet; to be long leaf hard pine, quantity to be "Prime" of the 1905 rules. To have at least six annual rings. (Planing $5 per M feet.)

This lumber is to be delivered to the Charlestown Bridge and at the present time the planking is all torn up and the bridge is open. The Boston Elevated Railway Company and the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company are extremely anxious to operate their cars over this structure. In view of this condition prices were received from the various lumber concerns in Boston and the George McQuesten Company submitted the lowest prices for immediate delivery.

In view of this emergency, I trust that permission requested above will be granted.

I am attaching letter from the Division Engineer of the Bridge and Ferry Service recommending that immediate action be taken.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK L. BRIER,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

VETERAN CITY EMPLOYEE HONORED.

Henry A. Bolan of 19 Stonehurst street, Dorchester, the oldest employee in years of service upon the Boston water front, has retired as drawtender of the Charlestown Bridge after fifty-seven years of faithful service.

Mr. Bolan at first was assigned to the old Charles River Avenue Bridge, which was demolished when the present new bridge to Charlestown was constructed. For forty-six years he has been head drawtender.

At the drawhouse of the Charlestown Bridge, his co-workers, the employees of the Warren Bridge, and a few Bridge Department workers, tendered a dinner to Mr. Bolan.

In behalf of his fellow workers, assistant drawtender John A. Lynch presented the guest of honor a purse of gold.

The gathering included assistant drawtender John A. Lynch, William C. Tirrell, Edward F. Brennan, Patrick Fitzgerald, William C. Fein, John F. Hasson, Leo Foicy, John Crowley, James Collins, Frank Rogers and Charles McFeeley of the Charlestown Bridge; drawtender John E. Fitzgerald, Daniel O'Connell, Maurice Fitzgerald, Charles Powers, William Condon, Frank Sherry, Thomas Gillispie, George Battis and Timothy Sheehan of the Warren Bridge; Eugene Sullivan, a watchman of the Bridge Department; foreman Wilam Connors and subforeman Patrick Henneberry of the bridge construction department; and Dan Dimond, custodian of the Fire Alarm Headquarters.

Henry A. Bolan was born in the bridge house of the old Charles River Bridge, which was furnished in those early days for the drawtender. He is a brother of Dr. Bolan of Somerville.

During Mr. Bolan's fifty-seven years of service, he has made, according to a fellow worker, at least 1,000 rescues from drowning. Mr. Bolan regarded the rescue of persons from drowning as part of his day's work.

Mr. Bolan has much praise for "his graduates," those who served under him and have been promoted to the position of drawtender and first assistant drawtenders. These include drawtender Joseph Downey of the Chelsea Street Bridge, East Boston; drawtender James Sweeney of the Chelsea South Draw; drawtender Frank Hickey of the Dorchester Avenue Bridge; drawtender James Calvin of the Malden Bridge; first assistant John Foley of the Meridian Street Bridge, East Boston; first assistant John Collins of the Northern Avenue Bridge; first assistant James Meany of the Summer Street Bridge; and first assistant John A. Lynch of the Charlestown Bridge, who will succeed him.

IMPROVEMENT OF RIVER STREET.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller has signed the bill authorizing the City of Boston to borrow $250,000 and levy a tax for the widening of River street in the Hyde Park and Mattapan districts and the rebuilding of a bridge over a railroad location in this section.

CIVIL ENGINEERS, MAY 17-22, 1926.

These examinations are for the service of the state, all cities, and such towns as are classified under civil service.

WARNING: Many men fail in the civil engineering examination because they apply for grades for which they are not qualified. It is advisable, therefore, if there is any doubt about the quantity or quality of your experience, to take both the grade for which you think you are qualified and the next lower grade. If you should be found ineligible for the higher grade, you will still have an opportunity to be placed on the next lower grade.

Grade A.—Engineering assistants, drafting assistants, and rodmen, who perform under instruction and supervision elementary or apprentice work in the field or office.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade A if the salary is less than $900 a year or more than $1,440 a year.

Qualifications.—Applicants must have completed a high school course of not less than three years or must have had not less than one year of practical experience in field engineering or office work.

Subjects and Weights.—Rodmen: Experience, 4; mathematics, 6; penmanship, 1; tracing, 3; questions on the duties of the position, 6; total, 20. Assistant draftsmen: Experience, 4; mathematics, 6; penmanship, 1; drawing, 9; total, 20.

Grade B.—Senior engineering assistants, instrumentmen, and draftsmen (a) who assume responsibility for the execution of definite instructions in a minor division or section of engineering activity; or (b) who direct, under supervision, the operation of minor engineering projects.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade B if the salary is more than $1,980 a year.

Qualifications.—If appointed by promotion, not less than one year of service in Grade A. If appointed otherwise than by promotion from Grade A, at least two years of practical experience in engineering work of Grade A character and standard; or such training in civil engineering as is evidenced by a professional degree granted on the completion of a standard course of instruction at an institution or college of recognized standing; or the successful completion of not less than two years' study in such institution, plus one year's practical experience in engineering work.

Subjects and Weights.—Instrumentmen: Experience, 16; penmanship, 2; plotting, 6; questions on duties, 8; mathematics, 8; total, 40. Draftsmen: Experience, 16; drawing, 10; mathematics, 6; duties, 4; plotting, 4; total, 40.

Grade C.—Assistant engineers, assistant civil engineers, and designing engineers: (a) who assume responsibility for the direction of surveys, the preparation and examination of, or advice upon, plans, designs and specifications for a minor section of a large engineering or a major section of a small engineering project; or (b) who supervise or inspect the construction or the operation of work on such a project; or (c) who make investigations of, and reports upon, such engineering projects as a basis for a report by an engineering superior.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade C if the salary is more than $2,580 a year.

Qualifications.—If appointed by promotion within a department or major division thereof, not less than two years of service in Grade B, or, if appointed otherwise than by promotion from Grade B, within a department or major division thereof, at least five years of practical experience in engineering work, at least one half of which shall have been appropriate to the particular branch of engineering work covered by the position, provided that a degree granted on the completion of a standard course of instruction by an engineering school of recognized standing shall be accepted as the equivalent of three years' practical experience.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade D if the salary is more than $3,600 a year.

Qualifications.—If appointed by promotion, within a department or major division thereof, not less than three years of service in Grade C. If appointed otherwise than by promotion within a department or major division thereof, at least eight years of practical experience in engineering work, at least one half of which shall have been appropriate to the particular branch covered by the position, and two years of which shall have been in an executive capacity; provided that a degree granted on the completion of a standard course of instruction by an engineering school of recognized standing shall be accepted as the equivalent of four years of practical experience.

It may be readily ascertained from the foregoing table that the sum of $14,005,274.23 is therefore available to meet the cost of maintenance of the public schools; the cost of administration and supervision; and the cost of sundry other services and expenses of the public schools, during the financial year 1926, and to provide for necessary growth and expansion in the school system during such year. The item, "Alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards," as stated in paragraph one has been excluded.

*Increase of approximately eight hundred thousand dollars due to an eleven-month period in 1925 and a general increase in salaries of teachers and members of the supervising staff costing approximately one million dollars in 1926.

*Including $82,000.00 which it is estimated will be received from the Commonwealth under the provisions of Chapter 389 of the Special Acts of 1916. This sum is not credited to the appropriation until it is received.

This increase of $2,738,406.53 in appropriations for the financial year 1926 over expenditures for the financial year 1925, immediately preceding, is accounted for as follows:—

a. An amendment to the City Charter changed the financial year period from (February 1 to January 31) to (January 1 to December 31). The consequence of this change was that the expenditures for the financial year 1925 covered an eleven-month period instead of the usual twelve-month period. An increase of over one million of dollars in 1926 is attributable to this change.

b. On September 1, 1925, a general increase in salaries was allowed all teachers and members of the supervising staff under additional appropriating power granted by Chapter 309 of the Acts of 1925. In the past it has been found practically impossible to accurately compute the cost of a general increase in teachers' salary schedules because of the varying dates of appointments throughout the school year. On September

I recommend the passage of the accompanying order appropriating the sum of $14,005,274.23, being the amount necessary to provide for the cost of maintenance of the public schools; for the cost of administration and supervision; and for the cost of sundry other services and expenses of the public schools, for the financial year 1926, exclusive of the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards."

Respectfully yours,

ALEXANDER M. SULLIVAN,
Business Agent.

Increase In The Appropriations For The Financial Year 1926 Over The Expenditures For The Financial Year 1925.

Exclusive of the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards," the following table shows that the appropriations for the financial year 1926 exceed the expenditures for the financial year 1925 by the sum of $2,738,406.53.

*Including $82,000.00 which it is estimated will be received from the Commonwealth under the provisions of Chapter 389 of the Special Acts of 1916. This sum is not credited to the appropriation until it is received.

1, 1925, a common anniversary of September 1 was established for all teachers and members of the supervising staff, and as a consequence salary increases and adjustments may be gauged with greater precision than heretofore. The cost for the last four months of the financial year 1925 was taken from the balance made available because of the eleven-month period in that year. The full effect of this increase will not come until 1930, but the greater proportion of the cost, approximating one million of dollars, comes in the financial year 1926.

c. The usual growth and expansion of the school system—the opening of new school buildings, the appointment of additional teachers and other employees, and other necessary expenses account for the balance.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The communication from the Boston Teachers Club for increased pension to retired teachers presented at the meeting of Dec. 21, 1925, and referred to the new Board (see p. 253), was taken up and placed on file, the Chairman stating that leave to withdraw has been granted on Senate Bill No. 205, relative to the granting of pensions to teachers and members of our supervising staff.

INSTRUCTION IN MILITARY DRILL

Mr. O'Hare made the following statement:

Despite the fact that the head masters of high schools assembled at Amherst, Massachusetts, voted yesterday against military drill in high schools, I wish to publicly state that I believe in military drill as conducted in our Boston high schools. Under the direction of the Department of Physical Education, with competent instructors to impart knowledge, all our lads in Grades IX, X, XI, and XII, who are up to proper standards of health, receive this wonderful inspirational training. I hope the day will never come when this training will be abandoned.

In connection with the foregoing, Dr. Bogan stated that he believes heartily in instruction in military drill as conducted in the Boston public schools and its beneficent effects upon the boys who participate.

The Board adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

AREA OF BOSTON TO WARD LINES.

Total, 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,944 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,436 acres flats. land area only, 28,019 acres (i. e., 43.78 square miles). Included in the latter are 160 acres of filled flats recently added to the land area of South Boston and 175 acres to that of East Boston.

Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (364 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6), and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.3 square miles.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

A communication was received from the Mayor, making the following appointments to the position of Weigher of Coal for the term ending April 30, 1927:

John A. Wellings, Augustus Wellings and Albert Wellings, all of 36 Lewis street, East Boston.

Severally laid over for one week under the law.

TRANSFER FOR ENGINE 21.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Acting Fire Commissioner in which he requests that an additional appropriation of $5,000 be made available for the completion of the new fire station for Engine Company 21. This additional appropriation was occasioned by the fact that in the construction of the foundations of the station a large deposit of quicksand was encountered, making necessary the driving of a large number of piles. This item was not anticipated when the original specifications were prepared. The additional amount requested will be used for grading, planting, erection of fences and the construction of granolithic walks and pavements. I accordingly recommend the adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Fire Department, April 10, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The City Council of 1925 passed an appropriation of $60,000 for the construction of a new fire station on Columbia road, at Annabel street, occupied by Engine Company 21. After the work had progressed soil conditions were discovered which increased the foundation cost over $4,000. It was therefore necessary to eliminate several items necessary to complete the station with the result that there is some grading, planting, fences and granolithic work to be done at an estimated cost of $5,000.

I respectfully recommend that an appropriation to cover this amount be authorized for the new fire station, Engine 21, Dorchester, in order that the station be completed promptly, as the existing conditions prevent the complete use of the property for a fire station.

Yours very truly,

T. F. SULLIVAN,

Acting Fire Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1898, the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Dartmouth Street Bridge, $5,000, to the appropriation for New Fire Station, Engine 21, Dorchester, $5,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LOAN FOR MATERNITY BUILDING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1926.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am informed by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital that the new Maternity Building now in process of construction will be ready for occupancy on or about August 1. Before this building can be used by the public, it will be necessary to provide an appropriation for the furnishing and equipping of the building. I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order providing an appropriation of $70,000 for this purpose.

Respectfully,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City Hospital, Boston, March 25, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The new Maternity Building is rapidly nearing completion, and a conservative estimate gives us the building about August 1.

On behalf of the trustees, I am asking for an appropriation of $70,000 to cover the cost of the necessary furnishings for this building. This includes beds, bedside tables, sterilizers, operating tables, etc.

Yours respectfully,
HENRY S. ROWEN,
President pro tem.,
Board of Trustees.

Ordered, That the sum of $70,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Maternity Building, Furnishing and Equipping, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

LOANS FOR CITY HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital in which they request that under the provisions of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924 the sum of $1,312,500 be made available for additions and alterations to the existing City Hospital plant. There can be no question as to the need of the hospital for the additional facilities which the appropriation of this sum will afford. I accordingly recommend adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying orders providing for the following appropriations:

	Inside Debt Limit.	Outside Debt Limit.
Nurses' Home	$136,000	$272,000
Surgical Building	226,500	453,000
Power Plant Addition.....	75,000	150,000
	$437,500	$875,000

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

The Boston City Hospital,
Boston, March 25, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Under the provisions of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924, the city has the right to borrow $2,250,000 for additions to the present City Hospital plant. The first unit, the Maternity Building, is now nearing completion, and the trustees are ready to start on additional units, and are therefore requesting that the necessary steps be taken for the authorization of $1,312,500, this money to be used for the following items:

Four hundred eight thousand dollars for additions to the Nurses' Home and the necessary tunnels connecting this building with the general plant.

Six hundred seventy-nine thousand, five hundred dollars for the new Surgical Building ($16,000 of this sum for the cost of the destruction of the present surgical building).

Two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars for the necessary alterations and additions to the power plant. This is made necessary, owing to the fact that the present plant is carrying all the load, in the way of heat, power and light, that it can stand. It probably will be able to care for the present maternity building, but by the time the additions to the Nurses' Home are completed, and the new Surgical Building, this addition will be absolutely necessary, and we desire to have it ready by the time these second units are completed.

The plans for the addition to the Nurses' Home are practically ready, and as soon as the money is available proposals will be advertised for the erection of this building, and work started in about a month's time.

The Maternity Building, we have been assured, will be completed about August 1, and work could then be started immediately on the construction of the new surgical unit. This also applies to the addition to the power house.

Yours respectfully,
HENRY S. ROWEN,
President pro tem.,
Board of Trustees.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924, the sum of $136,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Nurses' Home, Additions and Alterations, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924, the sum of $272,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Nurses' Home, Additions and Alterations, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924, the sum of $226,500 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital for New Surgical Building, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924, the sum of $453,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital for New Surgical Building, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924, the sum of $75,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Power Plant, Additions and Alterations, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 352 of the Acts of 1924, the sum of $150,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Power Plant, Additions and Alterations, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

SALE OF LAND, ARCH STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 17, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the real estate expert of the city in which he states his opinion that the property now owned by the city at Arch street and Hawley place should be sold for $116,000. This property has been in the possession of the city since 1918 and four unsuccessful attempts have been made to sell it at public auction. The city has no use for the property and its sale to a private individual would mean the collection of taxes which are now lost because of city ownership. In view of the condition of the property, I feel this recommendation of the city expert should be accepted. I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized, in the name and behalf of the city, to sell at public auction, at an upset price of $116,000, the land and buildings numbered 41-45 Arch street, containing 3,862 square feet, more or less, and to execute a deed of the same to the purchaser, in form satisfactory to the Law Department.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

I recommend passage of the accompanying order.

The motion was declared carried.

The question came on confirmation of the appointment set forth in No. 1, and Coun. Dowling and Ward were appointed a committee to receive, sort and count ballots.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. As I understand it, we are voting on No. 1?

President KEENE—You are right, Councilor.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to have an opportunity given to members of the Council to examine City Document No. 48.

On motion of Coun. ARNOLD, No. 1 was laid on the table.

Later in the session, on motion of Coun. DOWLING, No. 1 was taken from the table. The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Dowd and Heffernan. Whole number of ballots, 13; yeas 18, nays 0, and the appointments were confirmed.

PARKER HILL HOSPITAL.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston is already obligated for the sum of $276,000 for the erection of a hospital for the chronic and incurable sick at Parker Hill, and

Whereas, It appears that the proposed abandonment of this project and the legal entanglements resulting therefrom will bring the cost to the City of Boston up to a total of half a million of dollars, be it therefore,

Resolved, That the City Council respectfully request the Mayor of Boston not to abandon this worthy project at such a tremendous financial loss to the taxpayers of the city, but to continue with its erection, that this money may be saved and the unfortunate chronic and incurable sick properly cared for in an institution accessible to their friends and relatives and to medical and surgical specialists.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

MODIFICATION OF PROHIBITION LAWS.

Coun. GREEN offered the following:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the City Council of the City of Boston, in meeting assembled, that the Congress of the United States of America amend and modify existing prohibition laws under its jurisdiction and within its proper power which will permit the manufacture, sale and distribution of wholesome beers and light wines, and that all governmental revenue derived from such permission be set aside as a separate fund for the payment of bonuses to ex-service men; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to each of the following named officials by the City Clerk of the City of Boston: To the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to each member of the House of Representatives from the State of Massachusetts.

MODIFICATION OF BOARD OF APPEAL POWERS.

Coun. PARKMAN offered the following:

PAYMENT OF HEALTH DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. DOWLING offered the following:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make such arrangements as may be necessary with the City Treasurer in order that employees of the Health Department may be paid in cash instead of by check.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I have just a word of explanation. There are about two hundred seventy-five employees of the Health Department, and at the present time they receive their remuneration in the form of checks from the City Treasurer. A number of them have spoken to me about the disadvantage of that system. I recognize the fact that it is an intrusion on the administration of the Health Department, but, while I don't want to be placed in that position, I do think the employees have a right to be heard in this matter. I understand that they wish to have some arrangement made, if possible, so that they may be paid in currency instead of by check. I move a suspension of the rule, and a passage of the order.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that section 8 of the city charter provides that the City Council shall not directly or indirectly take part in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city or county.

President KEENE—The Chair will rule the point of order not well taken. The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

INFORMATION FROM DEPARTMENT.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, on January 18, I introduced the following order:

Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council with an estimate of the cost of constructing a public convenience station at Codman square, on the westerly side of the land owned by the city and occupied by a branch library; said station to be substantially similar in size and construction to the station in Mattapan square. Do I understand that the information has ever come through?

President KEENE—The information has not yet been received, Councilor.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, there have been various orders, resolutions, requests made on different department heads since this Council has been installed, and to my knowledge no department head up to date has ever given the Council even the courtesy of a reply to any such requests. I believe it is about time that the Council should take some sort of action with reference to that attitude of the various department heads of the City of Boston. It is useless for us to come down here every Monday afternoon and try to get some information if our requests are to be treated in that way. I have personally had several such orders in for a month or six weeks, and no information has been given. I certainly desire that the department heads of the City of Boston shall at least give the Council the courtesy of a reply when so requested.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. McGRATH, the Council voted at 2.23 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President KEENE at 3.51 p. m.

FITZGERALD offered the following: That his Honor the Mayor be requested to remove the headquarters of the Municipal Employment Bureau from the Ward 3 Municipal Building at the corner of Oak and Tyler streets, and that the said headquarters be relocated in the building of the Overseers of the Public Welfare at 43 Hawkins street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSALS FOR PAINTING MALDEN BRIDGE DRAW SPAN OVER THE MYSTIC RIVER.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, office 508 City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for painting Malden Bridge draw span over the Mystic river, and giving bond therefor of a surety company approved by the Commissioner in the sum of eight hundred (800) dollars, to secure the due performance of the contract and the full protection of the city. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 508, City Hall Annex. Each proposal should be inclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Bid for Painting Malden Bridge," and left at Room 508, fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 12 o'clock m. on Tuesday, May 4, 1926, with a certified check for one hundred (100) dollars, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance, is not carried out. The proposals will then and there be publicly opened and read. Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by the bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. If the price appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, it may lead to the rejection of the bid containing such price. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to accept any proposal should he deem it to be for the best interest of the city so to do.

PUBLIC GARDEN MADE READY FOR ITS SUMMER BEAUTY AFTER BEING TORN UP FOR HUGE WATER MAIN.

PARK DEPARTMENT HAS COMPLETED WORK OF RESETTING 12,000 TULIP BULBS AND OTHER FLOWERS, FOLLOWING WINTER OF DIGGING — NEW WALK TO BE BUILT.

SCENE IN PUBLIC GARDEN ALONG ROUTE OF HUGE WATER MAIN LAID IN WINTER AND WHERE NEW WALK WILL BE LAID.

The commissioners of the Park Department have performed a notable work in successfully caring for the 12,000 tulip bulbs in the Public Garden in the pathway of the huge feed pipe for the down-town water supply through the center of Commonwealth avenue, across Arlington street, the Public Garden, Charles street and the Common, and the department is congratulating itself that with the first breath of spring, its efforts to safeguard the beauty of this portion of the reservation have been successful.

The 48-inch main enters the Public Garden at the main Arlington street gate, circles round the Washington Monument, goes under the pond and comes out at the Charles street gate. In the path of this undertaking there were four large tulip beds containing 12,000 bulbs. Every bulb was removed by the gardeners, taken to the city greenhouse, and individually potted. Two weeks ago, when the beds had sufficiently settled, the bulbs were returned and are now in as good condition as before for early flowering.

In view of the extensive resodding necessary to repair the work of destruction and the general unsightly appearance of the Public Garden for months, the Park Commissioners have decided to make an improvement long in contemplation — the building of a granolithic walk through the central portion and encircling the Washington Monument. This project will mean the elimination of the so-called "badge" bed and the construction of a similar one at the Ether monument, where the same general scheme of floral designs will be seen during the summer as in the past.

The granolithic sidewalk, 8 feet in width and having 2½ feet of macadam on each side, will be a novelty. If the public take kindly to it, two more similar walks will be constructed, one from the corner of Charles and Beacon streets to the Washington Monument, and the other from the corner of Boylston and Charles streets. Experiments with a mineral, in order to give the granolithic composition the appearance of the reddish gravel used for the walks for so long have proved successful, so that in the opinion of the department the innovation will not interfere with the color effect of the garden as a whole.

POLICE CAPTAINS TO RENEW COMMISSIONS.

COMMISSIONER WILSON WARNS OFFICERS TO ACT BEFORE EXPIRATION OF TIME ON MAY 14.

Hon. Herbert A. Wilson, Commissioner of Police, has called upon Boston police captains, in general orders, to renew their commissions as justices of the peace before the expiration of their present commission on May 14. He has requested every captain, at the expense of the city, to file application for renewal with the Secretary of State.

The first time that such commissions were found necessary was during the police strike. Then every captain was sworn in as a justice of the peace for the purpose of swearing in volunteer policemen.

Since that time the commissions have proven valuable to the police officials. Witnesses are sworn before trial boards without calling upon the department clerk, and automobile license renewals have been handled by the same officials without calling on outsiders.

The only power not granted to the police justice of the peace is the performing of marriage ceremonies.

NEW TRAFFIC SIGNALS RECOMMENDED.

Synchronous traffic signals, similar to those in use upon Fifth avenue, New York, will be recommended for Tremont street, Commonwealth and Massachusetts avenues.

Thomas J. Hurley, chairman of the Boston Board of Street Commissioners, who has just returned from an automobile trip as far south as Washington announces this intention as result of his trip.

Chairman Hurley studied traffic conditions in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Atlantic City and several smaller cities of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Except in the use of the tower light, there was little in traffic management on the tour that would help in Boston.

The chairman was surprised to find these automatic signals in use in small cities, where the officials recommended them highly, in each case declaring that they not only speed up traffic, but diminish accidents.

Chairman Hurley was impressed with the obedience on the part of the public to all traffic regulations, especially in New York City. Officials there told him that there had been a great improvement in the last year, despite the fact that traffic is constantly growing denser on the main avenues.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

BRIDGE TO EAST BOSTON, OR TUNNEL, REPORTED ON FAVORABLY BY COMMITTEE ON METROPOLITAN AFFAIRS.

BILL AUTHORIZING CORPORATION TO CONSTRUCT TRAFFIC WAY MEETS WITH FAVOR WITH BUT TWO DISSENTING MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE.

The Committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the Massachusetts Legislature have reported favorably the bill incorporating the Boston Harbor Bridge and Tunnel Company and authorizing the corporation to construct a toll bridge over or a toll tunnel under Boston Harbor, connecting the down-town section of Boston with East Boston.

Senator William J. Francis of Charlestown and Representative George A. Gilman of Boston dissent from the report of the committee as filed.

The incorporators are listed as Charles B. Gifford and Paul J. Bertelson, both business men of East Boston; Wallace B. Phinney of Boston; James Jackson, former state treasurer; Gen. Edward L. Logan of South Boston; Edward J. Sampson, former member of Governor Fuller's military staff, and Alexander Whiteside, Boston attorney.

The bill provides that the corporation may construct a bridge or a tunnel of one or more tubes from a convenient point in East Boston to a convenient point in Boston proper, and also contains the provision that the Commonwealth or any subdivision thereof, to which the Legislature may grant the required authority, may purchase and acquire all of the fixed assets of the company upon one year's written notice to the company at the following times and upon the following terms and not otherwise:

1.—At the end of ten years from the formal opening of the bridge or tunnel, at the original cost of such fixed assets, without any deduction whatever for accrued depreciation, obsolescence or amortization of funded debt. Original cost shall include organization expense, engineering expense, interest and taxes during construction, discount on securities and other costs of money and all other charges provided for in this act, or which according to established accounting practice, may be added to the property account of the company.

2.—At the end of twenty years from such formal opening, at such original cost less 20 per cent thereof for depreciation and obsolescence and amortization of funded debt.

3.—At the end of thirty years from such opening, at original cost less 40 per cent thereof for depreciation and obsolescence and amortization of funded debt.

4.—At the end of forty years from such formal opening, at original cost less 60 per cent for depreciation and obsolescence and amortization of funded debt.

5.—At the end of fifty years without any payment whatever.

The company is authorized to charge tolls on all traffic over the bridge or tunnel and to collect rentals for its use by persons or corporations, provided that the bridge, during such times and hours to be established by the Boston Transit Department, shall be open to foot passengers without payment of tolls.

The tolls to be charged shall be subject to review by the Department of Public Utilities upon the petition of the City of Boston or of 25 persons who customarily use such bridge or tunnel. The bill provides, however, that the company shall not be required to charge a toll or rate less than sufficient to pay the following:

1.—All expenses of maintenance and operation and such other charges as are usually charged to income by public utilities, including all taxes.

2.—At least two per cent per year of the original cost of the property on account of depreciation and obsolescence.

3.—At least two per cent per year of the original cost on account of amortization of the funded debt.

4.—At least 10 per cent of the original cost during the first five years of operation, nine per cent during the second five years and eight per cent thereafter. If in any year the company fails to earn the above amounts it shall be permitted to make up the deficit in the following year or years.

The bill provides that so far as permitted by law no taxes shall be levied or assessed by the City of Boston or the Commonwealth against any property of the company prior to July 1, 1940. In lieu of such tax exemption, the City of Boston may agree for a term of not exceeding twenty years to contribute annually to the company a sum not to aggregate more than the taxes assessed by the city upon the property of the company plus the average annual cost to the city of the operation of facilities replaced by the bridge or tunnel.

The decision of the company as to whether it shall provide a bridge or a tunnel, and as to the location of such bridge or tunnel and its approaches, shall not become effective until approved by the Mayor of Boston. No work of construction shall be undertaken until the general plans have been approved by the Transit Department. The company and the Mayor of Boston shall agree on all plans, specifications and details in connection with the laying out, widening, relocating or discontinuing of public streets and ways necessary for the bridge or tunnel. Upon failure of the company and the Mayor to agree the matters in dispute shall be forthwith submitted to the Department of Public Utilities whose decision shall be final.

Section one of the bill incorporating the company becomes effective upon passage of the bill. All other provisions of the Act would take effect upon acceptance by the company and by the Mayor of Boston. General plans for the location of the bridge or tunnel and its approaches shall be filed with the Transit Department and the Mayor within eighteen months from the date when the act would become effective.

The bill provides that the company shall keep the bridge or tunnel in good repair. The company may at any time with the consent of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, and the approval of the Mayor of Boston, purchase or lease from the railway the whole or any portion of its elevated structures in Atlantic avenue and Commercial street.

NEW BUILDING LAW PROPOSED.

The Committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the Massachusetts Legislature has reported a bill providing that no decision of the Board of Appeal of the City of Boston permitting the erection or alteration of a building to an extreme height greater than that authorized under the so-called zoning law shall be effective unless confirmed by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Zoning Adjustment.

The bill further provides that immediately following the Board's final decision in any case a copy of the record shall be certified to the Board of Zoning Adjustment.

SOCIAL WORK AT CITY HOSPITAL.

The trustees of the Boston City Hospital commenting in their annual report upon the department of social work show that the number of individual patients to whom some form of aid was given during the past year averaged more than 771 per month. Of this number, 499 were social record cases. The total number dealt with during the year was 2,656.

Department workers made 4,920 visits outside the hospital in the interest of individual patients. Of these 4,213 were on social record cases and 707 on socially unrecorded cases, chiefly for medical followup. Of the 2,291 new and reinstated cases, 1,359 were brought to notice in the house and 606 in the Out-Patient Department; 326 came through some source outside the hospital, including other social agencies.

CHARLES RIVER BOULEVARD PROPOSED.

A. C. Ratschesky, vice chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Division, appeared before the House Committee on Ways and Means and urged favorable action upon the measure, recommended by the commission, providing for the construction of a boulevard on the southerly side of the Charles River Basin from Bay State road to North Harvard street.

Now, said the speaker, is the time in which the work should be done. "If the work is not started," he said, "developments might come about which would make it difficult in the future." The question of taxation, he thought, should be considered. Should the boulevard be started now, the speaker was of the opinion that a type of real estate development would follow which would result in a substantial increase in the amount of taxes collected by the City of Boston. If nothing is done, he added, it is likely the real estate development will be of such a kind that the city will receive but little benefit. The work of construction, he said, would cost less now than later.

Mr. Ratschesky called attention to the congestion arising as a result of the heavy automobile traffic in Commonwealth avenue and Beacon streets and expressed the opinion that the opening up of the boulevard would relieve this situation.

The measure was also favored by David B. Kenison, chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission, and by Charles W. Killam of the Harvard School of Business Administration. The school will be in the vicinity of the boulevard.

NEW COMPROMISE PROPOSAL FOR INCREASING WATER SUPPLY OF METROPOLITAN DISTRICT PRESENTED BY EXPERT.

JOHN R. FREEMAN OF PROVIDENCE APPEARS BEFORE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO URGE SUGGESTION.

John R. Freeman, noted consulting engineer of Providence, R. I., who was retained by Mayor Nichols to study the problem of increasing the water supply of the metropolitan district and the city of Worcester appeared before the Committees on Water Supply and Metropolitan Affairs at the Massachusetts Legislature upon the 26th instant.

Mr. Freeman stated he favored going to the upper Ware river, and then to the Swift river, but instead of building the huge reservoir at Barre Falls, as recommended by the special water supply commission of which Charles R. Gow was chairman, would go four miles up the river and build a somewhat smaller reservoir.

The Barre Falls reservoir would provide 45,000,000 gallons a day and would cost $14,000,000, of which the city of Worcester would pay two-ninths. The reservoir proposed by Mr. Freeman would supply 30,000,000 gallons a day, would cost $8,000,000 and three-quarters of this amount would be assessed upon Worcester.

By going up the river and building a dam at New Boston, 840 acres of swamp land and mud beds would be avoided. This swamp land, included in the Gow plan, he said would bring about bad tastes, bad odors, and organic growth which would force filtration of the metropolitan district supply many years earlier than would otherwise be necessary. Of the 30,000,000 gallons a day to be provided by his plan, Mr. Freeman said, Worcester would require only 5,000,000 gallons a day and the remaining 25,000,000 gallons could be safely turned into the Wachusett reservoir. It would provide splendid water, free from the dangers of the Barre Falls plan.

He suggested that the metropolitan district and the city of Worcester co-operate under his plan, pointing out that Worcester would be taken care of, and that it would be of benefit to the metropolitan district not only for the additional supply but because it would defer the construction of the tunnel to Colebrook, and postpone slightly the time for going to the Swift river.

In the opinion of Mr. Freeman the Swift river was by far the best reservoir site in the state, and possible in New England. The urgency of looking in advance to provide for the metropolitan district's future water needs was so great, said he, that no chances should be taken whereby industries might locate above the Colebrook site, or the Swift river site. The metropolitan district should safeguard its interests, said he, by setting aside from $100,000 to $200,000 each year toward the purchase of land at both places.

Mr. Freeman doubted the need of a compensating reservoir. He said the best way to take care of the industries was to pay them damage for loss of water power, and to divert a sufficient amount of water for process water.

Mr. Freeman would not increase the metropolitan water supply by going into the Ipswich or Assabet rivers, as recommended by the Special Investigating Commission.

Mr. Freeman said that development of the projects which he outlined would entail no immediate large financial burden upon the metropolitan district or Worcester. At the end of 1930, he said, with the tunnel from the Ware river to the Swift river under way, the expenditure would be about $12,000,000, by 1935 it would amount to $15,000,000; and by 1940 it would amount to $40,800,000. The ultimate cost would be $59,250,000, he said. This would include development of the Swift river, complete, within twenty years.

Senator Elbridge G. Davis of Malden asked the cost of stripping the swamps to which Mr. Freeman objected. Mr. Freeman said it would be hopelessly expensive.

The new cost to the city of Worcester, Mr. Freeman said, under his plan would be $6,000,000 of the $8,000,000 which it would cost to establish the dam at Longmeadow. Under the Gow commission plan Worcester would pay about $2,000,000.

Mr. Freeman said that natural water is better than filtered water and this, he said, would save ten or fifteen million dollars. He said that the swamps which he referred to are thirty feet deep in places. The difference between the best quality of water and tolerable water, he said, is very little in cost.

Representative Luke D. Mullen of Boston asked if the present situation is serious. Mr. Freeman said it is and that something should be done about it right away. He thought that the estimates of the growth of the section had been "too liberal," that New England is "slowing down," but it is better to be on the safe side, he said.

Allen Hazen, chief engineer for the Gow Commission and responsible for the Gow Commission plan, made a brief reply to Mr. Freeman. He said that he had considered the suggestion of a dam at Longmeadow but discarded it. He thought it might be well to let the people who build the dam select the best site on the North Ware river. He contended that filtering is necessary to give Boston the best quality of water and contended that the quality of water now obtained is not as good as it has been. The Wachusett Basin is being affected, he said, by the community and industrial wastes in the vicinity, and the water from the basin flows down to Boston in some sections through open brooks in which cows drink and into which people throw refuse. "They speak of the 'pristine purity' of the Swift river water," said Mr. Hazen. "That's all right, but by the time that would get down to Boston the pristine purity would disappear." Hence he argued for filtration. The swamp land is not a menace, he said, answering the objections raised by Mr. Freeman. A good deal of it is meadow, he thought, and anyway it could be cleaned up. It could be dredged and drained out as in Florida, if necessary, he said.

X. H. Goodnough, chief engineer for the State Department of Public Health, in answer to questions, said that frequent tests of the water in the Wachusett Basin shows no signs of deterioration but, on the contrary, of steady improvement.

W. E. Foss, engineer for the Metropolitan District Commission, favored the Hazen plan of using the North Ware river and filtering the water.

IN PROTEST OF FILLING STATION.

The Board of Street Commissioners gave a public hearing upon the petition of Jacob J. Yonkers to erect a gasoline filling station at Shawmut, Church and Stuart streets, upon the 26th instant. Abutters declared that the proposed station would constitute a nuisance and that it appeared to be a movement to force them to sell their property at a low figure.

Charles T. Cottrell, representing the petitioner, denied the statement and said that his client was planning a filling station rather than a mercantile building only because the lot was too small for the latter and the objecting abutters were "holding him up" for three times what the desired additional land was worth.

Judge Michael F. Kennedy, objecting to the project on behalf of the Misses Honora and Emma T. Quealey, who live next to the proposed site, raised the foregoing objection and also contended that the Quealey sisters as life-long residents had rights which should not be disregarded. From the standpoint of the city's interest, he argued a filling station should not be sanctioned in a district which should be developed on a plane with the new Statler Hotel, diagonally opposite.

Other opponents were City Councilor Henry Parkman, Jr., Cyrus Sargent, owner of adjoining property, and Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 831.

The resignation of Patrolman Frank J. Marr of Division 11 having been presented while charges against him are pending, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Thursday, April 22, 1926, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 882.

Since July 1, 1925, the commanding officers of the divisions named below have brought to my attention the following excellent police work performed by officers in their respective divisions:

1. On November 15, 1925, at about 10.30 p. m., Patrolman Edward J. Daly of Division 14, followed three men whose actions aroused his suspicion, into a drug store on Brighton avenue, Allston, and found one of the men threatening the proprietor with a revolver. The man, one Carl Ghella, immediately fired two shots at the officer, fortunately without injuring him, and Patrolman Daly returned the fire, shooting Ghella in the left shoulder and arm. The other two men, running from the store, jumped into an automobile and started towards Boston, but were pursued and halted by a citizen and Patrolman Orrin L. Taylor at Coolidge Corner, where Patrolman Taylor, with the help of Patrolman James Tomra of the Brookline police, placed both bandits under arrest. Later all three criminals pleaded guilty in the Superior Court and were sentenced to long terms in the State Prison.

Such arrests as these, showing as they do the calibre of our patrolmen, are a source of pride to the department, and I take great pleasure in commending Patrolmen Daly and Taylor for the courage and intrepidity shown by them in making these important arrests.

2. On November 16, 1925, at about eight o'clock p. m., Patrolman John F. Farrell of Division 1 was detailed to go to a house in Margaret street for the purpose of recovering a large quantity of stolen salami, and if possible to arrest the thieves. The salami was being loaded on a wagon when Patrolman Farrell approached and placed one of the thieves, Dominick Santoro, under arrest. Another thief immediately shot Patrolman Farrell in the back, and Santoro, breaking away from the officer, shot him in the chest. Patrolman Farrell drew his revolver and fired at the man who shot him in the back, and then chasing Santoro down Margaret street, shot him three times. Two other men escaped in a touring car and a third man was arrested as he attempted to make his escape. This third man, Domenic Capone by name, together with Benedict Santoro, was arraigned in court and both men were sentenced to long terms of imprisonment.

At the time, Patrolman Farrell and Santoro were removed to the Haymarket Square Relief Station, and although Patrolman Farrell has since been discharged from the hospital, he is still under the care of a physician.

Patrolman Farrell's conduct in this difficult situation is deserving of the highest praise, and it gives me great pleasure to commend him for the courage, fortitude and presence of mind displayed by him while wounded and under fire, in helping to apprehend two such dangerous criminals.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.
